Identity Unknown

Kay Scarpetta #28

Patricia Cornwell

Read by January LaVoy

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | February 2025

The 28th instalment in Patricia Cornwell's bestselling series finds Dr Kay Scarpetta investigating the mystery of a body found in an abandoned theme park.

Summoned to an unnerving, abandoned theme park to retrieve a body, Dr Kay Scarpetta is devastated to learn that the victim is a man she once loved. While teaching in Rome during the early days of her career, Scarpetta had a love affair with acclaimed astrophysicist Sal Giordano that led to a lifelong friendship.

The murder scene is bizarre, with a crop circle of petals around the body, and Giordano's skin is strangely red. Scarpetta's niece Lucy believes he was dropped from an unidentified flying craft. Scarpetta knows an autopsy can reveal the dead's secrets, but she is shocked to find her friend seems to have deliberately left her a clue.

As the investigators are torn between suspicions of otherworldly forces, and of Giordano himself, Scarpetta detects an explanation closer to home that, in her mind, is far more evil ...

The Kay Scarpetta series won Cornwell the Sherlock Award for best detective created by an American author, the Gold Dagger Award, the RBA Thriller Award and the Medal of Chevalier of the Order of Arts and Letters

Cornwell's first novel, Postmortem won the Edgar, Creasey, Anthony and Macavity Awards, as well as the French Prix du Roman d'Aventures

Beyond the Kay Scarpetta series, Cornwell has written the definitive non-fiction account of Jack the Ripper's identity, cookbooks, a children's book, a biography of Ruth Graham, and three other fictional series

'Iconic. Bold. Brilliant. Identity Unknown is hauntingly original, impossibly clever and devilishly daring. Scalpel-sharp storytelling, trademark twists and characters that feel like family, this series is one of the all-time greats.' – Chris Whitaker, bestselling author of We Begin at the End

What Does It Feel Like?

Sophie Kinsella

Read by Sally Phillips

From #1 bestselling author Sophie Kinsella comes an unforgettable story – by turns heartbreaking and life-affirming – of a renowned novelist facing a devastating diagnosis and learning to live and love anew.

Eve is a successful novelist who wakes up one day in a hospital bed with no memory of how she got there. Her husband, never far from her side, explains that she has had an operation to remove the large, malignant tumour growing in her brain.

As Eve learns to walk, talk and write again – and as she wrestles with her diagnosis, and how and when to explain it to her beloved children – she begins to recall what's most important to her: long walks with her husband's hand clasped firmly around her own, family game nights and always buying that dress when she sees it.

From Pulitzer Prize-winning author Elizabeth Strout comes a hopeful, healing story about new friendships, old loves and the very human desire to leave a mark on the world.

It's autumn in Maine, and the town lawyer Bob Burgess has become enmeshed in an unfolding murder investigation, defending a lonely, isolated man accused of killing his mother. He has also fallen into a deep and abiding friendship with the acclaimed writer, Lucy Barton, who lives nearby in a house next to the sea.

Together, Lucy and Bob talk about their lives, their hopes and regrets, and what might have been.

Lucy, meanwhile, befriends one of Crosby's longest inhabitants, Olive Kitteridge, now living in a retirement community on the edge of town. They spend afternoons together in Olive's apartment, telling each other stories. Stories about people they have known – 'unrecorded lives,' Olive calls them – reanimating them, and, in the process, imbuing their lives with meaning.

The Teacher of Auschwitz

Based on an Inspiring True Story

Wendy Holden

Narrator to be Announced

Adult New Release

Historical Fiction | February 2025

Assiduously researched and drawn from archives and survivor testimonies, historian and biographer Wendy Holden tells the inspirational and uplifting true story of Fredy Hirsch.

At the dark heart of the Holocaust, there was a wooden hut whose walls were painted with cartoons; a place where children sang, staged plays and wrote poetry. Safely inside, but still in the shadow of the chimneys, they were given better food, kept free of vermin, and were even taught meditation to imagine full stomachs and a day without fear. The man who became their guiding light was a young Jewish prisoner named Fredy Hirsch.

But being a teacher in such a brutal concentration camp was no mean feat. Whether it was begging the SS for better provisions, or hiding his homosexuality from his persecutors, he risked his life every day for one thing – to protect the children from the mortal danger they all faced.

Time is running out for Fredy and the hundreds of children in his care. Can he find a way to teach them the one lesson they really need to know – how to survive?

Wendy Holden is the author and co-author of more than 30 books, among them several internationally acclaimed wartime biographies, including Born Survivors

Holden's books have sold two million copies, have been adapted for television and radio, and some have been adopted into the schools curriculum

Holden was a journalist for 18 years, including a decade at the Daily Telegraph

Born to an American myth and raised in the wilds of Graceland, Lisa Marie Presley tells her whole story for the first time in this raw, riveting, one-of-a-kind memoir faithfully completed by her daughter, Riley Keough.

In 2022, Lisa Marie Presley asked her daughter to help finally finish her long-gestating memoir.

A month later, Lisa Marie was dead, and the world would never know her story in her own words, never know the passionate, joyful, caring and complicated woman that Riley loved and grieved.

Riley got the tapes that her mother had recorded for the book, laid in her bed and listened as Lisa Marie told story after story about smashing golf carts together in the yards of Graceland, about the unconditional love she felt from her father, about being upstairs, just the two of them. About getting dragged screaming out of the bathroom as she ran towards his body on the floor. About living in Los Angeles with her mother, getting sent to school after school, always kicked out, always in trouble. About her singular, lifelong relationship with Danny Keough, about being married to Michael Jackson, what they shared in common. About motherhood. About deep addiction. About ever-present grief. Riley knew she had to fulfil her mother's wish to reveal these memories, incandescent and painful, to the world.

To make her mother known.

Lisa Marie Presley was a singer and songwriter who was born in Memphis and raised at Graceland as the only child of Elvis and Priscilla Presley

She released three studio albums throughout her music career – To Whom It May Concern, Now What and Storm & Grace, the first of which was certified gold

Grantlee Kieza

Read by Elizabeth Parisi

The extraordinary true story about the life of Australia's greatest naturalists and explorers, from bestselling author Grantlee Kieza.

Gould had studied birds from the Galapagos Islands and helped Charles Darwin expound his controversial theory of evolution by natural selection. In Australia, with the help of Aboriginal guides, he would gaze upon a vast array of Australian wildlife which would generate huge praise and profits.

Quentin McDermott

unabridged

The true story of one of Australia's most famous murder cases, the woman accused, and the science that set her free – from award-winning journalist Quentin McDermott. Perfect for fans of The Teacher's Pet and Missing William Tyrell.

In 2003, Newcastle mother Kathleen Folbigg was found guilty of smothering her four young children to death, one by one. The 'science' posited that it was more likely that a mother would commit quadruple homicide than four infants die of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS). The law agreed, and Kathy was sentenced to 40 years in jail. This audiobook tells the complete, extraordinary story of Kathleen Folbigg's unlawful conviction and her eventual pardon decades later.

It is also a story of science versus the law. Folbigg was convicted before the era of widespread genetic testing, and legal teams ignored evidence that suggested at least two of the children may have died from a heart defect; it was just too complex for anyone to understand properly. Fifteen years later, a group of more than 150 eminent scientists from around the world believed she was innocent. And after two decades in prison, Kathleen was acquitted and set free.

This is the biography of one of Australia's most famous murder cases, examining the evidence that both unjustly put Folbigg behind bars and then cleared her name 20 years later.

Following six years at Granada Television in the UK, Quentin McDermott joined the ABC as a supervising producer on Lateline before joining Four Corners in 2000 as a senior investigative reporter and producer.

At Australian Story McDermott's story on convicted serial killer Kathleen Folbigg triggered a judicial inquiry in 2017 and he has covered her story for The Australian ever since.

McDermott is the producer of the critically acclaimed and award-winning documentary Stop at Nothing: The Lance Armstrong Story.

Life Lessons in Confidence

Cameron Daddo

Read by the Author

Adult New Release

Autobiography | February 2025

A memoir from veteran entertainer Cameron Daddo about confidence – how we nurture it, how we lose it and how we can get it back.

Multi-talented Cameron Daddo has been a part of the Australian entertainment scene since the late '80s. But you might be surprised to learn that, despite appearances, he grew up lacking confidence. Inspiring and empowering, Keep It Smooth shows us how to rally when we feel we have nothing left to give, and how we can learn to find confidence within.

Finding Eliza

Power and Colonial Storytelling / First Nations Classics

Larissa Behrendt

Read by Ella Ferris

Adult New Release

History | February 2025

Now included in UQP's First Nations Classics series with an introduction by Fiona Foley, Finding Eliza is a vital Indigenous perspective on colonial storytelling.

Aboriginal lawyer, writer and filmmaker Larissa Behrendt has long been fascinated by the story of Eliza Fraser, who was purportedly captured by the Butchulla people after she was shipwrecked on their island off the Queensland coast in 1836. In this deeply personal audiobook, Behrendt uses Eliza's tale as a starting point to interrogate how Aboriginal people – and indigenous people of other countries – have been portrayed in their colonisers' stories.

Exploring works as diverse as Robinson Crusoe and Coonardoo, Behrendt looks at the stereotypes embedded in these accounts, including the assumption of cannibalism and the myth of the noble savage. Ultimately, Finding Eliza shows how these stories not only reflect the values of their storytellers but also reinforce those values – and how, in Australia, this has contributed to a complex racial divide.

Larissa Behrendt is the author of Home, which won the 2002 David Unaipon Award and the regional Commonwealth Writers' Prize for Best First Book; Legacy, which won the 2010 Victorian Premier's Literary Award for Indigenous Writing; and After Story

Behrendt was awarded the 2009 NAIDOC Person of the Year award and 2011 NSW Australian of the Year

In 2018 Behrendt won the Australian Directors' Guild Award for Best Direction in a Documentary Feature and in 2020 the AACTA for Best Direction in Nonfiction Television

Behrendt is the host of Speaking Out on ABC radio and is Distinguished Professor at the Jumbunna Institute at the University of Technology Sydney

'Behrendt's analytical legal skills, her experience and talent as a writer and the visual imagination developed by filmmaking are all deployed to enhance a powerful and learned argument.' – The Weekend Australian

The Cicada House

Ella Ward

Read by Hannah Fredericksen & Jack Twelvtree

A warm, funny and surprising love story about one woman's journey to find out who she really is, from Australian author Ella Ward.

When Caitlin inherits a significant sum of money on her fortieth birthday, she decides to break the habit of a lifetime and throw caution to the wind. She's about to tell her husband Paul that they're leaving London on a once-in-a-lifetime journey around the world, only ... she doesn't tell Paul that, because before the candles are lit, he tells her that he's in love with someone else. After a drunken night trying to console herself, Caitlin books tickets to Australia – anything to get as far away as possible.

What does the world feel like when it's ending for you and no-one else? What does life feel like when you are running away from it? This is a story that begins in a way you expect and ends very far from there. It is a story of creaking English hallways and vast Australian skies. Of hands that feel like warm sandpaper, of cicadas that sing so loudly they drown out the grief. Of white wine and an old piano and children who want their parents back from the dead. It is a magical tale of travel and mystery. And a very human tale of sex and loss and seawater and the primal joy of coming home. This is The Cicada House.

Perfect for fans of Dolly Alderton, Sally Hepworth and Mhairi McFarlane

Ella Ward's memoir, 27 Letters to my Daughter, was published in Australia in 2022

'A glorious novel: captivating, vibrant and original.' – Jess Dettmann, author of Without Further Ado

The Holy and the Broken

Ittay Flescher

Read by Zev Levi

When dehumanisation and destruction become the norm, the cycle must be broken. The Holy and the Broken is a story that aims to comfort the troubled and trouble the comfortable.

For over 20 years, Ittay Flescher has worked as an educator, journalist and peacebuilder in Melbourne and Jerusalem. When he woke up on the morning of October 7, 2023 to the sounds of rocket sirens over Jerusalem and later saw the devastation of Gaza in response, the grief and sadness that engulfed him – and so many others – spurred him to consider: how do we find a way forward?

Following years spent facilitating dialogue between Jews, Muslims and Christians, Flescher believes that peace can only be found if we are willing to empathise with the pain of those who have hurt us most.

The Holy and the Broken challenges Palestinian and Israeli leaders, citizens and their supporters across the world to imagine a different reality; to look at history with a different eye; and to search for moments of engagement rather than resentment in the narratives of the past that each side tells about itself.

Ittay Flescher is the Education Director at Kids4Peace Jerusalem, an interfaith movement for Israelis and Palestinians and the Jerusalem Correspondent for The Jewish Independent from Australia

As an insightful analyst of Israeli politics, Flescher has been published in Haaretz, Crikey, ABC Religion and Ethics, Jerusalem Post, Fathom and many other publications and newspapers

'A book of rare insight and compassion, The Holy and the Broken offers the one thing we thought we'd lost after October 7: a glimmer of hope for meaningful lasting peace between Israelis and Palestinians.' – Bram Presser, author of The Book of Dirt

Homesickness

Murray Bail

Narrator to be Announced

Thirteen Australian package tourists set off around the world on the holiday of a lifetime in this timeless story by Murray Bail.

It could almost have been their own country: these sections with the gums briefly framed like a traditional oil painting by the slowly passing window. The colours were as brown and parched; that chaff-coloured grass. Ah, this dun-coloured realism. Any minute now the cry of the crow or a cockatoo; but no.

Thirteen men and women travel the world on a package tour but wherever they go nothing is as it seems. Challenged by the unexpected, by differences and subtleties, Bail's tourists are in turn repelled and attracted – and all are altered.

Winner of the National Book Council Award for Australian Literature and the Age Book of the Year Award

Murray Bail is the author of He, The Voyage, Eucalyptus, The Pages, Camouflage, Holden's Performance and The Drover's Wife and Other Stories

Trauma Proof

Healing, Attachment and the Science of Prevention

Benjamin Perks

Read by Andrew Wincott

Adult New Release

Lifestyle - Wellbeing | February 2025

An expert's inspiring, deeply personal account of how childhood trauma can be overcome.

In recent years the word 'trauma' has become ubiquitous. Yet it remains widely misunderstood. In Trauma Proof international expert Benjamin Perks redefines how we see childhood trauma, and outlines a new path towards healing and prevention.

For 25 years, Perks has worked for the UN and UNICEF on eradicating global barriers to child wellbeing, including poverty, hunger, disease, the mobilisation of child soldiers and population displacement. But he has also been on a personal journey of healing from his own childhood, spent living in the UK's care system and on the streets.

Today, new research is revealing little-known aspects of childhood trauma. It is no surprise that it drives addiction or poor mental health. But how does it explain a heightened risk for heart disease or diabetes? Why does it so comprehensively correlate with poor life outcomes? And how can we not only heal from, but prevent, the types of experiences that negatively impact on child development?

In Trauma Proof, Perks explains the science behind these findings, and argues that making simple changes can break damaging inter-generational cycles.

Benjamin Perks works for the UN in New York, campaigning on human rights and child development

Perks is a leading global advocate on issues related to child poverty, education, mental health, early childhood development and prevention of abuse and neglect

Perks is a Senior Fellow at the Jubilee Centre at the University of Birmingham in the UK

'Weaving together moving personal stories, compelling scientific evidence, and wise insights, Perks captures how childhood trauma is both a lasting wound and a harm we can heal.' – Adam Benforado, professor and author of A Minor Revolution: How Prioritizing Kids Benefits Us All

Mary Jane Staples

Read by Deryn Edwards

A wonderful saga of Cockney life from the bestselling author, Mary Jane Staples.

Horace was ten, Ethel seven, when Jim Cooper, home from the trenches, minus an arm and just about managing on his own, found them huddled in a doorway on a wet night in Walworth. Slightly against his better judgement he took them in, fed them cocoa and put them to sleep in his bed.

A few days later he found that – somehow – he had become the unofficial guardian of Horace and Ethel. It was him, the orphanage, or separation for the gutsy little pair who would have to be farmed out to anyone who would take them, and Jim felt a sudden affinity for the two cheeky cockney kids. The first thing he had to do was find fresh lodgings for them all.

Miss Rebecca Pilgrim was a woman of strict Victorian principles, eminently respectable and determined to keep her privacy intact. She had reckoned without her new lodgers – Horace, Ethel and, above all, the irrepressible Jim Cooper.

Mary Jane Staples was the author of many bestselling titles including the ever-popular cockney sagas featuring the Adams family

Read by Charlotte Anne Dore

Adult New Release

Romance | February 2025

The bad-mannered black sheep of the Armitage sisters finds love in spite of herself in this Regency romp from the New York Times bestselling author.

It seems as if there will be no need to find a husband for Diana, the fifth daughter of Charles Armitage, the hard-drinking huntsman and country vicar. For Diana shares her father's passion for the hunt, secretly posing as a man in order to participate in a sport that is considered too vulgar for a lady in Regency England. Her four elder sisters have married well, but Diana fears she will never be as desirous to wed a man as she is to be one. She was born to have a man's freedom to do and say what she wishes, to move about without restraint – or so she thinks until, disguised as David Armitage, she gets a bitter taste of tawdry town life.

Diana decides that life as a lady might not be so bad – if only she were permitted to hunt. But Lady Godolphin, Diana's well-meaning if eccentric cousin, will have none of that. She was instrumental, she tells herself, in finding fine husbands for the older Armitage girls and she is determined not to fail Diana. A certain Viscount, Lord Charles Dantry, does not play by the rules, however, upsetting all the best-laid plans to turn Diana into a proper young lady. Diana the huntress becomes the hunted and learns that there is another, infinitely more exciting, kind of chase.

My Lucky Life

A MEMOIR

Adult New Release

Autobiography | February 2025

A lively, heartwarming memoir of a performer who still thinks of himself as a 'simple song-and-dance man,' but who is, in every sense of the word, a classic entertainer.

Dick Van Dyke, indisputably one of the greats of the golden age of television, is admired and beloved by audiences the world over for his beaming smile, his physical dexterity, his impeccable comic timing, his ridiculous stunts and his unforgettable screen roles.

His trailblazing television program, The Dick Van Dyke Show (produced by Carl Reiner, who has written the foreword to this memoir), was one of the most popular sitcoms of the 1960s and introduced another major television star, Mary Tyler Moore. But Dick Van Dyke was also an enormously engaging movie star whose films, including Mary Poppins and Chitty Chitty Bang Bang, have been discovered by a new generation of fans and are as beloved today as they were when they first appeared.

A colourful, loving, richly detailed look at the decades of a multilayered life, My Lucky Life In and Out of Show Business, will enthral every generation of listeners, from baby-boomers who recall when Rob Petrie became a household name, to all those still enchanted by Bert's 'Chim Chim Cher-ee'.

Dick Van Dyke is an internationally recognised and accomplished performer, and has been a recipient of the Theatre World Award, a Tony, a Grammy and Emmy awards

In honour of Van Dyke's on-going contribution to the world of entertainment and charity, he was the recipient of the 2013 SAG Life Achievement Award

'In my opinion, 'Luck' has little to do with Dick Van Dyke's life. It is, rather, his innate kindness and talent that have had an extraordinary effect in shaping the man. And what a fascinating self-portrait he's given us in this book.' – Mary Tyler Moore, American actress

'Van Dyke tells a wonderful story about himself and his times. And – in an often surprisingly relevant manner – our times. We've always liked the performer – it's hard not to like Dick Van Dyke – but this will make you admire him.' – Playbill

Patrice Lawrence

Read by Matthew Biddulph & Karise Yansen

An exploration of fractured families, long-buried secrets and the power of friendship, told with warmth and compassion, from multi-award-winning author Patrice Lawrence.

12 year old Ayrton and his mum have recently moved back to the area they lived in when he was a baby – the area they fled after a local woman stole him away from Mum when she was out shopping, thankfully returning him after only a short time had passed.

Mum is suffocatingly over-protective of Ayrton, who just wants to be a normal boy. At his new school, he discovers that his new friend Stanley is linked to him in an astonishing way – Stanley's grandma was the woman who took Ayrton while his mum's back was turned. She became estranged from her own family because of her actions and Stanley has never known her.

Together the boys decide to track down the grandma – now a famous artist with the Banksy-style pseudonym Vixen – but will Ayrton's mother get answers to the questions that torment her, and will Ayrton be able to live a more free life?

Patrice Lawrence is an award-winning writer, whose debut YA novel, Orangeboy, won the Bookseller YA Prize and the Waterstones Prize for Older Children's Fiction and was shortlisted for the Costa Children's Book Award
