Women's Murder Club #24

James Patterson & Maxine Paetro

Read by January LaVoy

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | July 2024

The thrilling new instalment in the globally bestselling Women's Murder Club series.

Trouble is never far away ...

The Women's Murder Club is out celebrating an engagement at San Francisco's finest restaurant when a blood-curdling scream interrupts the festivities.

They soon discover a young woman who has been the victim of a violent assault. Sergeant Lindsay Boxer makes an arrest. Assistant District Attorney Yuki Castellano takes the case.

But assigning blame is made impossible due to the victim's chaotic version of events – and the shocking reason behind her ever-changing memory.

As Yuki argues the toughest case of her career, Lindsay must chase down a high-society killer whose target practice may leave the Women's Murder Club short a bridesmaid ... or two.

James Patterson is one of the best known and biggest selling authors of all time. His works have sold in excess of 400 million copies worldwide

Patterson is the author of some of the most popular series of the past two decades and has written many other #1 bestsellers, including standalone thrillers and non-fiction

American author Maxine Paetro has known Patterson since the 1970s and collaborated on more than two dozen novels with Patterson since 2004

Paetro ranks #16 on the Sunday Times bestseller list of authors with the most titles to be at number one over the past 40 years, with 11 separate titles in the #1 position

'I couldn't turn the pages quick enough. Great plot, fantastic storytelling and characters that spring off the page - all the right ingredients for a thriller!' – Heidi Perks, Sunday Times bestselling author of Now You See Her

The Postscript Murders

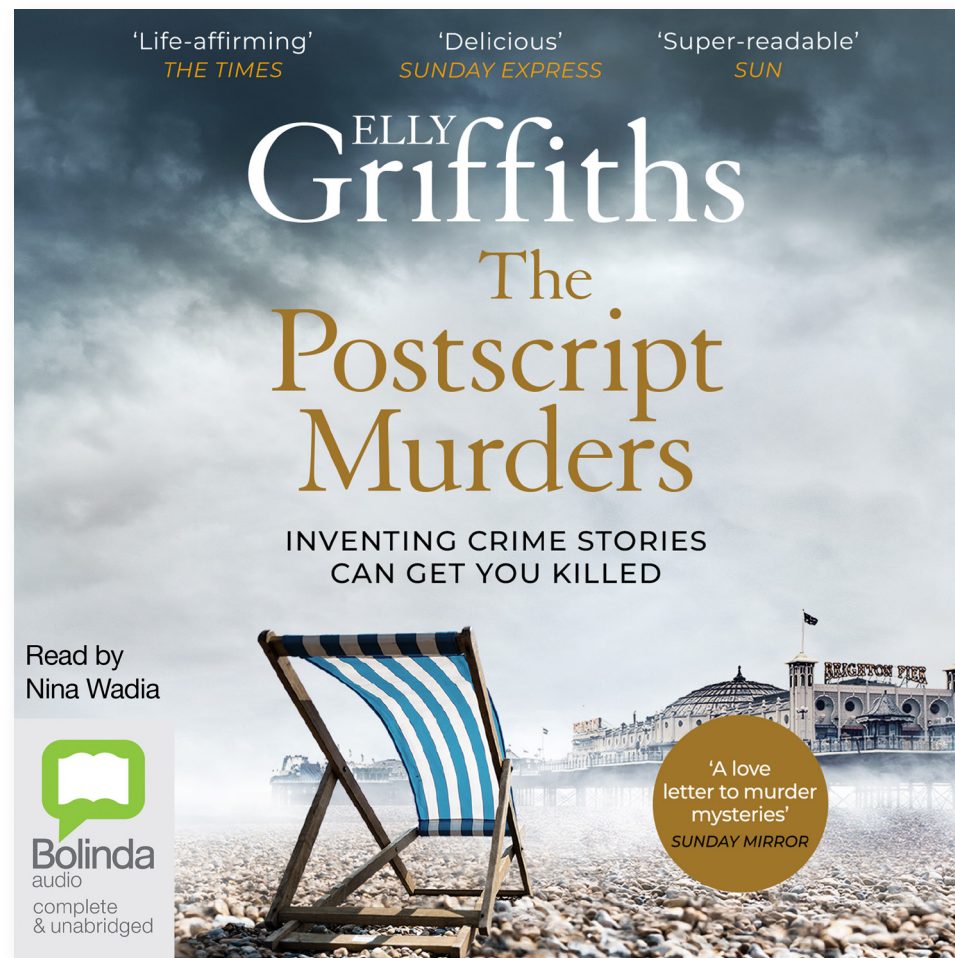

Harbinder Kaur #2

Elly Griffiths

Read by Nina Wadia

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | July 2024

Murder leaps off the page when crime novelists begin to turn up dead in this intricate new thriller by international best-selling author Elly Griffiths, a literary mystery perfect for fans of Anthony Horowitz and Agatha Christie.

The death of a 90-year-old woman with a heart condition should absolutely not be suspicious. DS Harbinder Kaur certainly sees nothing of concern in carer Nataalka's account of Peggy Smith's death.

But when Nataalka reveals that Peggy lied about her heart condition and that she had been sure someone was following her ... and that Peggy Smith had been a 'murder consultant' who plotted deaths for authors and knew more about murder than anyone has any right to ... and when clearing out Peggy's flat ends in Nataalka being held at gunpoint by a masked figure ... well then DS Harbinder Kaur thinks that maybe there is no such thing as an unsuspecting death after all.

The Postscript Murders is a literary mystery for fans of Antony Horowitz, Agatha Christie and anyone who's ever wondered just how authors think up such realistic crimes

Elly Griffiths is the author of the Dr Ruth Galloway and Brighton mystery series, as well as the standalone novel The Stranger Diaries, winner of the Edgar Award for Best Novel

Griffiths is the recipient of the CWA Dagger in the Library Award and has been shortlisted four times for the Theakston's Old Peculier Crime Novel of the Year

'A love letter to murder mysteries.' – The Sunday Mirror

'Delightful ... told with Griffiths's characteristic charm and gentleness.' – Daily Mail

The Moonlight Market

Joanne Harris

Read by the Author

From award-winning New York Times bestselling author Joanne Harris comes a richly imagined and captivating story of two colliding worlds.

Tom is a photographer. Orphaned, lonely, lost in his work, he has no intention of falling in love. And yet, love finds him in the shape of beautiful Vanessa, who lives a dangerous double life in the heart of London's King's Cross.

Tom's pursuit of Vanessa leads him to discover an alternate world, hiding in plain sight among the streets and rooftops of London; a world unseen by common folk and inhabited by strange and colourful beings, in which two warring factions – one of night, one of light – wage war for the sake of a long-lost love and a prince of sun and starlight.

The Moonlight Market is a must-listen for fans of Neil Gaiman, V.E. Schwab, and Erin Morgenstern

Joanne Harris is the internationally renowned and award-winning author of over 20 novels, plus novellas, cookbooks, scripts, short stories, libretti, lyrics, articles and a self-help book for writers

Harris's novel Chocolat was made into an Oscar-nominated film starring Juliette Binoche

'The bestselling author of Chocolat and Broken Light delivers a gloriously romantic tale of a photographer who discovers a moonlit market in the secret heart of London.'

– Waterstones

'Magical, poignant and wholly transporting.' – Publishers Weekly (on Honeycomb)

Meditations After an Attempted Murder

SALMAN RUSHDIE

Adult New Release

Autobiography | July 2024

A searing, deeply personal account of enduring a brutal attempt on his life, 30 years after the fatwa that was ordered against him, from internationally renowned writer and Booker Prize–winner Salman Rushdie.

On the morning of 12 August 2022, Salman Rushdie was standing onstage at the Chautauqua Institution in upstate New York, preparing to give a lecture on the importance of keeping writers safe from harm, when a man in black – black clothes, black mask – rushed down the aisle towards him, wielding a knife. His first thought: so it's you. Here you are.

What followed was a horrific act of violence that shook the literary world and beyond. Now, for the first time, and in unforgettable detail, Rushdie relives the traumatic events of that day and its aftermath, as well as his journey towards physical recovery and the healing that was made possible by the love and support of his wife, Eliza, his family, his army of doctors and physical therapists, and his community of readers worldwide.

Knife is Rushdie at the peak of his powers, writing with urgency, with gravity, with unflinching honesty.

Salman Rushdie is the author of several novels, including Midnight's Children (which won the Booker Prize and the Best of the Booker), Shame, The Satanic Verses, The Moor's Last Sigh and Quichotte, all of which have been shortlisted for the Booker Prize

A former president of PEN American Center, Rushdie was knighted in 2007 for services to literature and was made a Companion of Honour in the Queen's last Birthday Honours list in 2022

'Knife is a searing book, and a reminder of the power of words to make sense of the unthinkable.' – Nihar Malaviya, CEO of Penguin Random House

'Rushdie has the power of description, and we succumb.' – The Times

Long Island Colm Tóibín

Read by Jessie Buckley

A spectacularly moving and intense tale of secrecy, misunderstanding and love – the story of Eilis Lacey, the complex and enigmatic heroine of Brooklyn, Tóibín's most popular work 20 years later.

A man with an Irish accent knocks on Eilis Fiorello's door on Long Island and in that moment everything changes. Eilis and Tony have built a secure, happy life here since leaving Brooklyn – perhaps a little stifled by the in-laws so close, but 20 years married and with two children looking towards a good future.

And yet this stranger will reveal something that will make Eilis question the life she has created. For the first time in years she suddenly feels very far from home and the revelation will see her turn towards Ireland once again. Back to her mother. Back to the town and the people she had chosen to leave behind. Did she make the wrong choice marrying Tony all those years ago? Is it too late now to take a different path?

Read by Olivier Award winner and Oscar nominee, Jessie Buckley, and featuring an exclusive audio Q&A

Colm Tóibín is the author of 11 novels, including The Magician, winner of the Rathbones Folio Prize; The Master, winner of the Los Angeles Times Book Prize; and Brooklyn, winner of the Costa Book Award

Tóibín has been named as the Laureate for Irish Fiction for 2022-2024 by the Arts Council of Ireland and has been three times shortlisted for the Booker Prize

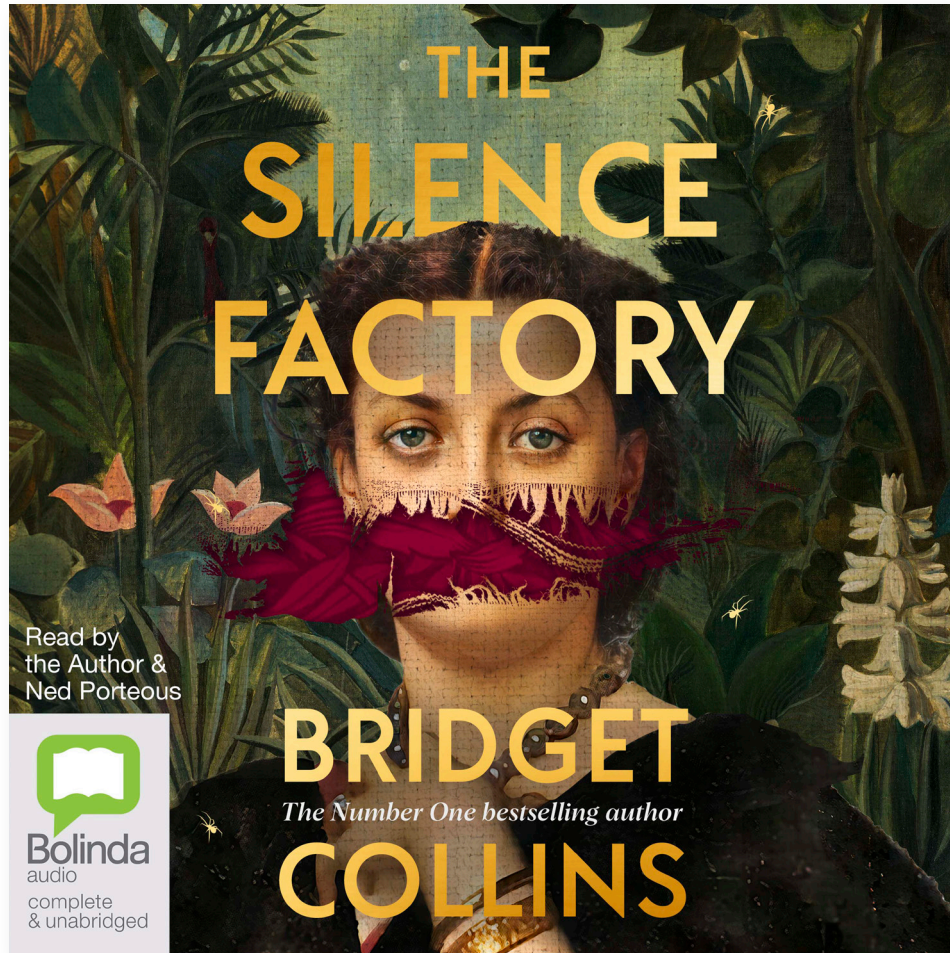

'It is a masterful novel full of longing and regret. A tale of lovers reconnecting, of compromise, and the settling that can come later in life. Intensely moving and yet full of restraint' – Douglas Stuart, Booker Prize-winning author of Shuggie Bain

'Heartbreak, wistfulness, cracking dialogue ... This is Tóibín at his best' – The Times

The Silence Factory

Bridget Collins

Read by Ned Porteous

From the acclaimed author Bridget Collins comes a captivating story of gothic suspense about a powerful family, the magical and dangerous silk their fortune is built upon and the exploitative history they are desperately trying to hide.

Henry dreams of silence. A world without the clattering of carriages through cobbled streets, the distant cries of drunken brawls, the relentless ticking of the clock.

Then he meets a fascinating, mysterious gentleman who sells just that. Precious silk that can drown out the clamour of the world – and everything Henry is so desperate to escape. Summoned to Sir Edward's secluded factory to try to cure his young daughter's deafness, Henry is soon drawn deeper and deeper into the mysterious origins of this otherworldly gift: a gift that has travelled from ancient Mediterranean glades to English libraries.

Ignoring repeated warnings, he allows himself to fall under the spell of Sir Edward and his silk ... but when he learns its true cost, will it be too late to turn back?

Bridget Collins is the international bestselling author of The Binding and The Betrayals

Collins trained as an actor at the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art after reading English at King's College, Cambridge

'Brilliant ... a captivating, imaginative tale.' – Woman & Home (on The Betrayals)

'She's done it again: this is another triumph from the incomparable imagination of Bridget Collins.' – Erin Kelly, bestselling author of He Said/She Said (on The Betrayals)

Ben Hope #29

Scott Mariani

Read by Colin Mace

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | July 2024

Learn the secret – or die trying. An unmissable new thriller from the master of the genre and Sunday Times bestselling author Scott Mariani.

Has ex-SAS soldier Ben Hope finally got out of his depth?

That's the question Ben faces when the hunt for a missing girl takes him to China. He's a stranger in a strange land – but he's also the victim's only hope. To make things worse, she's almost family.

As the pressure mounts, so does the gruesome death toll. With ruthless enemies in pursuit and an unlikely alliance with an enigmatic detective his only lifeline, Ben realises that this situation is far more explosive than even he'd bargained for. Suddenly it's no longer just the missing girl's fate depending on him.

At the heart of the mystery lies an ancient secret dating back to China's first emperor and the legendary Terracotta Army – a secret that people will still kill for, millennia later. Ben Hope has never turned his back on those in need, and he's no stranger to tough odds. But can he survive long enough to discover the truth – and is he ready for the consequences?

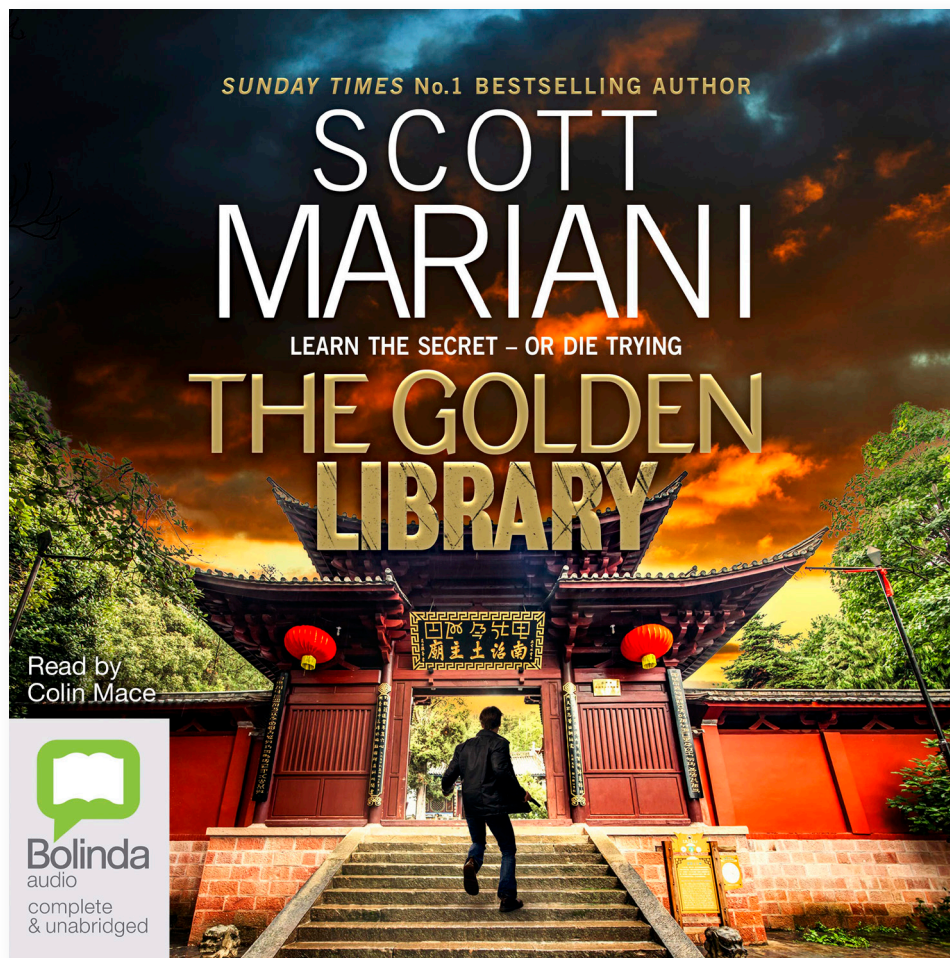

Scott Mariani is the #1 bestselling author of the internationally acclaimed action adventure series featuring maverick ex-SAS hero Ben Hope

Mariani's pulse-pounding thrillers mix action, adventure, conspiracy and ancient secrets with modern mysteries and cutting edge tech – and at the heart of it all – a hero you'll never forget

Any Human Power

Manda Scott

Read by Clare Corbett

How do you help the people you love create a future you're proud to leave behind? From acclaimed author Manda Scott comes a visionary thriller of a lifetime.

As Lan lies dying, she makes a promise that binds her long into the Beyond. A decade later her teenage granddaughter is caught up in an international storm of outrage that unleashes the rage of a whole, failed generation. For one shining fragment of time, the world is with her. But then the backlash begins, and soon she and her family are besieged by the press, facing the all-powerful wrath of the old establishment whose only understanding is power-over, not power-with.

Watching over the growing chaos is Lan, who taught them all to think independently, approach power sceptically and dream with clear intent. She knows that more than one generation's hopes are on the line.

Manda Scott is the author of the The Rome series and bestselling Boudica series, which was translated into over 20 languages

Scott's crime novels have been shortlisted for many awards including Hen's Teeth for the Orange Prize and No Good Deed for an Edgar Award

'The most exciting, involving thriller I've read in an age, and I can't recommend it highly enough.' – Mick Herron, award-winning author of the Slough House series

'This is a rich vein for fiction, and Scott does it more than justice, with this beautifully imagined, beautifully written, smart, sophisticated – but fiercely suspenseful – thriller.' – Lee Child, #1 New York Times bestselling author (on A Treachery of Spies)

The Life of Birds

David Attenborough

Read by the Author

Based on the spectacular ten-part program on PBS, The Life of Birds is David Attenborough at his characteristic best, presenting the drama, beauty and eccentricities of the natural world with unusual flair and intelligence.

Birds. Over 9000 species, the most widespread of all animals: on icebergs, in the Sahara or under the sea, at home in our gardens or flying for over a year at a time. Earthbound, we can only look and listen, enjoying their lightness, freedom and richness of plumage and song.

David Attenborough has been watching and learning all his life. His classic audiobook, now fully updated with the latest discoveries in ornithology, is a brilliant introduction to bird behaviours around the world: what they do and why they do it. He looks at each step in birds' lives and the problems they have to solve: learning to fly; finding food; communicating; mating and caring for nests, eggs and young; migrating; facing dangers and surviving harsh conditions.

Sir David has no equal in helping others to learn and making it exciting. His curiosity and enjoyment are infectious. He shows the lifelong pleasure that birds around us offer, and how much we miss if unaware of them.

Sir David Attenborough is Britain's best known natural history filmmaker. His career as a naturalist and broadcaster has spanned nearly five decades and there are very few places on the globe that he has not visited

Over the last 25 years, Attenborough has established himself as the world's leading natural history program maker with several landmark BBC series

The Life of Birds is a fully updated new edition of Attenborough's bestselling classic

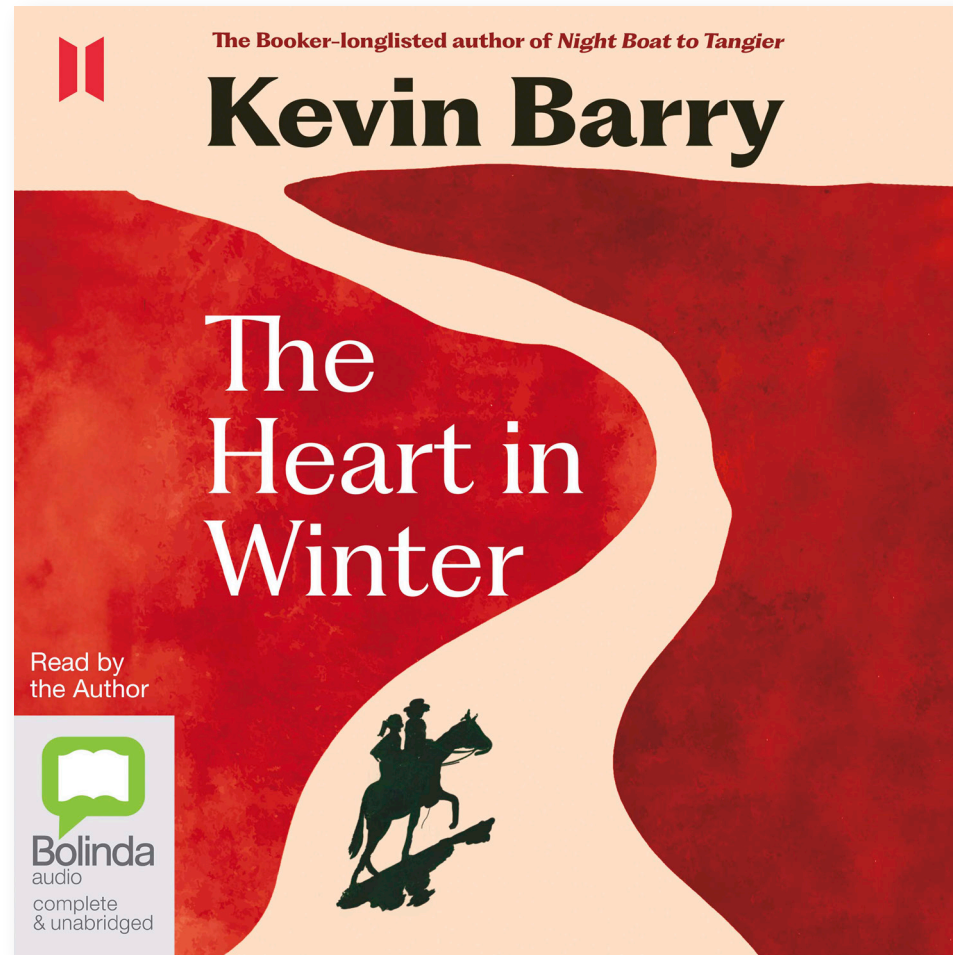

'... vividly conveys the beauty of birds and the extraordinary richness of their behaviour.'

– Dr Neil Chalmers, director of The Natural History Museum, London

The Heart in Winter

Kevin Barry

Read by the Author

A savagely funny, achingly beautiful tale set in the Wild West, from the award-winning author of Night Boat to Tangier.

October, 1891. Butte, Montana.

A hard winter approaches across the Rocky Mountains. The city is rich in copper mines and rampant with vice and debauchery among a hard-living crowd of immigrant Irish workers.

Here we find Tom Rourke, a young poet and ballad maker, but also a dooper, a drinker and a fearsome degenerate. Just as he feels his life is heading nowhere fast, Polly Gillespie arrives in town as the new bride of the devout mine captain Long Anthony Harrington.

A thunderbolt love affair takes spark between Tom and Polly, and they strike out west on a stolen horse, moving through the badlands of Montana and Idaho. Briefly, an idyll of wild romance perfects itself. But a posse of deranged Cornish gunmen are soon in hot pursuit of the lovers, and closing in fast ...

Kevin Barry is the author of the novels Beatlebone, City of Bohane and Night Boat to Tangier and the story collections Dark Lies the Island and There Are Little Kingdoms

Barry's awards include the IMPAC Dublin Literary Award, the Goldsmiths Prize, the Sunday Times EFG Short Story Prize and the Lannan Foundation Literary Award

Barry's stories and essays have appeared in The New Yorker, Granta and elsewhere

'The Heart in Winter is a glorious and haunted yarn, with all the elements – the doomed lovers, the bounty hunters, the knife-fights and whisky-soaked songs – brought to mysterious life by the heft and polish of the Barry sentence. Marvellous.'

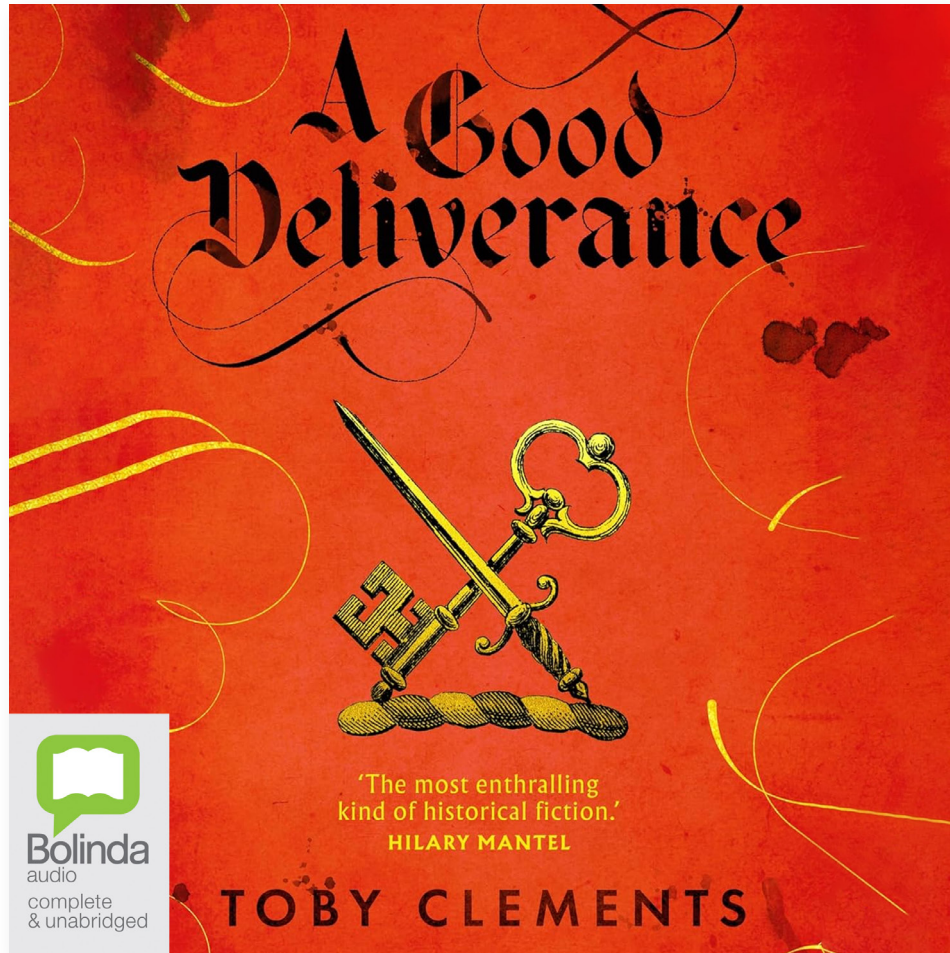

– Jon McGregor, award-winning author and short story writer

'A love story, and a slice of history, in a language as close to song as literature will ever get.' – Colum McCann, author of Apeirogon

A Good Deliverance

Toby Clements

Read by Matt Addis

From the bestselling author of the Kingmaker series comes an epic and intimate tale of adventure, myth and the creation of one of literature's greatest stories.

Warwick, 1468. One drowsy summer afternoon, Sir Thomas Malory – politician, courtier, outlaw, renowned author of Le Morte D'Arthur – is seized from his garden and dragged to Newgate Prison for reasons unknown.

Shivering in his foul-smelling, filthy old cell, Malory mourns his misspent life as he awaits the execution bell. But when the locking bar lifts, he is greeted by a boy of about 12 winters: the gaoler's son. Giddy with relief, Malory seizes the opportunity to recount his deeds to an audience.

So begins a prison confession of a perilously exciting life full of sieges, battles and court intrigue. A Good Deliverance is the captivating tale of a man at odds with his past and the events that inspired him to write the first great work of prose fiction in English.

Toby Clements is a journalist, former Literary Editor at the Daily Telegraph and the author of the Kingmaker series

Clements was inspired to write the Kingmaker series having first become obsessed by the Wars of the Roses after a school trip to Tewkesbury Abbey

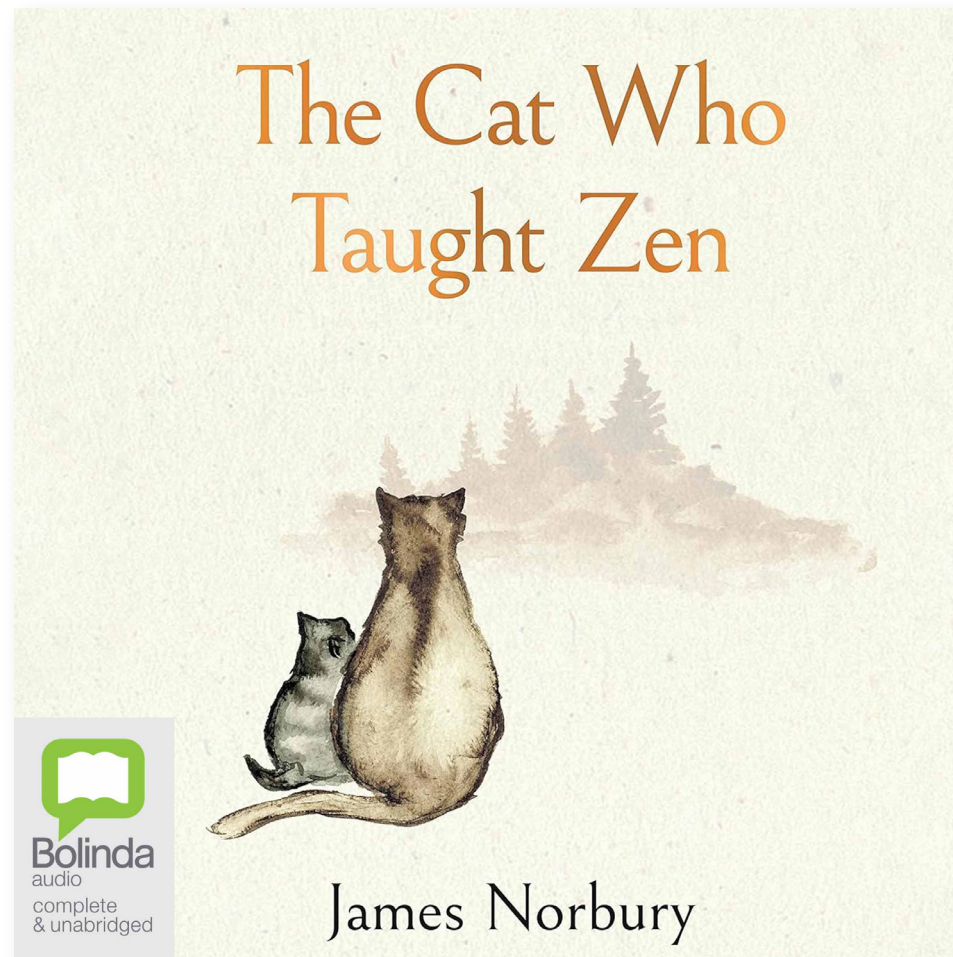

'A major achievement in historical fiction.' – Historia Magazine (on Kingdom Come)

'The series is historical novel writing at its best, blending real and fictional characters into a dark and entertaining epic of authentic history and thrilling adventure ...' – Lancashire Post (on the Kingmaker series)

The Cat Who Taught Zen

James Norbury

Read by Richard Coyle

James Norbury, author of Sunday Times bestseller Big Panda and Tiny Dragon, tells the story of the cat who learned how to be more zen.

'I've learnt that what we want is seldom what we need, and what we need is almost never what we want.'

This is the tale of a cat wise in the ways of zen, journeying to discover a fabled ancient pine, under which infinite wisdom may be found.

Along the way he meets a vivid cast of animals: from an anxious monkey and a tortoise tired of life to a tiger struggling with anger, a confused wolf cub and a covetous crow.

But it's a surprise encounter with a playful kitten, that forces the cat to question everything ...

Produced with sound design and music for an immersive listening experience

James Norbury writes and illustrates all kind of books, the only theme running through them is the creation of worlds where, perhaps, he would like to live

Told in a gentle, calming style, The Cat Who Taught Zen introduces a new cast of characters for listeners of all ages to fall in love with, offering timeless wisdom wrapped up into a tale of beguiling beauty

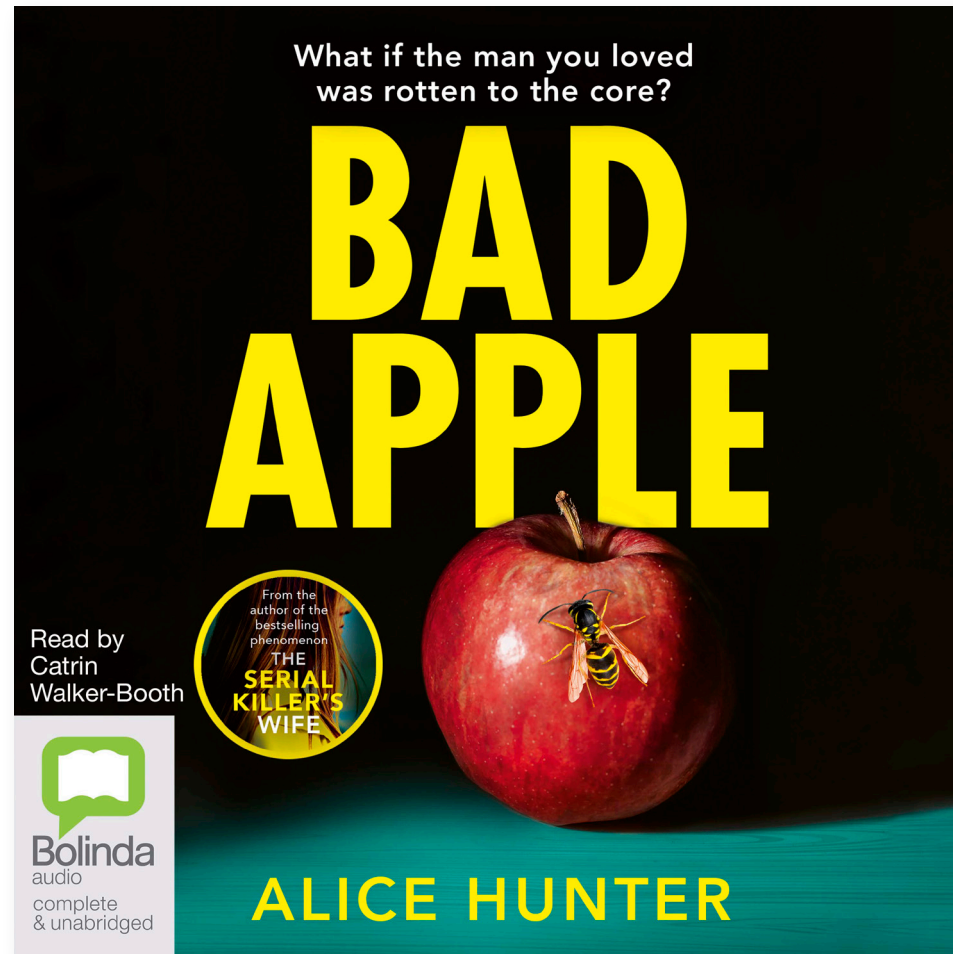

'From a curious hare to a terrifying tiger, this uplifting book from the bestselling author of Big Panda and Tiny Dragon introduces a loveable cast of animal characters with a powerful message of the importance of peace and understanding at its heart.' – Waterstones

'Suitable as a gift or to own, and definitely one to share.' – GLAM Adelaide (on Big Panda and Tiny Dragon)

Bad Apple

Alice Hunter

Read by Catrin Walker-Booth

A gripping psychological suspense about betrayal, courage and the darkness that can hide behind a seemingly trustworthy façade, from the author of bestselling sensation The Serial Killer's Wife – now a Paramount+ TV show.

Becky Lawson's life has been shattered.

When she discovered her husband, John – a trusted policeman – was a monster, she reported him. But her faith in the system was crushed when it didn't lead to any charges or consequences.

Now, John lives freely with a new girlfriend and her young daughter, while Becky battles guilt over missing the obvious signs.

Determined for justice, Becky hunts him down. But John wants her silenced – at any cost. Becky knows only one of them can survive, and she'll do anything to make sure it's her.

Becky must tread carefully though, because John isn't the only bad apple lurking in the shadows ...

Perfect for fans of K.L. Slater, B.A. Paris and the Netflix hit TV series You

Alice Hunter is the author of The Serial Killer's Wife, The Serial Killer's Daughter and The Serial Killer's Sister which all draw heavily on her knowledge of psychology and the criminal mind

Hunter worked as a nurse, working in the NHS, and she now puts her experiences to good use in fiction. After completing a psychology degree, she also became an intervention facilitator in a prison

'The steadily unfurling plot ... kept me hooked. The final double twist, too, is well worth waiting for.' – My Weekly (on The Serial Killer's Wife)

'It richly deserves to be a hit.' – Daily Mail (on The Serial Killer's Wife)

Operation Biting

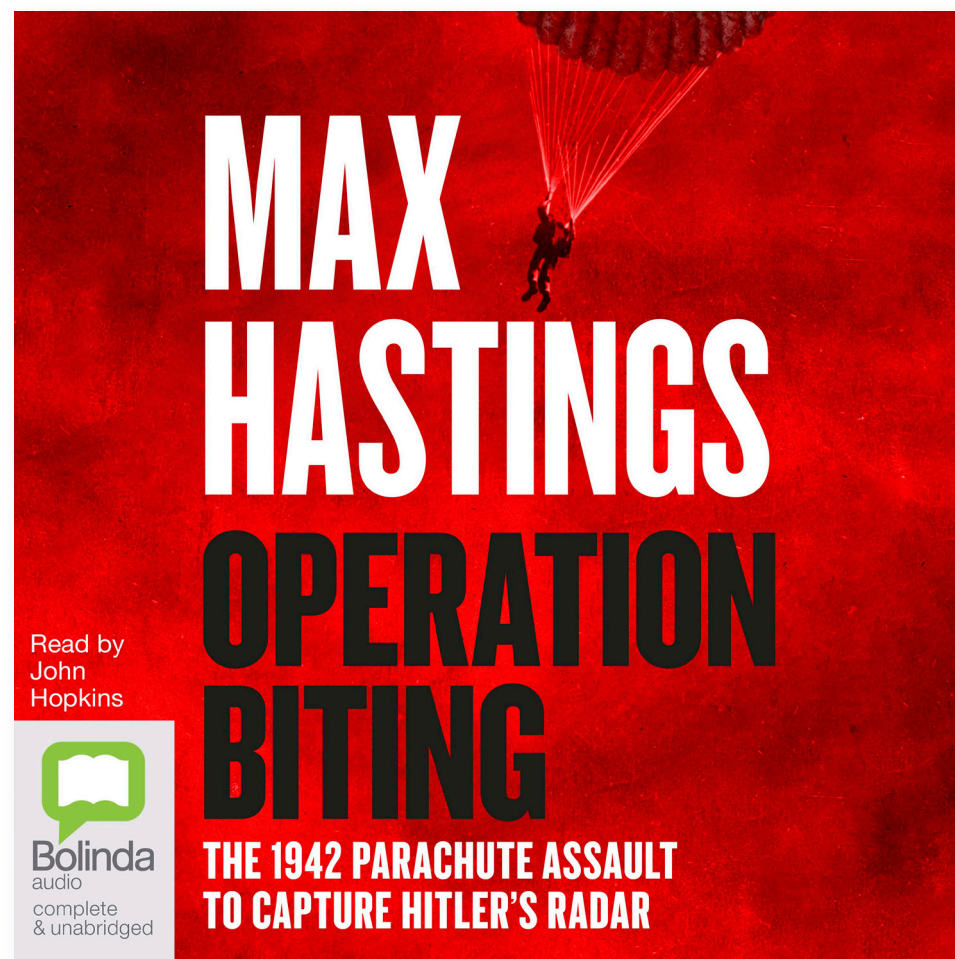

The 1942 Parachute Assault to Capture Hitler's Radar

Max Hastings

Read by John Hopkins

Adult New Release

History | July 2024

In this enthralling history, internationally bestselling author Max Hastings recounts the odds-defying Operation Biting, a 1942 parachute commando raid on Northern France to steal vital components of German intelligence.

In February 1942, RAF intelligence was baffled by a newly identified radar network on the coast of Nazi-occupied Europe, codenamed Würzburg. British intelligence proposed an assault to capture key components. Incredibly brave agents of the French Resistance risked their lives to probe the German defenses on the Normandy coast. Then a company of Airborne forces were dropped into France in the dead of night amid heavy snow. Launching their attack, the allied soldiers dismantled the German's radar, and after three nail-biting hours and a fierce battle with Wehrmacht defenders, escaped in the nick of time using landing-craft that carried them back across the stormy seas to Portsmouth.

Operation Biting retells this dramatic operation through a gallery of amazing characters from Winston Churchill, who promoted the raid, to Lord Mountbatten, who commanded Combined Operations, to the brave unsung commandos who fought their way through enemy territory.

Max Hastings is the author of Bomber Command, Vietnam, Catastrophe, Armageddon, Retribution, Winston's War, The Korean War and Inferno

Hastings has won many awards both for his books and his journalism, including the 2012 $100,000 Pritzker Library prize for lifetime achievement, and the 2019 Bronze Arthur Ross medal of the US Council For Foreign Relations for Vietnam

'A definitive history, gripping from start to finish but relentlessly disturbing.' – Kirkus Reviews (on Vietnam)

The Mystery of the Crooked Man

Tom Spencer

Read by Claire Warrillow

A distinctive murder mystery with an unforgettably spiky protagonist, for fans of The Twyford Code, Magpie Murders and Can You Ever Forgive Me?

Meet Agatha Dorn, cantankerous archivist, grammar pedant, gin aficionado and murder mystery addict. When she discovers a lost manuscript by Gladden Green, the Empress of Golden Age detective fiction, Agatha's life takes an unexpected twist. She becomes an overnight sensation, basking in the limelight of literary stardom.

But Agatha's newfound fame takes a nosedive when the 'rediscovered' novel is exposed as a hoax. And when her ex-lover turns up dead, with a scrap of the manuscript by her side, Agatha suspects foul play.

Cancelled, ostracised and severely ticked off, Agatha turns detective to uncover the sinister truth that connects the murder and the fraudulent manuscript. But can she stay sober long enough to catch the murderer, or will Agatha become a whodunnit herself?

Tom Spencer has published creative work in various journals, including a story nominated for a Pushcart Prize and another shortlisted for the Galley Beggar Press Prize

Under his real name, Tom Perrin, he has published an academic book on 20th-century fiction, as well as having written for the New York Times, The Times Literary Supplement and elsewhere

'Not your usual cosy, and that's exactly what I loved! Spencer tip-toes on that line between traditional and modern with a delicate charm and deftness of touch to create a juicy whodunnit. Simply brilliant!.' – Jonathan Whitehall, author of The Bingo Hall Detectives

'With a prickly protagonist and a plot that's twistier than a bag full of corkscrews, this one will keep you guessing until the end.' – Fiona Leitch, author of The Cornish Wedding Murder

My Family

The Memoir

A searingly honest, humorous memoir from the award-winning author of Jews Don't Count.

On the surface, David Baddiel's childhood was fairly standard: a lower-middle-class family living in an ordinary house in North West London. But as his mother changed careers, their life grew increasingly surreal: abandoning her business selling children's books, she became obsessed with golfing memorabilia, impassioned by a salacious affair with a golfing salesman.

As Baddiel investigates his family's past, his father's memories are fading: dementia has turned him into a Spitting Image puppet of himself, making him moodier and more disinhibited, with an even greater penchant for obscenity. But as with his mother's affair, there is both comedy and poignancy to be found: laughter is a constant presence, capable of transforming the darkest of experiences into something else.

Inspired by his Olivier-nominated stage show, My Family is a candid examination of family, memory, and the redemptive powers of comedy

'A must read and if you think YOU don't need to read it, that's just the clue to know you do.' – Sarah Silverman (on Jews Don't Count)

Song of the Huntress

Lucy Holland

Read by Kristin Atherton

A must-listen for fans of Circe, Song of the Huntress recasts the folklore behind the Wild Hunt into a dark, feminist fantasy set amidst the legends and beauty of ancient Britain.

Britain, 60 AD. Hoping to save her lover and her land from the Romans, Herla makes a desperate pact with the Otherworld King. She becomes Lord of the Hunt and for centuries she rides, reaping wanderers' souls. Until the night she meets a woman on a bloody battlefield – a Saxon queen with ice-blue eyes.

Queen Æthelburg of Wessex is a proven fighter, but after a battlefield defeat, she finds her husband's court turning against her. Yet King Ine needs Æthel more than ever – the dead kings of Wessex are waking, and Ine must master his bloodline's ancient magic if they are to survive.

When their paths cross, Herla knows it's no coincidence. Something dark and dangerous is at work in the Wessex court. As she and Æthel grow closer, Herla must find her humanity – and a way to break the curse – before it's too late.

Lucy Holland is the author of The Times bestselling Sistersong, a reimagining of the folk ballad 'The Twa Sisters'

As Lucy Hounsom, she wrote the Worldmaker Trilogy. Her first book Starborn was shortlisted in the 2016 Gemmell Awards for Best Fantasy Debut

Holland co-hosts the intersectional feminist podcast Breaking the Glass Slipper, which won Best Audio in the 2019 British Fantasy Awards

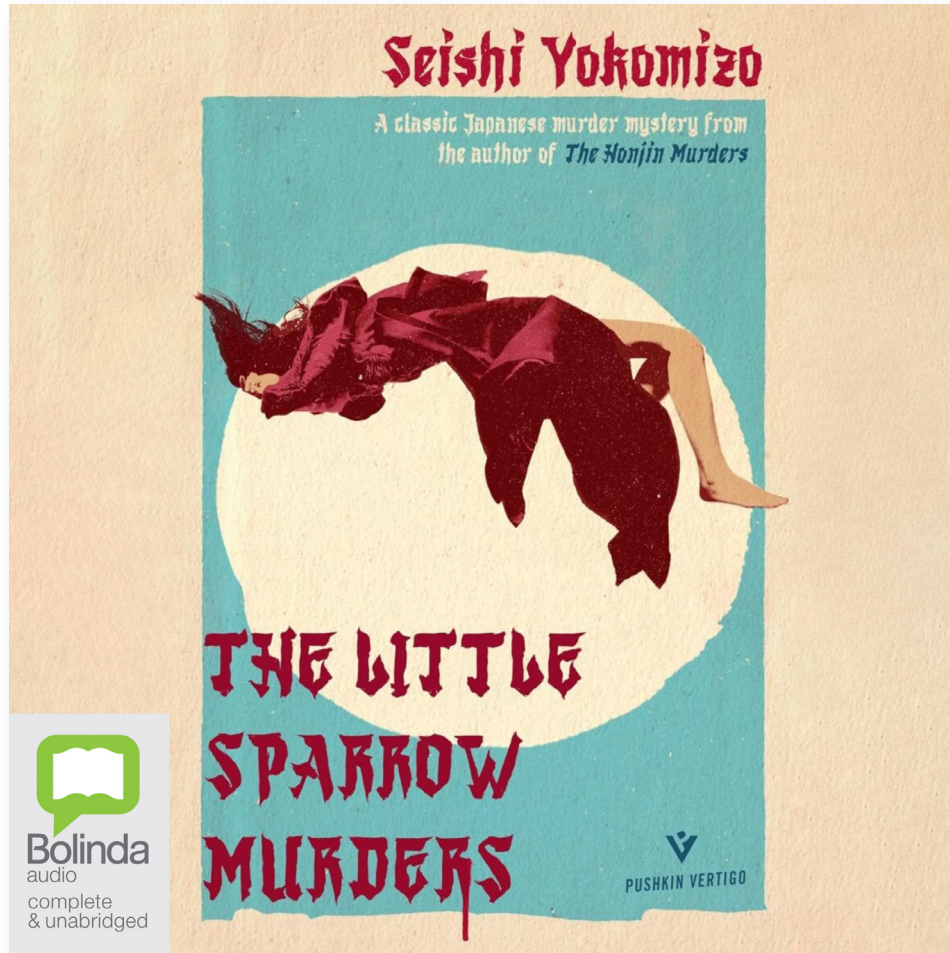

'Striking, bold and beautifully written ... Holland is a powerful writer and this, a propulsive tale, a brilliantly woven tapestry of folklore, fantasy and history. Epic and wild.' – Angela Slatter, award-winning author of The Briar Book of the Dead

'Magic, myth, political intrigue, and a fierce and unique love story ... I devoured it.' – Cassandra Clare, author of the Mortal Instruments series

The Little Sparrow Murders

Seishi Yokomizo

Read by Akira Matsumoto

As several bodies are discovered staged in bizarre poses echoing the lyrics of a children's song, the quirky, endearing detective must string together the clues to solve this fiendish puzzle.

It was late July, in 1955, when Kosuke Kindaichi, accompanied by a letter of introduction from Inspector Isokawa, took a rickshaw over the Sennin Pass – astonishingly, this mode of transport was still in use in those parts – and set foot for the very first time in the village of Onikobe. Of course, never in his wildest dreams would he have known about the temari song.

The scruffy detective Kosuke Kindaichi returns to solve another fiendish murder mystery.

An old friend of Kindaichi's invites the detective to visit the remote mountain village of Onikobe, the site of a 20-year-old unsolved murder case. But no sooner has Kindaichi in the village than a new series of murders strikes – several bodies are discovered staged in bizarre poses, and it soon becomes clear that the victims are being killed using methods that eerily echo the lyrics of an old local children's song ...

As the legendary sleuth investigates, he soon realises that he must unravel the dark and tangled history of the village, as well as that of its feuding families, to get to the truth.

Seishi Yokomizo was one of Japan's most famous and best-loved mystery authors, best known for his Kosuke Kindaichi series

Many of Yokomizo's works have been made into movies. In particular, The Inugami Clan received two film adaptations by Kon Ichikawa: The Inugami Family in 1976 and his 2006 remake The Inugamis

Yokomizo's whodunnits have sold an astonishing 55 million copies in his home country

'Seishi Yokomizo took a pinch of John Dickson Carr and a dash of Agatha Christie in creating Kosuke Kindaichi, solver of impossible crimes ...' – The New York Times

'The diabolically twisted plotting is top-notch.' – The New York Times (on The Inugami Curse)

Versions of a Girl

Catherine Gray

Read by Maeve Smyth

The warm and brilliantly wise fiction debut about growing up and trying not to become our parents, from the Sunday Times bestselling author of The Unexpected Joy of Being Sober.

Do we become who we are because of our parents, or in spite of them?

Fern's mother is a social climber and a former ballet dancer who lives a plush life in a London townhouse.

Fern's father only climbs if there's a bottle at the top, has an IQ of 133 and lives hand-to-mouth in Californian motels.

Aged 14, Fern has spent equal time with each of her parents. That is, until an unexpected visitor triggers a life-changing dilemma – whether she should get on a plane to London to be with her mother, or stay in California with her father. Here, Fern's narrative splices in two.

Two possible lives, one person. Each Fern will grow in wildly different, but eerily similar directions. Both must determine who they want to be – and how they deal with a thorny problem which threatens to undo them all: a murder.

Catherine Gray is a Sunday Times Bestselling author, who has over sold half a million books in English-speaking territories alone

Gray's books have been translated into ten languages and received acclaim in the likes of the New York Times, BBC Breakfast and Radio 2

'Tender, lush and electric, a wild, heartbreaking, exhilarating ride. I fell in love with Fern and think she belongs to the all-time character canon, like Dodie Smith's Cassandra or Jean Rhys's Anna. There's so much truth, vulnerability and joy in Catherine Gray's prose.'

– Daisy Buchanan, author of Insatiable and Careering

'Versions Of A Girl was that rare literary find. Catherine's writing is beautiful and I was captivated by Fern/ Flick's journeys. One of the best debuts ...' – Caroline Corcoran, bestselling author of Through the Wall

The Family Experiment

John Marrs

Read by a Full Cast

Set in the same universe as John Marrs's bestselling novel The One and The Marriage Act, The Family Experiment is a dark and twisted thriller about the ultimate 'Tamagotchi' – a virtual baby.

Some families are virtually perfect ...

The world's population is soaring, creating overcrowded cities and an economic crisis. And in the UK, breaking point has arrived. A growing number of people can no longer afford to start families let alone raise them.

But for those desperate to experience parenthood, there is an alternative. For a monthly subscription fee, clients can create a virtual child from scratch who they can access via the metaverse and a VR headset. To launch this new initiative, the company behind Virtual Children has created a reality TV show. It will follow ten couples as they raise a Virtual Child from birth to the age of 18 but in a condensed nine-month time period. The prize: the right to keep their virtual child or risk it all for the chance of a real baby ...

Before becoming a full-time writer in 2016, John Marrs was a freelance journalist interviewing celebrities from television, film and music for national publications

Marrs is the bestselling author of The Marriage Act, The One, The Passengers, The Minders, What Lies Between and The Vacation

'This – his best yet – is an unsettling and immersive roller coaster which hurtles towards a chilling denouement – a truly thought-provoking, single-sitting thriller. Loved it.'

– Ellery Lloyd, New York Times bestselling author of The Club

'Frighteningly plausible, gripping, dark, and so clever.' – Claire Douglas, bestselling author of Just Like the Other Girls

Knife River

Justine Champine

Read by Jennifer Pickens

A troubled young woman reunites with her sister in their hometown to uncover the truth about their mother's disappearance in this compelling family drama and literary suspense debut.

When Jess was 13, her mother went for a walk and never returned. Jess and her older sister, Liz, never found out what happened. Instead, they did what they hoped their mother had done – survive. As soon as she was old enough, Jess fled their small town of Knife River, wandering from girlfriend to girlfriend like a ghost in her own life, aimless in her attempts to outrun grief and confusion. But one morning, 15 years after their mother's disappearance, she gets the call she's been bracing for – her mother's remains have been found.

Jess returns to find Knife River – and her sister – frozen in time. The town is as claustrophobic and rundown as ever. Liz still lives in their childhood home and has become obsessed with unsolved missing persons cases. Jess plans to stay only until they get some answers, but their mother's bones, exposed to the elements for so long, just leave them with more questions. As Jess gets caught up in the case and falls back into an entanglement with her high school girlfriend, her understanding of the past, of Liz, of their mother, and of herself become more complicated – and the list of theories more ominous.

Justine Champine's short fiction has appeared in The Kenyon Review, Epoch and the Los Angeles Review of Books

Champine holds an MFA from Sarah Lawrence College and is a founding staff member of No Tokens Journal

'Knife River is a delicious smoke curl of a novel ...' – Jodi Picoult, #1 New York Times bestselling author

'Knife River is an intelligent literary mystery with a rich sense of place and a clever plot; but it is Champine's keenly-observed depiction of the aftermath of tragedy and the corrosive impact of loss that sets this novel apart.' – Paula Hawkins, author of Into The Water

Dead Tired

A Mother's Murder Club Mystery #2

Kat Ailes

Read by Kitty Kelly

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | July 2024

The second in a charming and hilarious mystery series by Kat Ailes, Dead Tired follows a group of new mums who didn't think their maternity leave would involve so much murder.

Alice has made the most of her maternity leave, becoming simultaneously a proud mum (well, a mum, at least) and accidental amateur sleuth. With her son, Jack, fast approaching his first birthday, she is keen to continue to keep him alive and maybe finally catch up on some sleep ... if she's lucky. When an opportunity presents itself in the unexpected form of a sit-in protest, Alice and her friends willingly chain themselves to trees and settle in for some overdue rest – not the most comfortable arrangement ever, but at this point they'll take what they can get.

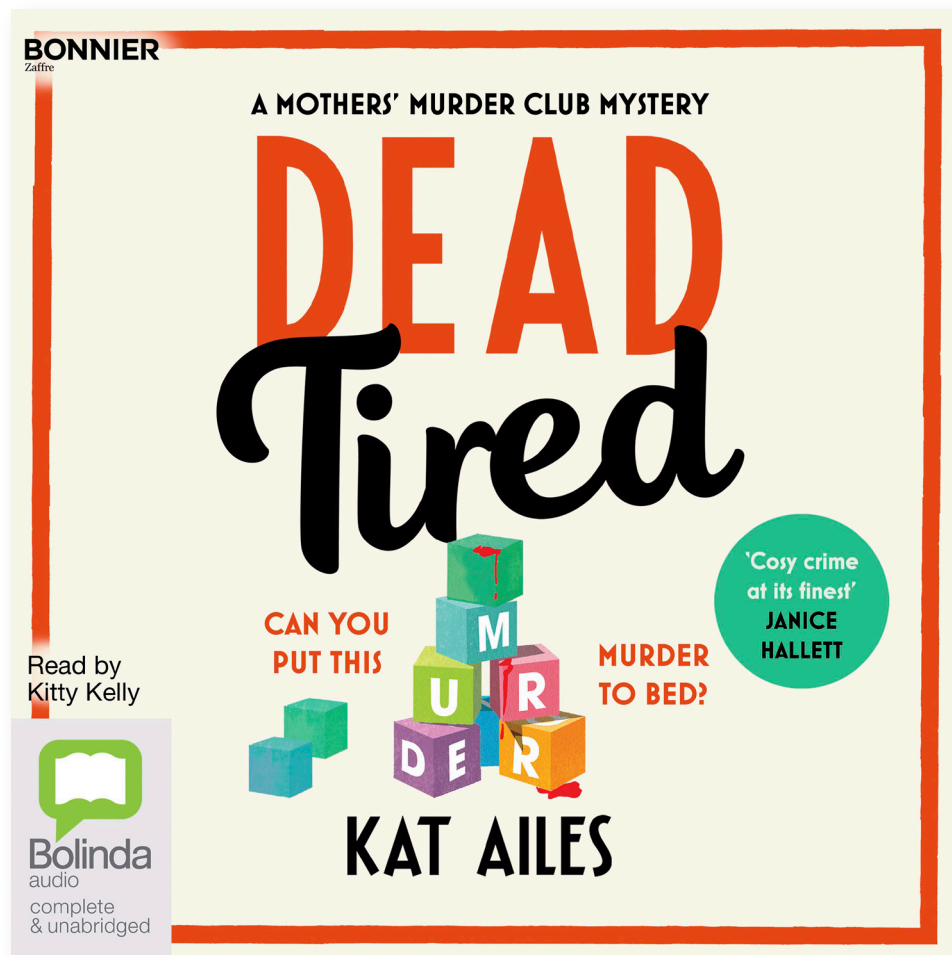

But the next morning one of their fellow protestors is found strangled and any hope of a blissful interlude is suddenly swept away on a tide of adult hysteria – a surprising, but not necessarily unwelcome, break from changing nappies and cleaning Weetabix off the dog. For Alice, whose success rate in solving countryside murder is at an all-time high (one out of one), she cannot resist the chance to demonstrate her detecting skills once more and assembles her gang of young mums to investigate this latest countryside mystery.

Kat Ailes's The Expectant Detectives was featured in the Evening Standard's Books to Watch in 2023

Ailes's debut was shortlisted for the Comedy Women in Print Unpublished Prize 2021

'Its characters and twisty plot feel absolutely real – you'll be on the edge of your seat, totally immersed in trying to work out who did it, but rest assured you're never far from a smile. Cozy crime at its finest!' – Janice Hallett, international bestselling author of The Appeal (on The Expectant Detectives)

'Perfectly plotted, brilliantly observed and just so much fun.' – Lauren Bravo, author of What Would the Spice Girls Do? (on The Expectant Detectives)

How to Be Good in a World Gone Bad

Travis Rieder

From the author of In Pain, an NPR Best Book of 2019, comes this urgent, thought-provoking answer to the question we are all secretly asking: individually, how should we act in the face of the climate emergency?

Humankind has never before faced challenges of the scale and complexity of today. In a hyper-globalised world hurtling towards environmental destruction, how do we determine the right actions? Do our individual efforts to avoid plastic or air travel, or to drive electric, make any real difference?

We need to expand our ethical toolkit. The mental tools most of us rely on to 'do the right thing' just don't work when it comes to reasoning about such huge collective problems. From the small stuff like single-use plastics to major decisions like whether to have children, Rieder defines exactly how we can change our thinking and lead a decent, meaningful life in a scary, complicated world. Here's how to build your own catastrophe ethics.

Travis Rieder is an associate research professor at the Johns Hopkins Berman Institute of Bioethics and an expert in climate change ethics

Rieder is the author of In Pain, which was named an NPR Best Book of 2019 and his TED Talk on the same topic has been viewed 2.8 million times

Rieder has written for Psychology Today and The New York Times

'Smart, splendid, and brave. A crash course in ethics from an expert philosopher that gave me hope for the future ... for anyone who cares about doing good in the world.'

– Anna Lembke, New York Times bestselling author of Dopamine Nation

'With an open mind and a firm grasp of the issues, Rieder brings the question of living a decent life into the modern era.' – Kirkus Reviews

Love, Death & Other Scenes

A Memoir

Nova Weetman

Read by the Author

Adult New Release

Autobiography | July 2024

How do we become more after losing? Beloved Australian author Nova Weetman shares her heartfelt experiences with grief and loss while also celebrating the profound beauty of love and life.

Nova Weetman's unforgettable memoir reflects on experiences of love and loss from throughout her life, including losing her beloved partner, playwright Aidan Fennessy, during the 2020 Covid lockdown; the death of her mother ten years earlier; her daughter turning 18 and finishing school; and her own physical ageing. Using these events as a lens, Weetman considers how various kinds of losses – and the complicated love they represent – change us and can become the catalysts for letting go.

This is a moving, honest account of farewelling a partner of 25 years, parenting teenagers through grief, buying property for the first time at the age of 50, watching Aidan live on through his plays and learning to appreciate spending hours alone with only the household cat for company. Warm and wise – and often joyful – Love, Death & Other Scenes ultimately focuses on the living we do after losses and what we learn from them.

Nova Weetman has written for TV and is the author of many middle grade and young adult novels, including The Secrets We Keep, which was shortlisted for the Readings Children's Book Prize, the Speech Pathology Book of the Year Awards and the ABIA Awards

'Weetman stares with composure, honesty and curiosity into the face of pain, despair and loneliness ... and what she finds is rich and complex. It's a beautiful, generous book.'

– Annabel Crabb, host of Chat 10 Looks 3 Podcast

'This book is so special. Nova Weetman writes like Helen Garner makes me feel. I was slowly but surely submerged into the world that she creates and, by the time I realised, it was too late and I was wholly inside. Love, Death & Other Scenes is a treasure.'

– Jacinta Parsons, author of A Question of Age

The Lyrebird Lake Ladies Choir

Sandie Docker

Read by Lisa Bailey

Join the journey of two sisters as they navigate past regrets and new beginnings with the Lyrebird Lake Ladies' Choir.

Sisters Eleanor and Maggie have been running the Lyrebird Lake Ladies' Choir for years. The choir means so much to the women who have found their home in the stately federation house by the lake. Eleanor decides to enter the choir in the All Voices Championship, not just for the prize money or the chance to prove how special the choir is, but also as a chance to make up for lost dreams.

When single mum Hannah moves to the Lyrebird Lake's caravan park, homeless after being widowed, she and her son have the opportunity to start over. With her angelic voice, Hannah may be just what the choir needs to give them a winning edge. But when Eleanor hears her singing a long-forgotten lullaby, Eleanor is thrust back into a past full of pain and regret.

In 1973, Eleanor and her sister Maggie are banished from their Irish village to Australia, after Maggie becomes pregnant, unwed. Starting a new life thousands of miles away is never easy, but when Eleanor is forced to make impossible decisions that alter the course of both their lives, it leaves her with memories she's not sure she can trust.

Sandie Docker is the author The Kookaburra Creek Café, The Cottage at Rosella Cove, The Banksia Bay Beach Shack, The Wattle Island Book Club and The Redgum River Retreat

Docker is also the founder and director of The Northern Beaches Readers Festival

'A Sandie Docker book is like a cup of tea and a biscuit. It's warm on the inside, snugly, sweet and lots of fun. It touches the heart and stimulates the brain.' – Happy Valley Books Read

Tell

Jonathan Buckley

Read by Emma Woods

Co-winner of the 2022 Novel Prize, Tell is an exuberant, intensely fluid and probing examination of the ways in which we make stories of our own and of other people's lives.

A tale of intense, flickering intelligence, Tell is structured as a series of interview transcripts with a woman who worked as a gardener for a wealthy businessman and art collector who has mysteriously disappeared.

The joint winner of The Novel Prize, Tell is a work of strange and intoxicating immediacy that explores money, art and industry, the intimacy and distance between social classes, and the complex fluidity of memory.

Produced with sound design for an immersive listening experience

In 2015 Jonathan Buckley won the BBC National Short Story Award for Briar Road, and he is a regular contributor to The Times Literary Supplement

Tell was the joint winner of The Novel Prize in 2022

'A discerning study of the boundaries of storytelling [and] a riveting thriller that sweeps you in from the off ... Buckley's prose is unpretentious and engrossing, weaving in a constant sense of foreboding that proves irresistible.' – AnOther Magazine

'This self-reflexivity results in a thought-provoking, artfully constructed narrative enriched by the mysteries that expand and proliferate throughout. It's a deliciously fraught tour de force.' – Publishers Weekly

Tess

Outback Brides of Wirralong #2

Victoria Purman

Read by Jennifer Vuletic

Adult New Release

Romance | July 2024

Can a town known for 'I do' change a woman's 'I don't'? Find out what happens in this glamorous romance from USA Today bestselling author Victoria Purman.

Up and coming American winemaker Tess Harrison is temporarily working at an Australian vineyard where her family now has a financial stake. She's excited to make her mark away from her dominant family and the outback's premier organic winery seems like the perfect training ground. One problem: no one told her the small town Wirralong was a premier wedding destination. When a new hire upends Tess's careful plans for her life and her career, she finds herself reluctantly rethinking her dislike for the M word.

Tall, dark and rugged-looking Australian Connor Hawker has just been hired as the new Irrigation Manager at an organic vineyard. This new job was meant to be a fresh start, far away from South Australia and the small church where he was dumped at the altar by his French fiancée. He wants nothing more than to be laser-focused on his new job, except he finds himself distracted by the talented, cheerful and ambitious blonde winemaker from California. Soon their no-strings fling becomes far more complicated, and Connor wonders if another woman – with life plans across an ocean – will again leave him alone.

Victoria Purman is an Australian top ten and USA Today bestselling fiction author. Her titles include The Nurses' War, The Women's Pages, The Land Girls, The Three Miss Allens and The Last of the Bonegilla Girls

Purman is a regular guest at writers festivals, a mentor and workshop presenter and was a judge in the fiction category for the 2018 Adelaide Festival Awards for Literature

'Heart-achingly raw yet filled with the beauty of the human spirit ... a triumph that will linger in the heart and psyche.' – Karen Brooks, author of The Good Wife of Bath (on The Nurses' War)

'Brilliant, funny, visceral – and real.'

Inga Simpson
author of *Understory:
a life with trees*

Breath is a stunningly frank and darkly funny memoir about living, dying and trying to breathe.

I am dying. I know that I'm dying, despite not having been told by my doctors that I am dying. I know I am dying because I'm in the dying room.

Carly-Jay Metcalfe was born with cystic fibrosis, survived a double-lung transplant at the age of 21 and faced a rare cancer at the age of 30. What she has endured should have killed her, but her humour, courage and optimism became her best survival skills.

From her hospitalised childhood to her many friendships, loves and losses, Metcalfe shares the fickle nature of life with candour and warmth. She writes with compelling insight about organ donation, opioid addiction and survivor's guilt, while still managing to find joy amongst the wreckage.

Carly-Jay Metcalfe is a Queensland-based writer, whose work has been published in Kill Your Darlings, The Guardian and TEXT Journal

Metcalfe is passionate advocate for organ donation after becoming a double lung transplant recipient in 1998 due to cystic fibrosis

Metcalfe was a contributor to the anthology, Growing Up Disabled in Australia

'Brilliant, funny, visceral – and real. Those who live close to death really know what it is to be alive. Breath is more than memoir; it's a conversation we should all be having.' – Inga Simpson, author of Understory: A Life With Trees

'The only thing more remarkable than Carly-Jay Metcalfe's story, is the way she tells it. Breath captures the privileges and pains of living in our transitory bodies. The absurdities. The cruelties. The bone-deep joys.' – Beejay Silcox, Canberra-based writer and critic

Life & Crimes

Andrew Rule

Read by Peter Houghton

Journalist Andrew Rule distils decades of intel and research into a fast-paced tour de force detailing some of the most notorious crimes in Australian history.

Journalist and podcaster Andrew Rule brings us 18 Australian crime stories that have fuelled fears, fired outrage and broken hearts and dreams. Among them are events so infamous that a word or phrase propels us back to a time and place.

The disappearance of the Beaumont children from an Adelaide beach in the '60s lingers in the nation's collective memory. The Easey Street murders symbolise a chilling assault on the freedom of young women in the '70s. The execution-style shooting of Gary Abdallah by a detective in the '80s heightened suspicions about the twinned worlds of cops and criminals.

The author has covered crime for decades with a novelist's eye and forensic attention to truth, and lived to tell the tales. These are the best of them.

Andrew Rule has been telling true stories for more than 45 years. He started as a reporter in a Victorian country newspaper in the 1970s and went on to work for some of Australia's biggest news publications

Rule's podcast of the same name achieves between 80 to 100 thousand downloads per episode

Rule has won several awards, including the Gold Quills, Gold Walkley and the Australian Journalist of the Year, and has written, co-written and edited many books

'Rule is a brilliant story teller ... His prose is tight, punchy and colourful. The energy of the narrative is overwhelming.' – The Footy Almanac (on Chance)

Outrider

Mark Wales

Read by Paul F. Verhoeven

Explosive and exhilarating, Outrider is a heartfelt father-and-son story of survival, resistance and hope, from bestselling author and veteran Mark Wales.

Jack Dunne will do anything to save his son.

In the wake of a global conflict, foreign forces occupy part of Australia, quashing all but a few pockets of local resistance. The tense stalemate ends in 2034, when Jack Dunne reignites the war. Dunne is an Outrider, one of the last elite special operations soldiers in the Resistance. As the enemy prepare to eliminate the freedom fighters once and for all, he is tasked with his final mission.

If Dunne and his 11-year-old son achieve the impossible, and survive, they'll secure their future across the border in Free Australia. But the road to victory will be bloody.

While still in high school, Mark Wales decided he wanted to join Australia's elite military unit and embarked on a career that would eventually lead him to the battlefields of Afghanistan.

Wales is the author of Survivor: Life in the SAS, which was longlisted for the Margaret and Colin Roderick Literary Award 2022.

Today, Wales is an accomplished corporate speaker, reality TV star, as well as the CEO and founder of a tough luxury fashion label.

The Girl with the Violin

Shelley Davidow

Read by the Author

A powerful love story in which one woman's quest for identity and healing also becomes the single way she can honour her grandparents, whose lives were irreversibly shattered by the Holocaust.

It's 1989 and for a young Jewish-Australian violinist, a scholarship to Berlin is the chance of a lifetime. Germany is on the verge of change as the wall is torn down, and Susanna is swept along by the tumultuous event. Under the careful guidance of Stefan Heinemeyer, her renowned violin teacher and the grandson of a Nazi, she begins a composition in memory of her grandmother, Mirla, who died in the Buchenwald concentration camp during the Second World War, and Susanna is inspired to retrace Mirla's final footsteps.

It's a journey that reconnects Susanna to her heritage and propels her musical gift to extraordinary heights. Yet as a forbidden yearning for Stefan begins to unfurl, Susanna's life is forever changed, and the repercussions will echo through decades and across continents.

In a world where history, society and inherited traumas threaten to silence Susanna and prevent her from ever becoming her true self, can she find the courage to reclaim her power as a woman, a musician and a composer, and in so doing, lay her haunted past to rest?

Perfect for fans of Anna Funder and Megan Rogers

Shelley Davidow is the author of 50 books including High Infidelity, To Have and to Hold, Runaways, Shadow Sisters, Whisperings in the Blood, Raising Stress-Proof Kids and The Eye of the Moon

The Paramedic Mindset

Leigh Anderson

Read by the Author

The Paramedic Mindset by Leigh Anderson is an audiobook about learning how to perform in high-stress, high-consequence environments.

Why do some people flourish in high-stress situations, while others feel overwhelmed or discouraged? How do some remain calm under pressure, where others succumb to stress?

The difference is in mindset. When you have the skills and knowledge to stay in control, regulate your emotions and manage your reactions even the most difficult circumstances become opportunities to excel, thrive and grow. But this quality – also known as poise – is not innate. It comes from preparation and practise.

As an experienced paramedic, Leigh Anderson has learned how to maintain poise in life-and-death situations, and he has developed a science-based, systematic framework to help others develop the necessary psychological skills.

In this audiobook, Anderson shares true stories from his career and explores the latest scientific research on mindset, stress and resilience. The result is an arsenal of clear, effective and actionable tools that will boost your ability to perform under pressure.

Leigh Anderson is an accomplished paramedic, working in the industry for over 14 years with a keen desire to improve the wellbeing of the human experience to stress – setting people up to flourish

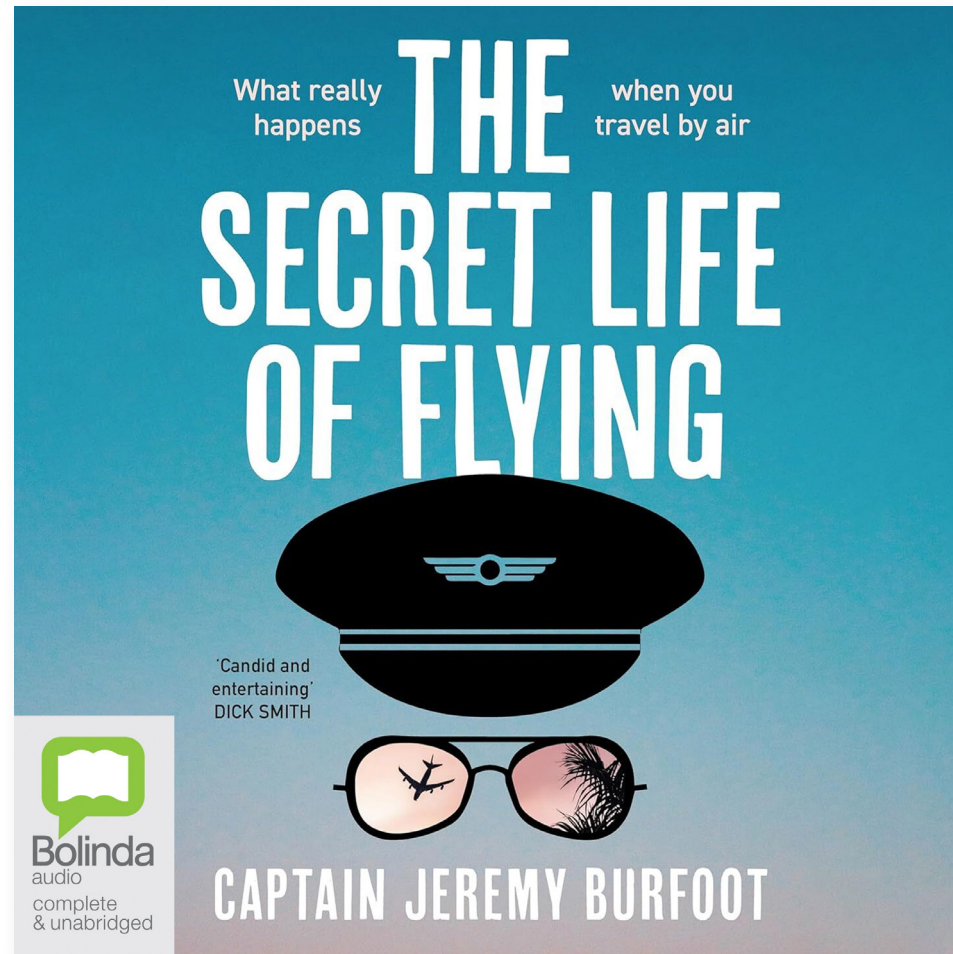

In a career covering deployments with the Special Response Team, Executive Manager of Operations, Senior Operations Supervisor and Advanced Care Paramedic, Anderson has built a long-lasting experience to life as a paramedic

Anderson has taught at the university level as a guest tutor and consistently donates his time to volunteer organisations such as Volunteer Marine Rescue and Surf Life Saving

The Secret Life of Flying

Jeremy Burfoot

Read by the Author

Get ready to take off into the fascinating world of aviation with this candid, hilarious and informative memoir from Captain Jeremy Burfoot.

How does a plane stay up in the air? Does the Mile High Club actually exist? When you flush the toilet, where does it all go?

Buckle up for some turbulence because nothing flies under the radar for Captain Jeremy Burfoot.

With more than 35 years of airline experience, the former Qantas pilot presents an Airbus-load of stories about unruly passengers and cockpit clashes, and expertly navigates the bizarre myths surrounding everyday air travel. He explains important details like why plane wings actually bend, which in-flight surfaces carry the most germs and how to make plane food taste better.

Jam-packed with hilarity, horror stories and honest insights, The Secret Life of Flying is part memoir and part guide to the skies – a razor-sharp and First Class listen for anyone who has ever wondered who's really flying the plane ...

Jeremy Burfoot is a semi-retired airline pilot living in Auckland, New Zealand

Burfoot started as a New Zealand Airforce navigator and then flew light aircraft in New Guinea for a few years. He then flew for Qantas for 37 years and was an Airbus A380 Captain on retirement

Burfoot is the author The Wrong Way Down, The Ride Around New Zealand, Flight of Fate and Kiwis Can Fly

To Sing of War

Catherine McKinnon

Read by Annabelle Tudor

From the author of the Miles Franklin Award–shortlisted Storyland comes a rich, layered and thrilling story of love, war and friendship, perfect for fans of Anthony Doerr, Fiona McFarlane and Barbara Kingsolver.

December 1944. In New Guinea, a young Australian nurse, Lotte Wyld, chances upon her first love, Virgil Nicholson, a soldier in the Allies' hard-fought jungle campaign. At Los Alamos in the United States, idealistic physicists Miriam Carver and Fred Johnson join Robert Oppenheimer and a team of brilliant scientists in a collective dream to build a weapon that will stop all war, while Kitty Oppenheimer wrestles with restrictions on her freedom. And on the sacred island of Miyajima in Japan, Hiroko Narushima is doing her best to protect her family.

Each of these people yearns to belong, yet each fiercely protects their independence. Secrets, misunderstandings and fears burden them; shame shapes them; hope and imagination lift them up. They are caught in a moment of history, both enthralled and appalled by actions they must undertake. A beautiful, rich and intricately woven novel that asks how one person can make a difference in a world that is wondrous, thrilling and endangered.

Catherine McKinnon is the author of Storyland, which was shortlisted for the 2018 Miles Franklin Literary Award, the Barbara Jefferis Award and was named one of ABC TV's The Book Club's Five of the Best in 2017

McKinnon's short stories, reviews and essays have appeared in TEXT Journal, Griffith Review, Meanjin, Narrative, Sydney Review of Books, Island, Sydney Morning Herald, RealTime and Transnational Literature

'Breathtaking ... simply stunning.' – The Herald Sun (on Storyland)

'A worthy contender for the Great Australian Novel – encompassing, ambitious.'

A LANGUAGE OF LIMBS

HARDCASTLE

Bolinda
audio
complete
& unabridged

Delve into the intimate journey of two women as their lives intertwine through love, loss and self-discovery in A Language of Limbs by award-winning author Dylin Hardcastle, where poetry unveils truths.

On a quiet night in 1972, two teenage girls each make a choice. One girl is caught kissing her best friend (also a girl) in her garden shed and is kicked out of home by her father. The other girl wakes from a sex dream she's had about her best friend (also a girl) who is sleeping over and decides to swallow it and all her messy feelings.

Over the following three decades, these two unnamed women almost intersect in pivotal moments, the physical distance between them at times drawing so thin that their bodies almost collide. One woman is living an openly queer life; one is trying desperately not to. Against the backdrop of milestones including Australia's first Mardi Gras and the AIDS pandemic, we see grief and joy live side by side until these characters finally come together.

A Language of Limbs is about love and how it's policed, friendship and how it transcends, and hilarity in the face of heartbreak – the jokes you tell as you're dying and the ways laughing at a funeral softens the edges of our grief.

A Language of Limbs won the 2023 Kathleen Mitchell Literary Award, presented by the Australia Council for the Arts

Dylin Hardcastle is the author of Below Deck, Breathing Under Water and Running Like China

Hardcastle is also the co-creator, co-writer and co-director of Cloudy River, which was made with completion funding from Queer Screen, and principal funding from Screen Australia

A Woman in Your Own Right

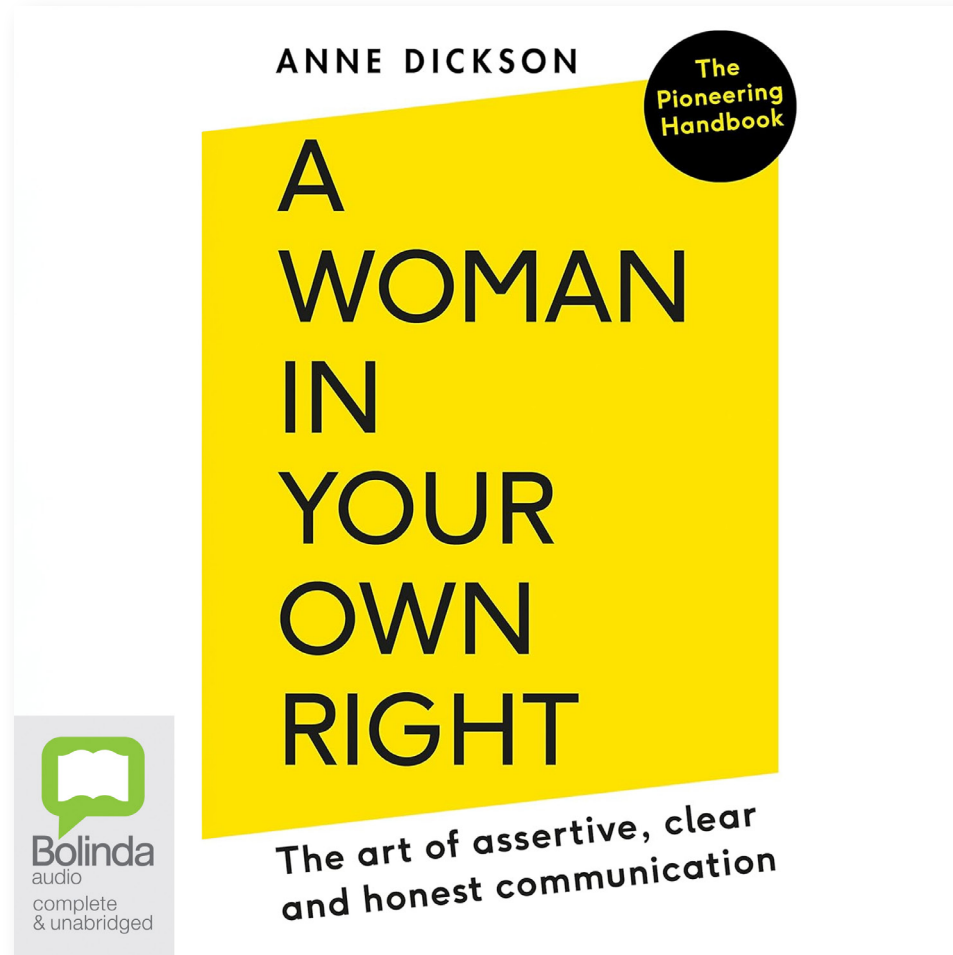

The Art of Assertive, Clear and Honest Communication

Anne Dickson

Read by Karen Cass

Adult New Release

Lifestyle – Wellbeing | July 2024

A fully updated 40th anniversary edition of the pioneering handbook for female assertiveness – an indispensable guide to stating what you feel and want.

Despite recent advances in gender equality in education, the workplace and the home, in practice many women and girls still find it a challenge to speak up and be heard. Assertiveness – defined by psychologist and assertiveness trainer Anne Dickson as clear, honest and direct communication – is an art that can be learned. Instead of being governed by the desire to please – the Compassion Trap – assertiveness teaches us to manage our feelings without blaming others.

In her pioneering audiobook, now fully updated to mark its 40th anniversary, Dickson draws on her long experience of in-person training to give all women the tools we need to assert what we feel and want, manage difficult conversations, avoid being sidetracked by culturally learned behaviours, say 'No' and find self-acceptance.

Offering game-changing insights and strategies around work, home life, parenting, sex and relationships and navigating online spaces, A Woman In Your Own Right has sold over one million copies since first publication and has been translated into 12 languages

Anne Dickson has worked as a freelance psychologist, writer and trainer for many years and is recognised as a leading authority on women's development, assertiveness training and interactive communication

Dickson is the author of several titles, including The Mirror Within and Difficult Conversations

'The classic assertiveness bible.' – The Guardian

The Devil You Know

Josephine Cox

Read by Sherry Baines

The Devil You Know is a turbulent and emotional saga of a woman who must outface danger to find the happiness she craves, from bestselling author Josephine Cox.

Sonny Fareham's lover – and also her boss – is the charismatic Tony Bridgeman, a successful and ruthless man who usually gets what he wants. But for Sonny, the affair that has promised a future of hope and happiness must end in desperate fear. Late one evening, Sonny overhears a private conversation between Tony Bridgeman and his wife. Only then does she realise she is in great danger.

Pregnant and afraid, Sonny flees her home to make a new life in the north of England, where she meets a gregarious and motherly new friend, Ellie Kenny. When the mysterious and handsome David Langham seems drawn to her, Sonny almost dares to believe that she could be happy again. But never far away is the one person who wants to destroy everything that she now holds dear ...

Perfect for fans of Lyn Andrews and Dilly Court

Josephine Cox was an English author. Her books were frequently bestsellers and the UK Public Lending Rights figures often listed her in the top three borrowed authors

The author of more than 60 titles, written over a career which spanned three decades, Cox sold over 20 million copies of her family sagas, which combined romance and tragedy to dramatic, bestselling effect

The Restaurant

Roisin Meaney

Read by Shelley Atkinson

Is a second chance at love on the menu? Find out in this sparkling new romantic story from the bestselling Irish author Roisin Meaney.

When Chef Emily is left at the altar in front of her family and friends, she swears off love and instead throws herself into her new business: a restaurant with a difference. There's only one communal table, designed with the single diner in mind.

Now it's two years later, and with her business thriving with regular customers, romance is still the last thing on Emily's mind – until she receives a letter from her ex who is returning home from Canada with a burning question for her ...

Will Emily give up her business for the life she used to want, or will she realise that happiness might be on the menu a little closer to home?

Roisin Meaney is the number one bestselling author who is now based in Limerick, Ireland

Meaney is the author of several novels including three standalone novels set on a fictional island off the west coast of Ireland: One Summer, After the Wedding and I'll Be Home for Christmas

Neighbours at War

Deborah Carr

Read by Kirsty Besterman

When everything is at stake, how far would you go to save your neighbour? A compelling historical fiction from USA Today bestselling author Deborah Carr.

When German forces invade the Channel Islands and the citizens of Jersey are cut off from the rest of the UK, the islands' residents bond together to resist the enemy.

East London native Helen Bowman was never meant to be here, but when she found herself alone and pregnant, her beloved aunt's home in Jersey was the only place she could go. But now, as the enemy start rounding up anyone not born on the island to be sent to a camp on the continent, Helen is forced to rely on the kindness of strangers, like her new friend Peggy Hamel, to keep herself and her son hidden.

But as the Nazis' net closes in, it's soon more than just detection that is at stake for Helen and Peggy – it's their very lives ...

Deborah Carr is the author of Broken Faces, which was a runner-up in the 2012 Good Housekeeping Novel Writing Competition and received a special commendation in the Harry Bowling Prize

Escape to the French Chateau

Rachel Barnett

Read by Rosie Jones & James Meunier

A brand-new contemporary summer romance from author Rachel Barnett, set in the French countryside.

Between getting over a bad breakup and losing her mum, Fran is ready to put the past year behind her. So when she's offered the chance to tour the world's finest hotels as a secret shopper, she can't pack her bags fast enough.

Arriving at her next destination in the Loire Valley, an unexpected mix-up suddenly sees Fran becoming the newest employee of Chateau les Champs d'Or. Fran isn't afraid to get stuck in, but running into handsome guest, Johnny, was never part of the plan.

There to do a job, she knows she should keep her distance from him – especially when Johnny's nursing his own heartache. But despite her best efforts, he somehow manages to come to her rescue at every turn, making it harder to resist his company.

Under the glistening French sun, Fran starts to discover just who the real Johnny is behind that gruff exterior, a man she's already losing her heart to. The problem is, she's set to leave in a week, and he's been badly burned by love before. Will Fran risk it all for a shot at happily ever after, or will their time together forever remain a holiday romance.

Rachel Barnett is the author of heartwarming novels, A Summer on the Riviera and Starlight at Snow Pine Lodge

The German Daughter

Marius Gabriel

Narrator to Come

The brand new absolutely gripping and heartbreaking World War II historical novel from master storyteller Marius Gabriel.

Norway, 1940. Liv has lived a quiet life on her family farm, dreaming of a happy life after the war is finally over. But all of her dreams vanish when the Nazi soldiers arrive in her village and a senior officer sees something special in her ... something that Hitler and the high command in Berlin is desperate to have at any cost.

England, 1968. Agnes, although made orphan from the war, has grown up happy in the quiet wealth of the English countryside, raised by her adoring grandfather to be a perfect lady. But when he suddenly dies, she unveils a secret that changes everything. Agnes is not who she thought she was – and she is not safe.

Nothing will ever be the same – but should she pursue a deep-buried wartime secret and put herself, and others, in danger? Or forget what she has learned and continue living a lie?

Marius Gabriel is the author of several historical titles, including the bestsellers The Seventh Moon, The Original Sin and the Redcliffe Sisters series, Wish Me Luck as You Wave Me Goodbye, Take Me to Your Heart Again and The Designer

Gabriel's title, The Designer, won the Romantic Novelists Association Prize for Historical Romance

Summer Fridays

Suzanne Rindell

Narrator to Come

You've Got Mail for a new generation, about a freshly engaged editorial assistant who winds up spending her 'summer Fridays' with the person she least expects.

Summer 1999. Twentysomething Sawyer is striving to make it in New York. Between her assistant job in publishing, her secret dreams of becoming a writer, and her upcoming wedding to her college boyfriend, her plate is full. Only one problem: she is facing an incredibly lonely summer as her fiancé has been spending longer and longer hours at work ... with an all-too-close female colleague, Kendra.

When Kendra's boyfriend, Nick, invites Sawyer to meet up and compare notes about their suspicions, the meeting goes awry. She finds Nick cocky and cynical, and he finds her stuck in her own head. But then Nick seeks out Sawyer online to apologise, and a friendship develops.

Soon, Sawyer's lonely summer takes an unexpected turn. She and Nick begin an unofficial ritual – exploring New York City together every summer Friday. Sawyer feels seen by Nick in a way that surprises her. He pushes her to be braver. Meanwhile, Sawyer draws Nick out of his hard shell, revealing a surprisingly vulnerable side. They both begin living for their Friday afternoons together.

But what happens when the summer is over?

Suzanne Rindell is the author of The Other Typist, which has been translated into 20 languages, Three-Martini Lunch, Eagle & Crane and The Two Mrs. Carlyles

The Other Typist was optioned for TV by Fox Searchlight Pictures, Keira Knightley and Hulu

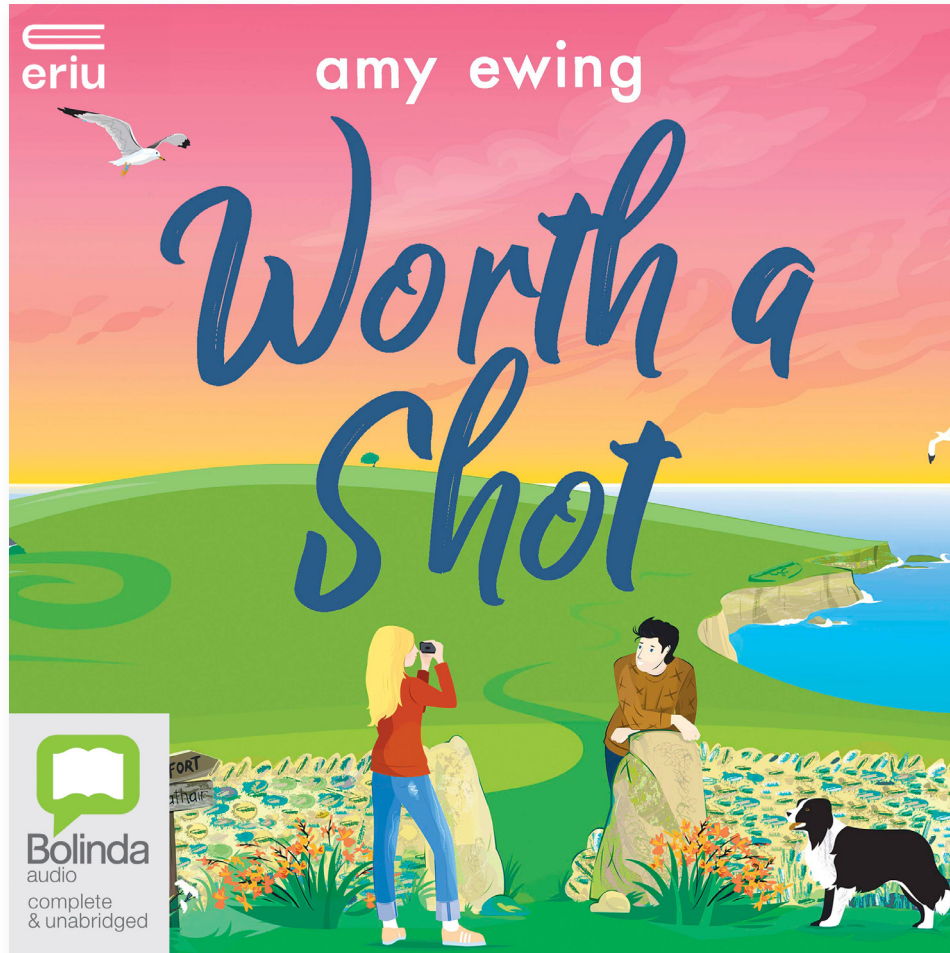

'With the wit and depth of all the best Nora Ephron movies, this love story is not to be missed.' – Jill Santopolo, New York Times bestselling author of The Light We Lost

Worth a Shot

Amy Ewing

Narrator to Come

A wildly romantic story on a wild island with the promise of hope, redemption and self-discovery at its core.

Cordelia James was once at the top of her game – a renowned street photographer with a massive social media following, gallery showings in Chelsea, and a lucrative book deal. But after the sudden death of her father, everything changed. Now, Cordelia can barely force herself to leave her apartment. That is, until she sees an ad for a summer gig at a cosy cottage on Ireland's picturesque Inishmore island. Rent-free, plus a small stipend if willing to do some menial housework and look after an elderly neighbour. Cordelia is on a plane before she can talk herself out of it.

But practically the moment she steps off the boat, she crashes-literally-into Niall O'Connor, a grumpy local who's just returned home to Inishmore from Dublin. Cordelia's camera breaks, and Niall doesn't give a horse's arse about it. He's nursing a broken heart and trying to patch up a broken life, and he has no time for posh American tourists or their thousand-dollar hobbies. The more Cordelia's and Niall's paths cross, the more they make each other's lives hell.

But as with all rivalries, their hatred is about to reach a tipping point-and it's going to heat up their cool coastal nights.

Amy Ewing holds an MFA in Creative Writing from The New School, and her young adult fantasy novel The Jewel became a New York Times and international bestseller

Ewing is the author of The Lone City trilogy and The Cerulean duology

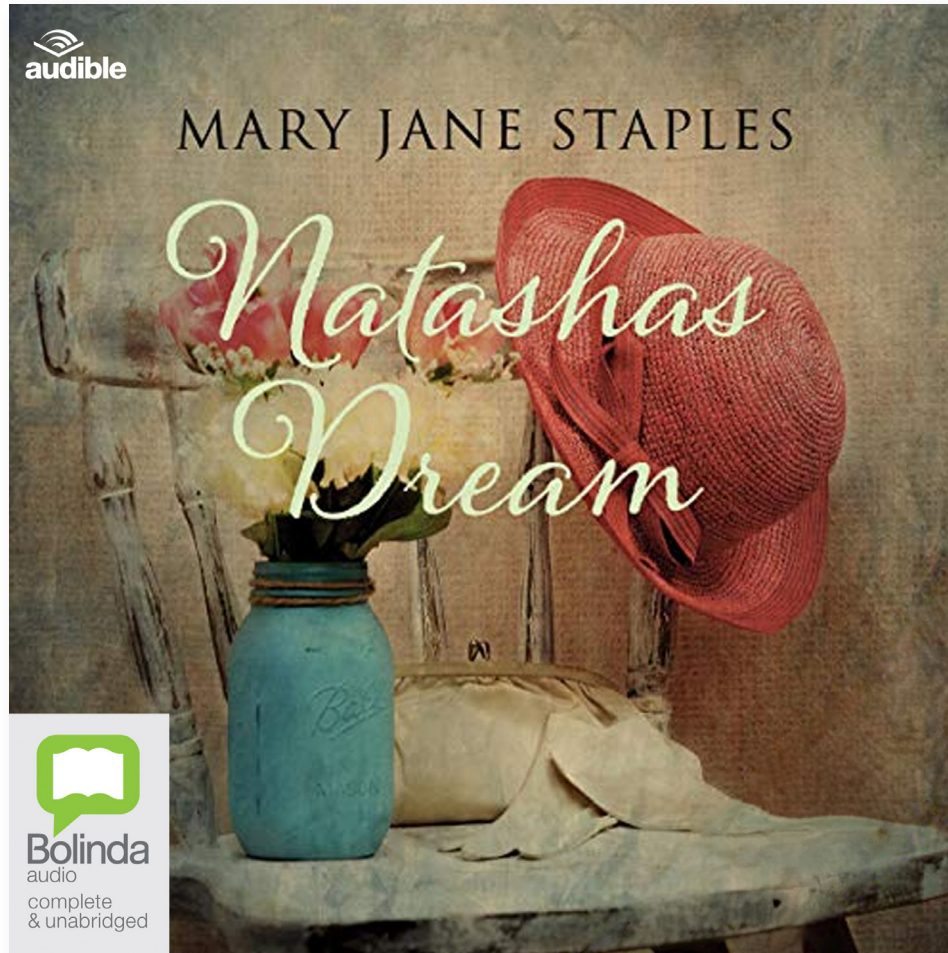

'A charming and fun read that will have you pining for a summer on a misty Irish island' – Georgie Tilney, author of Beach Rivals

'Ewing checks all the boxes for a steamy Irish summer holiday escape' – Abby Jimenez, New York Times bestselling author of Life's Too Short

This Much is True

Miriam Margolyes

Read by the Author

From Blackadder to Call the Midwife, from PG Tips to Harry Potter, Miriam Margolyes is Britain's favourite national treasure – this is (at last) her extraordinary life story and it's well worth the wait.

BAFTA-winning actor, voice of everything from Monkey to the Cadbury's Caramel Rabbit, creator of a myriad of unforgettable characters from Lady Whiteadder to Professor Sprout, Miriam Margolyes, OBE, is the nation's favourite (and naughtiest) treasure. Now, at the age of 80, she has finally decided to tell her extraordinary life story – and it's well worth the wait.

Find out how being conceived in an air-raid gave her curly hair; what pranks led to her being known as the naughtiest girl Oxford High School ever had; how she ended up posing nude for Augustus John as a teenager; why Bob Monkhouse was the best (male) kiss she's ever had; and what happened next after Warren Beatty asked 'Do you fuck?'

From declaring her love to Vanessa Redgrave to being told to be quiet by the Queen, this audiobook is packed with brilliant, hilarious stories. With a cast list stretching from Scorsese to Streisand, a cross-dressing Leonardo di Caprio to Isaiah Berlin, This Much Is True is as warm and honest, as full of life and surprises, as its inimitable author.

Miriam Margolyes is an award-winning veteran of the stage and screen, and an internationally acclaimed voice artist and documentarian

Margolyes received an OBE in 2002 for Services to Drama

'There's never been a memoir so packed with eye-popping, hilarious and shockingly candid stories.' – Daily Mail

'Gleefully outspoken and bursting with hilarious anecdotes, gloriously larger than life. I pity every person that is not me right now, drinking in the glory of Margolyes at 80.'
– Observer

A Hamish Macbeth Murder Mystery #31

M.C. Beaton

Read by David Monteath

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | July 2024

M.C. Beaton's New York Times bestselling Hamish Macbeth series continues with a new mystery featuring Scotland's most quick-witted but unambitious policeman.

James Harrison has recently moved to a restored hunting lodge in Sutherland with his gorgeous private nurse, Gloria Dainty. When Hamish visits Mr Harrison to welcome him to the neighbourhood, the old man treats him very rudely. Gloria apologises for her employer's behaviour, and Hamish takes the plunge and invites her out for dinner.

On the appointed evening, Hamish waits for Gloria at the restaurant. And waits. But Gloria never shows up.

Four days later Gloria's body washes up on the beach near Braikie. She's been strangled. Now, without a date and without his former policeman, Dick Fraser – who left the force to buy a bakery – Hamish must find out who killed the beautiful new resident of Sutherland and why before the murderer strikes again ...

M.C. Beaton is the author of the New York Times and USA Today bestselling Agatha Raisin series – the basis for the hit show on Acorn TV and public television

Beaton's titles have been translated into 17 languages and have sold more than 22 million copies worldwide

M.C. Beaton

Charlotte Anne Dore

Adult New Release

Romance | July 2024

The bestselling author's Regency series returns with the story of Deirdre, whose scandalous elopement shocks the Armitage family – and her fiancé.

What clever woman would want a man like Lord Harry Desire? Why, he was clearly a lummock – languid, vain and bland. Not even his beautiful face could redeem him. But he stood to inherit a vast fortune, and that was good enough for Deirdre's father, a spendthrift vicar who arranged the match to rescue himself from imminent financial collapse.

Leave it to Deirdre to contrive an escape, a quick elopement with her one true love, the dashing Guy Wentwater. But Wentwater's love proved none too true, and Deirdre found herself in a humiliating pickle. Not even Lord Harry would marry her now.

But Harry had more tricks up his tailored sleeve than Deirdre ever imagined. And soon she pined only for the marriage thrown away, and for a man whose arms had grown suddenly irresistible.

M.C. Beaton is the author of the New York Times and USA Today bestselling Agatha Raisin series – the basis for the hit show on Acorn TV and public television

My Life and Other Failed Experiments

Tom Weekly #6

Tristan Bancks

Read by Stig Wemyss

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | July 2024

Australia's favourite kid, Tom Weekly, is back with a new audiobook of all disastrous, all preposterous and definitely all hilarious adventures.

Discover what happens when you mix one kid with nine attack possums. Observe the result of a guinea pig hostage situation. Learn from my get-rich-quick scheme to put Australia's angriest ice-cream man out of business. Get ready to judge the world's deadliest fruitcake competition. And if I survive it all, let's call the experiment a success.

More handy stuff inside:

1. Tips on avoiding household chores
2. Weird facts about guinea pigs
3. How to eat a car

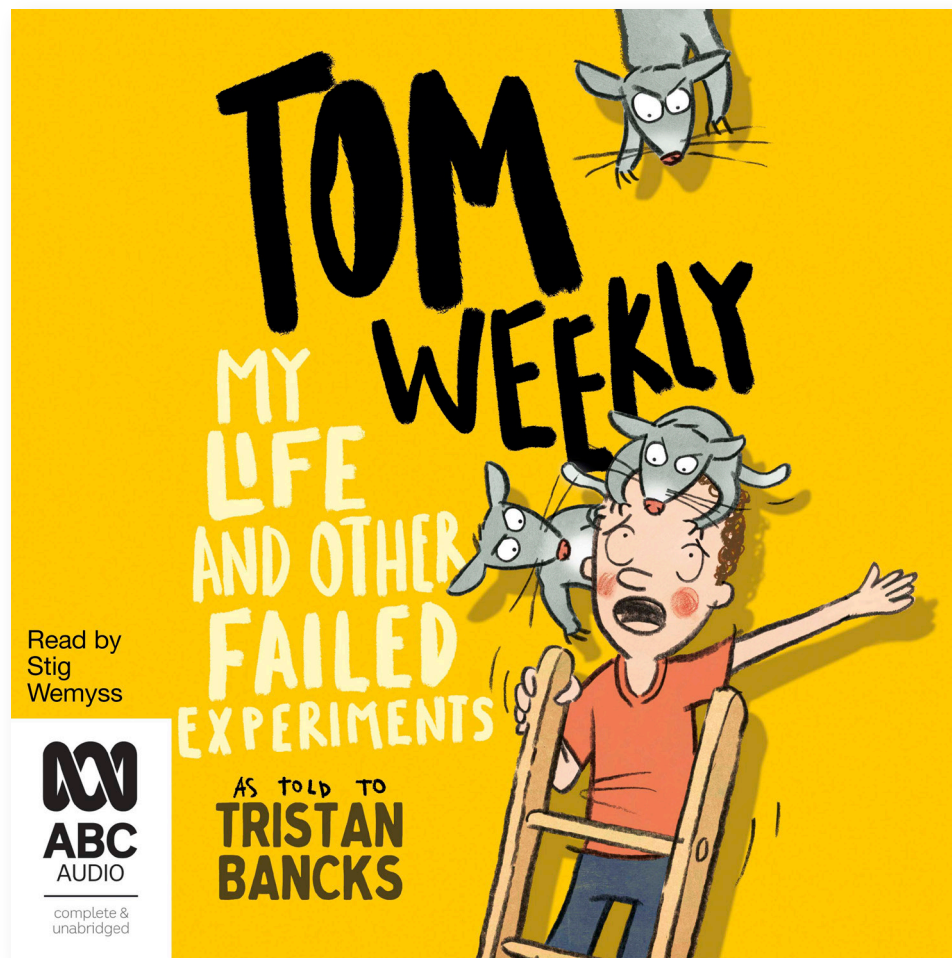

Produced with sound design and music for an immersive listening experience

Tristan Bancks is the author of Two Wolves, The Fall, Detention, Cop & Robber and Ginger Meggs, and is an author-advocate for literacy non-profit Room to Read

Bancks's titles have won and been shortlisted for many awards, including a Children's Book Council of Australia Honour Book, the Prime Minister's Literary Awards and the YABBA children's choice book awards

'Bancks dishes up ten easily digested stories – ranging from a hostage situation involving a guinea pig to the improvised Buttfresh spray for those inopportune 'trouser coughs' – each served with a healthy serve of gross-out humour, useful tips and life lessons from the wise, wacky and wonderful Tom.' – Reading Time

'Fans of Griffiths, Gleitzman and Jennings will be thrilled to have this in their collection. Author Bancks doesn't skip a beat as he writes from his character Tom's perspective.' – Kids Book Review (on My Life and Other Stuff I Made Up)

Ming and Ada Spark the Digital Age

The Girls Who Changed the World #4

Jackie French

Read by Edwina Wren

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | July 2024

The fourth in the bestselling historical series that places girls centre stage, from award-winning author Jackie French.

Ming Qong is convinced that girls have changed the world throughout history.

History's sister, the mysterious Herstory, believes that the more you know about the past, the better you can understand the future. And so she now sends Ming back in time to work as a maid in an isolated English mansion to see a girl change the world in 1829.

But which girl? The young mistress of the house is lying in bed blind and immobile, recovering from the measles. Abandoned by her aristocratic mother and the rest of her family, she may never walk – or even read and write – again.

Ming becomes friends with another scullery maid, Hepzibah, who is desperately teaching herself to read, and who longs to free slaves, as she and her parents had been. But what hope has a scullery maid?

Jackie French AM is an award-winning author, the 2014–2015 Australian Children's Laureate and the 2015 Senior Australian of the Year

In 2016, French became a member of the Order of Australia for her contribution to children's literature and her advocacy for youth literacy

'French writes in such an enjoyable, humorous style. Ming is a wonderful protagonist, whose journey to discover the girls who changed history is sure to take her to some fascinating places.' – Better Reading (on Ming and Flo Fight for the Future)

'This fast-paced book calls to young people to be world changers.' – Reading Time (on Ming and Marie Spy for Freedom)

The Boy with the Biggest Head in the World

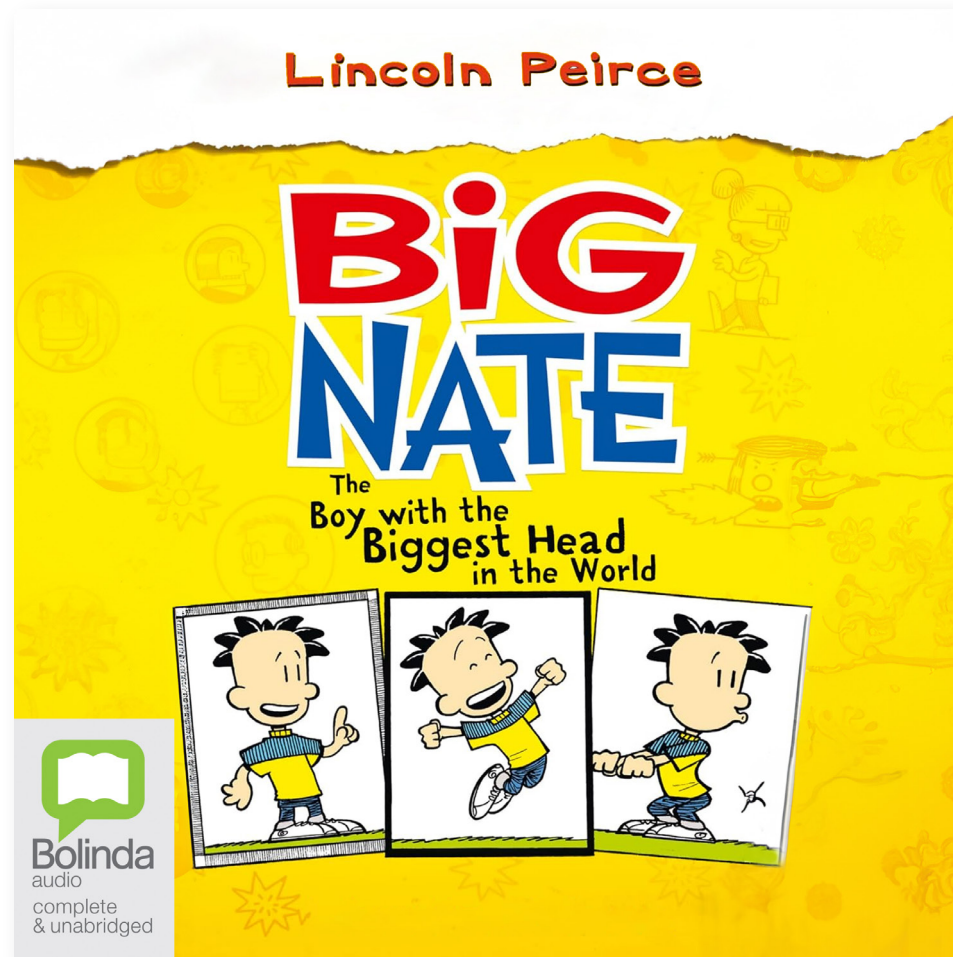

Big Nate #1

Lincoln Peirce

Read by Ciaran Saward

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | July 2024

Meet classic comic-strip character Big Nate – The Boy with the Biggest Head in the World – as he stars in his own super-funny series.

Big-head Nate Wright truly believes he is destined for greatness! He's a table tennis champ, a genius comic book artist and the self-proclaimed king of his class.

One school morning, Nate barely survives his dad's toxic porridge before rushing off to school, forgetting his lunch. He thinks he has a test and he hasn't studied for it! Nate's class notes are full of doodles but sadly lack any useful information! On the way to school, he accidentally body-slams his head teacher, and then, during his first lesson of the day, he manages to insult his least favourite teacher, Mrs Godfrey (aka Godzilla). But a little thing like having-the-worst-day-ever won't hold back The Boy with the Biggest Head in the World!

Produced with sound design and music for an immersive listening experience

Lincoln Peirce is a New York Times bestselling author and cartoonist. His comic strip Big Nate debuted in 1991 and appears daily in more than 400 newspapers worldwide and online at www.gocomics.com/bignate

Peirce's Big Nate comic strips inspired Jeff Kinney, author of Diary of a Wimpy Kid

'Lincoln Peirce is one of my cartooning heroes, and Big Nate ranks as a comics classic. Year in and year out, Big Nate is among the best comics on the funny page.' – Jeff Kinney, author of Diary of a Wimpy Kid

'The jokes were very good and some of the situations Nate got into made me laugh as well ... I'm glad it was published and it reminded me of Diary of a Wimpy Kid.' – The Guardian

Mirabelle and the Midnight Feast & Mirabelle and the Picnic Pranks

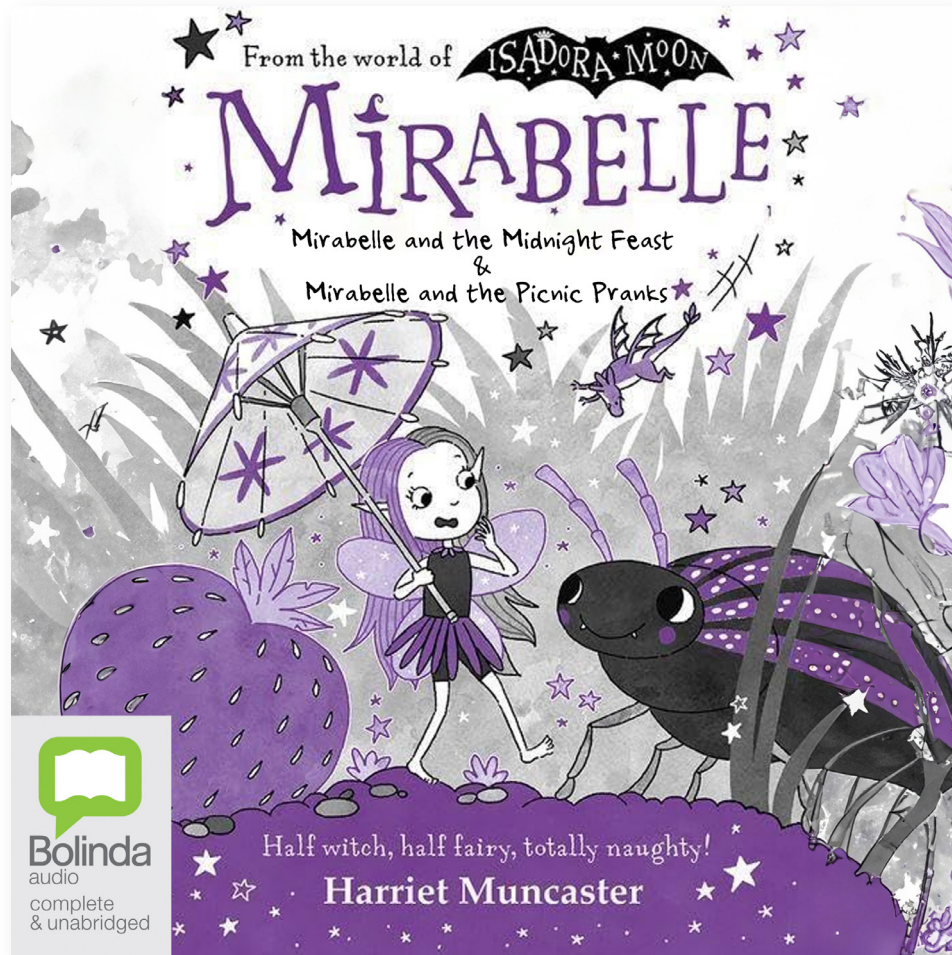

Mirabelle #10 & 11

Harriet Muncaster

Read by Emily Wheaton

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | July 2024

Half witch, half fairy, totally naughty! Mirabelle is Isadora Moon's cousin, who we first meet in the author's famous Isadora Moon series.

Mirabelle and the Midnight Feast: Mirabelle is having a sleepover at her best friend Carlotta's house, and the pair have been told they are absolutely not allowed to go in big sister Edith's bedroom. Surely a little look can't hurt, so they decide to sneak in when Edith goes out. But while exploring, they accidentally break one of Edith's treasured possessions. Mirabelle and Carlotta are going to be in big trouble if Edith finds out.

Mirabelle and the Picnic Pranks: Mirabelle's parents' picnic party in the garden seems the perfect chance to play some pranks on her annoying brother, Wilbur. But when Mirabelle gets caught putting frogspawn in Wilbur's drink she's sent inside. It's so unfair! Why should she have to miss the party? Then a brilliant idea strikes. If she uses a shrinking potion on herself, she'll be too tiny for anyone to see, so she'll still be able to enjoy the party! But Mirabelle is about to discover that the garden feels a little more dangerous when you're no taller than a blade of grass.

Produced with sound design and music for an immersive listening experience

Harriet Muncaster is the author of the international bestselling Isadora Moon series, which won the El Corte Inglés Children's Book of the Year in 2019

Muncaster also won the Blue Hen Book Award for her title I am a Witch's Cat and was highly commended for the Macmillan Prize

'From the author of Isadora Moon comes an adorable story that will speak to every child with a naughty side as well as a nice one.' – BookTrust (on Mirabelle Gets Up to Mischief)

'Mirabelle's misadventures always leave youngsters eager for more!' – Lancashire Post (on Mirabelle Breaks the Rules)

'Funny and charming, it is perfect ... giving adults and children opportunities to chat about emotions, how we talk to ourselves and how we listen to our own Minds too.' – Scope For Imagination

'The story is warm and funny, rooted in real family life, while the role played by Mind offers a chance for children to think about the mind and the way it works ...' – LoveReading4Kids

Leo and Ralph

Peter Carnavas

Read by Nic Davey-Greene

From award-winning storyteller Peter Carnavas comes this stellar story about space, starting over and the best friend you could ever imagine.

Ralph sat up. His voice was croaky. 'If a shooting star zoomed past right now, what would you wish for?'

'To find another friend like you.'

Leo and Ralph have been best friends ever since Ralph flew down from one of Jupiter's moons. But now Leo's older, and Mum and Dad think it's time to say goodbye to Ralph. When the family moves to a small country town, they hope Leo might finally make a real friend. But someone like Ralph is hard to leave behind ...

Perfect for kids who enjoy gentle, thoughtful stories like the Polly and Buster series by Sally Rippin

Peter Carnavas has created over 20 books. His work has been translated into many languages across the world and he has presented at many festivals and schools around Australia

Carnavas is the author of The Elephant, which won a Queensland Literary Award, and My Brother Ben, which won a NSW Premier's Literary Award and a Speech Pathology Australia's Book of the Year Award

'Achingly beautiful and life-affirming.' – Your Kid's Next Read

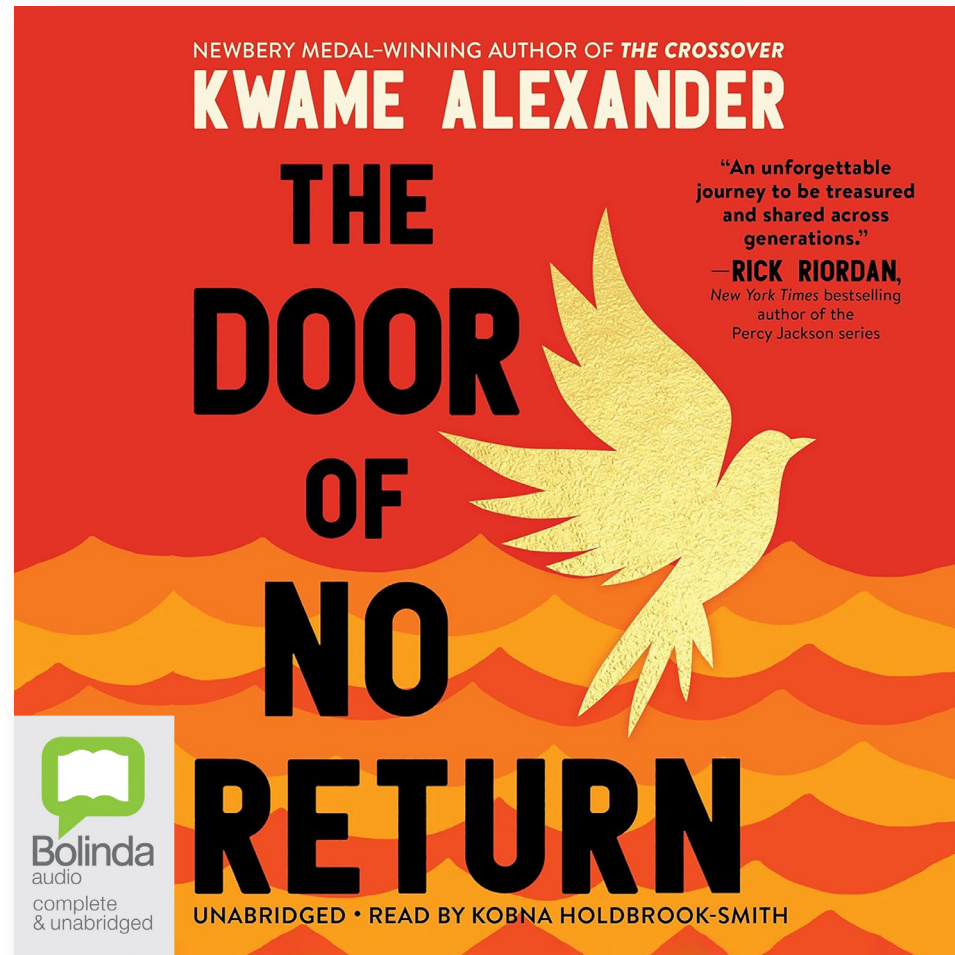

'The writing is deceptively simple, each scene a masterpiece of understatement and restraint, but suffused with warmth and humour.' – StoryLinks

Kwame Alexander

Read by Kobna Holdbrook-Smith

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | July 2024

From the Newbery Medal and Coretta Scott King Award-winning author Kwame Alexander comes the first in a breathtaking trilogy that tells the story of a boy, a village and the epic odyssey of an African family.

Dreams are today's answers for tomorrow's questions.

Eleven-year-old Kofi Offin has dreams of water, of its urgent whisper that beckons with promises and secrets. He has heard the call on the banks of Upper Kwanta, West Africa, where he lives. He loves these things above all else: his family, the fireside tales of his father's father, a girl named Ama, and, of course, swimming.

But when the unthinkable – a sudden death – occurs during a festival between rival villages, Kofi ends up in a fight for his life. What happens next will send him on a harrowing journey across land and sea, and away from everything he loves. Yet Kofi's dreams may be the key to his freedom ...

Kwame Alexander is a poet, educator, publisher, Emmy Award-winning producer and #1 New York Times bestselling author of 40 books

Alexander is also the executive producer, showrunner and writer of the Emmy Award-winning series The Crossover, based on his Newbery Medal-winning novel of the same name, which premiered on Disney+ in April 2023

Nora and the Map of Mayhem

Joseph Elliott

Read by Ella Kenion

An outrageously funny new children's audiobook from award-winning author Joseph Elliott, star of CBeebies' Swashbuckle and CBBC's Big Fat Like.

When Atticus and Autumn's dads leave them with their eccentric great-grandmother Nora for the weekend, they're hoping for a few days scoffing biscuits and playing video games. But when Nora's around, nothing ever goes quite to plan ...

After a stranger from Nora's past leaves a menacing note pinned to her front door, Atticus and Autumn are swept away on a hair-raising adventure dodging snot-flinging sea monsters, battling thunderous electrosquibs and trying to escape from a very flappy goose!

Joseph Elliott has worked as an actor, predominantly in comedy and children's television

Elliott's debut novel, The Good Hawk was nominated for the CILIP Carnegie Award, longlisted for The Highland Book Prize and won Best Middle Grade at the 2021 Audie Awards

Elliott is also part of the scriptwriting team for The Amelia Gething Complex, Class Dismissed and Horrible Histories

'Riotously funny, utterly unique – an absolute gem ... I really REALLY loved it!' – Jenny Pearson, author of The Super Miraculous Journey of Freddie Yates

'Endearing and funny, with an unforgettable and anarchic central character.'
– Sam Copeland, bestselling author of Charlie Changes into a Chicken
