Think Twice

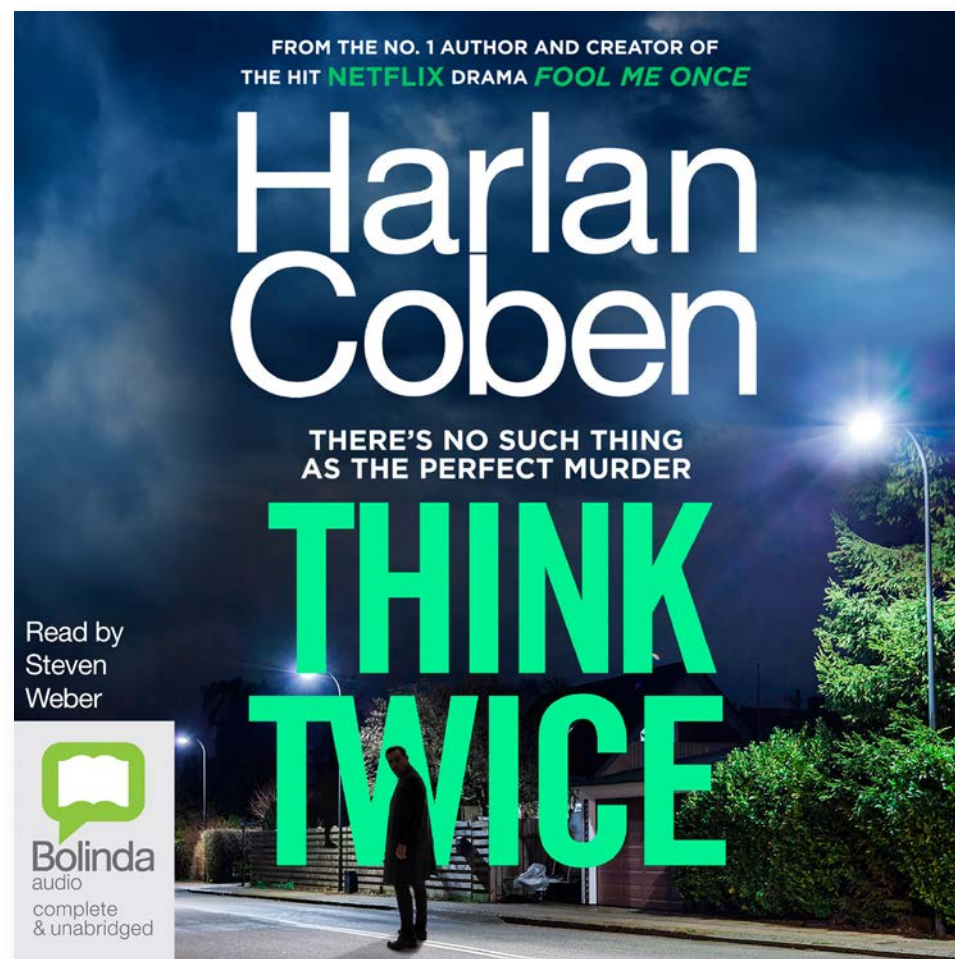

Myron Bolitar #12

Harlan Coben

Read by Steven Weber

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | December 2024

Secrets, lies and a murderous conspiracy that stretches back into the past lie at the heart of blistering new thriller, from the bestselling author and creator of the hit Netflix drama Stay Close.

How can a man who's already dead be wanted for murder? This is the question sports agent Myron Bolitar asks himself when two FBI agents come looking for his former client and rival, Greg Downing. Greg's DNA has been found at the scene of a recent high-profile double-murder, and he is now the FBI's main suspect.

But that's impossible. Greg died three years ago. Myron went to his funeral and gave the eulogy. But why would someone frame a dead man for murder? Or is Greg Downing still alive?

The more Myron digs into this mystery, the more dangerous his world becomes ...

Harlan Coben's suspense novels are published in 46 languages and have been number one bestsellers in more than a dozen countries, with 80 million books in print worldwide

Myron Bolitar series has earned the Edgar, Shamus and Anthony Awards

Several of Coben's books have been developed into Netflix original series, including the #1 global hit Fool Me Once, The Stranger, The Innocent, Gone for Good, The Woods, Stay Close and Hold Tight

'The world needs to discover Harlan Coben. He's smart, he's funny and he has something to say.' – Michael Connelly, #1 New York Times bestselling author

'Compelling ... A fantastically breakneck prison break/fugitive adventure story.'

Murder Island

A Doc Savage Thriller #2

James Patterson & Brian Sitts

Narrator to Come

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | December 2024

Can Doc and Kira find each other before one of their many enemies catches them first? Don't miss the gripping new thriller from bestselling authors James Patterson and Brian Sitts.

They thought they found heaven on earth. They discover a living hell.

When Brandt 'Doc' Savage and his girlfriend Kira land on a desert island in the middle of the Atlantic, they think they've found a perfect utopia. An escape from their tumultuous pasts.

But they don't have long to enjoy their new-found peace before they are violently separated and dragged to opposite ends of the earth.

As Doc searches the seas and continents for Kira, he discovers they are entangled in a global conspiracy that is bigger than he ever could have imagined.

James Patterson is one of the best known and biggest selling authors of all time. His works have sold in excess of 400 million copies worldwide

Patterson is the author of some of the most popular series of the past two decades, and he has written many other number one bestsellers including standalone thrillers and nonfiction

Patterson has co-authored #1 bestselling novels with Bill Clinton and Dolly Parton, and told the story of his own life in James Patterson: The Stories of My Life for which he received various awards

'A perfect introduction to what may prove to be a top-notch series of thrillers. Whether it will succeed as a Doc Savage series will depend on what they do with the familiar conventions left out of this one. There's no doubt, though, that this debut has earned a sequel. More, please. Soon, please.' – New York Journal of Books (on The Perfect Assassin)

The Mirror

The Lost Bride Trilogy #2

Nora Roberts

Read by Brittany Pressley

Adult New Release

Fantasy Fiction | December 2024

#1 New York Times bestselling author Nora Roberts continues the hauntingly spectacular Lost Bride Trilogy with The Mirror.

In need of an escape from her ex-fiance's betrayal, and the lucky recipient of a surprise inheritance, Sonya MacTavish leaves behind her life in the city and moves to a Victorian mansion on the coast of Maine. The house is beautiful but comes with surprises – footsteps in the night, doors slamming, music playing – and in her dreams Sonya sees glimpses of the past and the brides who once lived there.

As the house reveals more of its history and the sad stories of the brides murdered there, Sonya discovers an antique mirror. She finds herself drawn to the mirror, sensing it holds dark secrets. What can the mirror tell her? Can it help her to understand how the seven brides died? Sonya will need the help of her friends and family if she has any chance of breaking the curse and making this house her home.

Nora Roberts is the #1 New York Times bestselling author of more than 230 novels, including Legacy, The Awakening, Hideaway, Under Currents, The Chronicles of The One trilogy and many more

Roberts is also the author of the bestselling In Death series written under the pen name J.D. Robb

With over 500 million copies of her titles in print, Roberts is indisputably one of the most celebrated and popular authors in the world

'Roberts takes all of the beloved elements of classic gothic romances, including a marvelously atmospheric old mansion as well as a spunky heroine starting over in life, then puts her own inventive spin on things ... an incisively etched cast of characters and a spooktacular plot that will keep readers up long past their regular bedtimes.' – Booklist, starred (on Inheritance)

The Map of Bones

The Joubert Family Chronicles #4

Kate Mosse

Read by Hattie Morahan

Adult New Release

Historical Fiction | December 2024

A sweeping story of love, adventure and adversity, The Map of Bones by Kate Mosse is an epic tale of courageous women battling to survive in a hostile land.

Olifantshoek, Southern Africa, 1688. When the violent Cape wind blows from the south-east, they say the voices of the unquiet dead can be heard whispering through the deserted valley. Suzanne Joubert, a Huguenot refugee from war-torn France, arrives in search of her cousin – the notorious she-captain and pirate commander Louise Reydon-Joubert – who landed at the Cape of Good Hope more than 60 years before, then disappeared without a trace ...

Franschhoek, Southern Africa, 1862. Nearly 180 years after Suzanne's perilous journey, another intrepid and courageous woman of the Joubert family – Isabelle Lepard – has journeyed to the small frontier town once known as Olifantshoek in search of her long-lost relations. Intent on putting the women of her family back into the history books, she quickly discovers that the crimes and tragedies still shadow the present. And now, Isabelle faces a race against time if she is to discover the truth, and escape with her life ...

Kate Mosse is the author of 11 novels and short story collections, and her books have been translated into 38 languages and published in more than 40 countries

A champion of women's creativity, Mosse is the Founder Director of the Women's Prize for Fiction and the Women's Prize for Non-Fiction – the largest annual celebration of women's writing in the world

Mosse is a Trustee of the British Library, a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and an Honorary Fellow of the Society of Authors

A Backstage Betrayal

The Empire #2

Michael Ball

Read by the Author

Adult New Release

Historical Fiction | December 2024

Musical theatre legend Michael Ball brings his trademark warmth, wit and glamour to this sparkling new Empire Theatre novel.

1926. Running a theatre may appear to be all about the showbiz, but times are hard at The Empire. Following a turbulent period, Jack Treadwell, erstwhile proprietor, his mother Lillian and his playwright wife Grace, know they need to get things back on track – and how better than with the annual pantomime, a new venture, and an all-singing all-dancing talent contest, showcasing the best performers around.

But could Lillian's new admirer, Grand Duke Nikolai Kuznetsov, be bringing disaster in his wake? Will The Empire be caught up in the scandal surrounding West End star, Stella Stanmore? And what are their enemies in Highbridge planning?

While Jack and Grace fight to ensure the show does go on, a royal visitor raises the stakes and a young widow, Sally Blow, dares to dream that the talent contest might be her big break.

As the talent contest draws closer, tragedy strikes. Amid the glitz and glamour there are strange goings on and a plot afoot. Is everything Jack and Grace have worked so hard for about to come crashing down? And could this be curtains for The Empire?

Michael Ball has been a star of musical theatre for over three decades, winning the Laurence Olivier Award for Best Actor in a Musical twice; he's also won two BRIT awards and has been nominated for a Grammy

Ball regularly sells out both his solo tours and his Ball & Boe shows with Alfie Boe and has multiple platinum albums

Skysong

C.A. Wright

Read by Olivia Darnley

A beautiful lyrical retelling of Hans Christian Andersen's The Nightingale about what some will do for power ... and what others will do for love.

Oriane is the skylark, and the sun only rises if she wills it.

Every morning, she transforms from woman to bird, calling the dawn with her song. Seclusion has kept her safe her whole life – but it has also left her lonely, and craving freedom. When Oriane finally succumbs to the lure of the wild unknown, she is discovered in the gardens of the royal palace, where she is taken in by the king and treated like a goddess – and a prisoner.

Embroiled in a battle of faith and politics, Oriane yearns to return to her safe, simple life. A growing danger surrounds the palace, and the skylark and her gift are at its centre. But within the whispers, Oriane learns something she never expected: she may not be as alone as she thought. There may be another like her. The nightingale.

C.A. Wright is an author and freelance editor. She lives and breathes books – working with authors to polish their manuscripts, writing her own fiction and devouring as many stories as she can in between

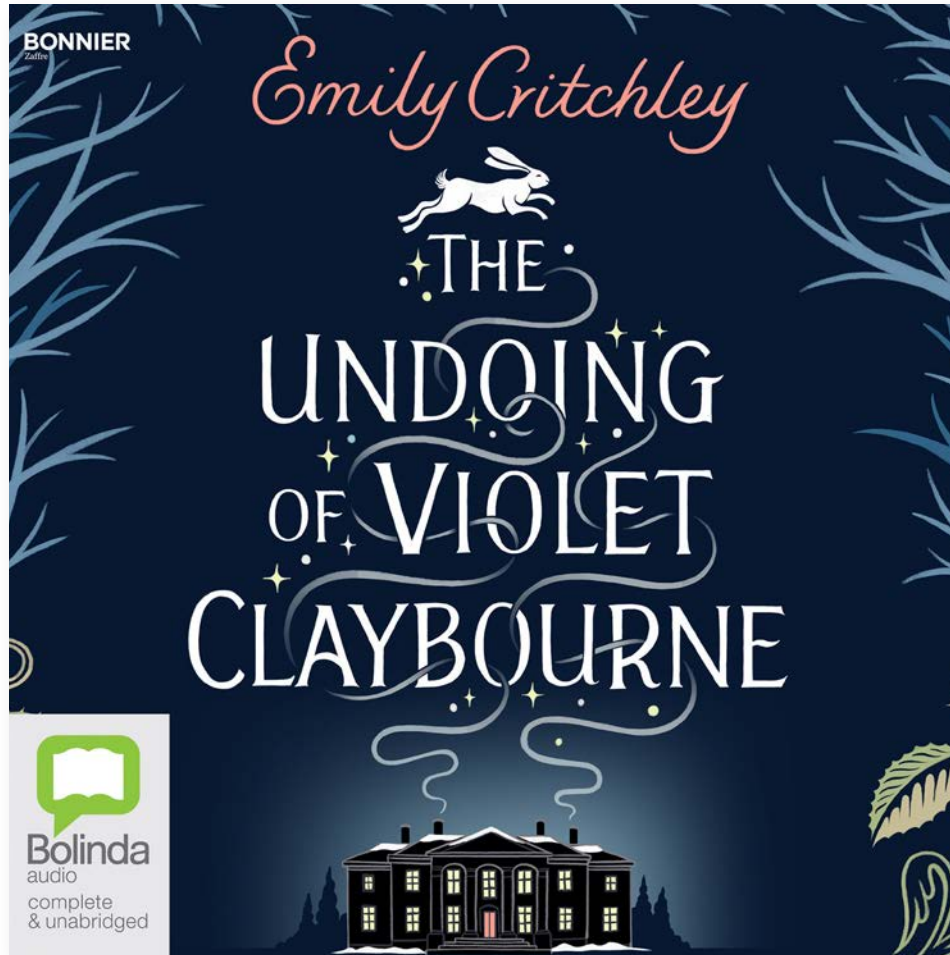

'[Skysong is] a beautifully crafted reimagining of an old tale, skilfully told and rich in heart.'
– Juliet Marillier, author of the Sevenwaters series

'A feather-bright and sweetly-sung re-telling. Beautiful!' – Kell Woods, author of After the Forest

The Undoing of Violet Claybourne

Emily Critchley

Narrator to Come

Set against the winter of 1938, The Undoing of Violet Claybourne is a dark, captivating novel of family secrets, desperate ambition and the deepest betrayal.

To be one of them, she will do whatever it takes ...

1938. Gillian Larking is used to blending in and going unnoticed, until she is befriended by her new roommate at boarding school, the vibrant and spirited Violet Claybourne. As the Christmas holidays approach, Gilly can't believe her luck when Violet invites her to spend them at her home, the crumbling Thornleigh Hall.

At Thornleigh, Gilly is dazzled by the family's faded grandeur, and above all by Violet's beguiling older sisters who seem to accept her as one of their own. But following a terrible incident in the house's grounds, Gilly begins to realise the Claybourne sisters aren't quite what she thought they were. And if she's to survive in their world, she may have to become just like them ...

I Will Find the Key

The Key #1

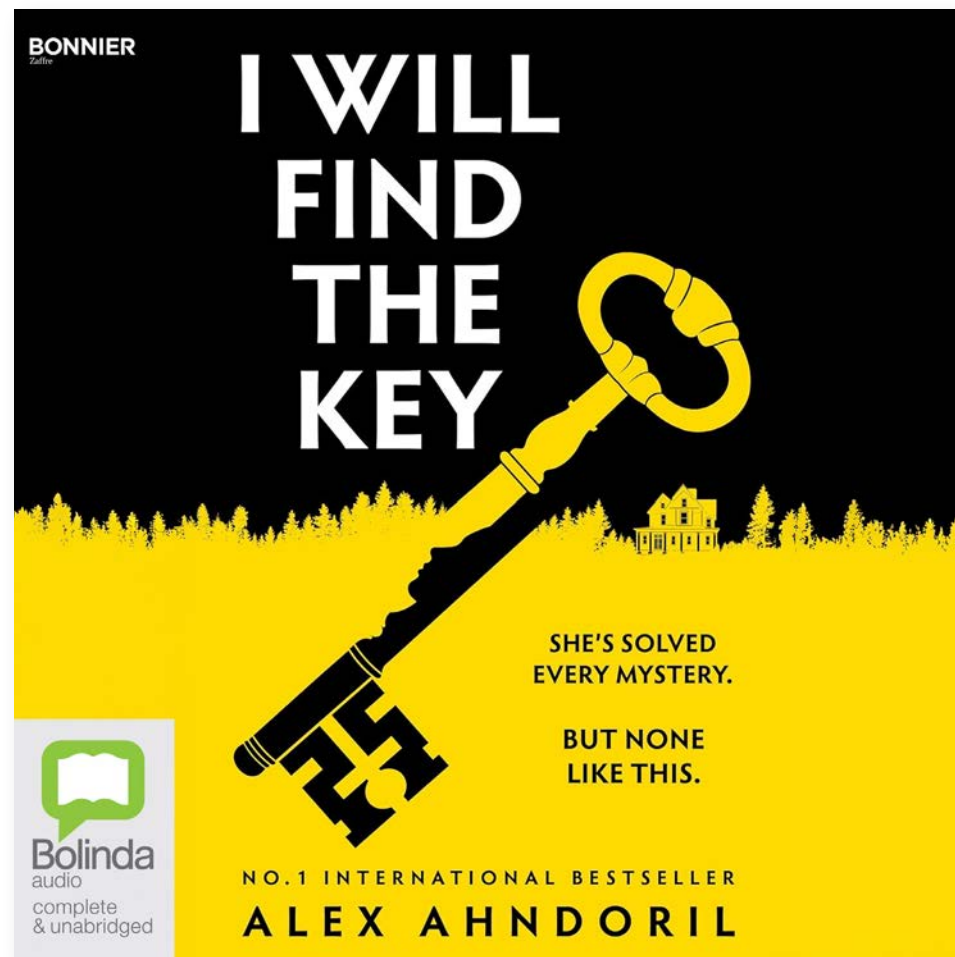

Alex Ahndoril

Narrator to Come

Adult New Release

Crime & Thriller | December 2024

The runaway crime fiction bestseller from author Alex Ahndoril.

Private investigator Julia Stark receives an unannounced visit at the office. The man at the door is one of the owners of a successful family business. The day before, he was present at a board meeting and dinner at his estate in the north-western part of Sweden. The following morning, he finds a photograph in his phone of a bloody man, tied up with a bag over his head.

Due to alcohol-related amnesia, the man has no idea where the picture comes from and wants to hire Stark Detective Agency to clear his name before the police get involved. Julia asks her ex-husband Sidney Mendelson to take time off from the City Police and assist her in the investigation. There is still a glimmer of hope left in Julia that this might be her chance to win him back.

Welcomed as guests at the opulent estate, Julia and Sidney begin to search for the truth while dining and socialising with each of the family members who could theoretically be involved in the murder.

The pseudonym Alex Ahndoril is a new collaboration between Alexandra Coelho Ahndoril and Alexander Ahndoril, the authors behind international bestseller Lars Kepler

I Will Find the Key is the first instalment in the The Key Series – a modern take on the classic whodunnit mystery

The Ahndorils were both established authors before they adopted the pen name Lars Kepler and have each published several acclaimed titles

'The authors' stylistic skill is immediately apparent when they introduce the main character, the 33-year-old Julia Stark. [I Will Find the Key] is written with enthusiasm and humor. What more can I say? Enjoy the binge-read.' – Sydsvenskan

'Astonishingly well written ... Such poetic and well-functioning language is unusual in crime fiction.' – Dagbladet

Inheritance

Genevieve Gannon

Read by Hannah Fredericksen

From the author of The Mothers comes a propulsive family drama that explores the possibilities and dangers of designing the perfect child.

In 2027, Emily is deciding whether to take advantage of a new health service that promises a healthier, stronger baby through gene editing. There's plenty in her family tree that she would like to protect her unborn child against.

But not everybody loves the so-called designer baby technology.

Decades later, Adelaide is an ambitious political staffer trying to make a difference. Adelaide and her husband are working towards a goal they've called The Cyprus Project, but their plans risk being derailed when an unexpected threat looms.

Told across two generations, and two continents, Inheritance is about the legacies we leave our children, the bonds between mothers and daughters, and how it's never too late to fix our mistakes.

Genevieve Gannon is the author of The Mothers and The Gifted Son

Gannon was the lead court reporter for Australian Associated Press and has been published in most major Australian newspapers

Gannon is presently the senior journalist at The Australian Women's Weekly where she is known for in-depth articles on issues relating to the health, rights and safety of women

'Emotionally powerful, incredibly gripping and truly visionary.' – Tess Woods, author of Love and Other Battles

'Inheritance is a compelling, thought-provoking page-turner, set in a near future where the intersection between family, fertility and technology have grown ever-more complex. I read this book in a day and I'm still thinking about it weeks later. Perfect for fans of Jodi Picoult.'

– Kelly Rimmer, New York Times bestselling author of The Things We Cannot Say

Eden Undone

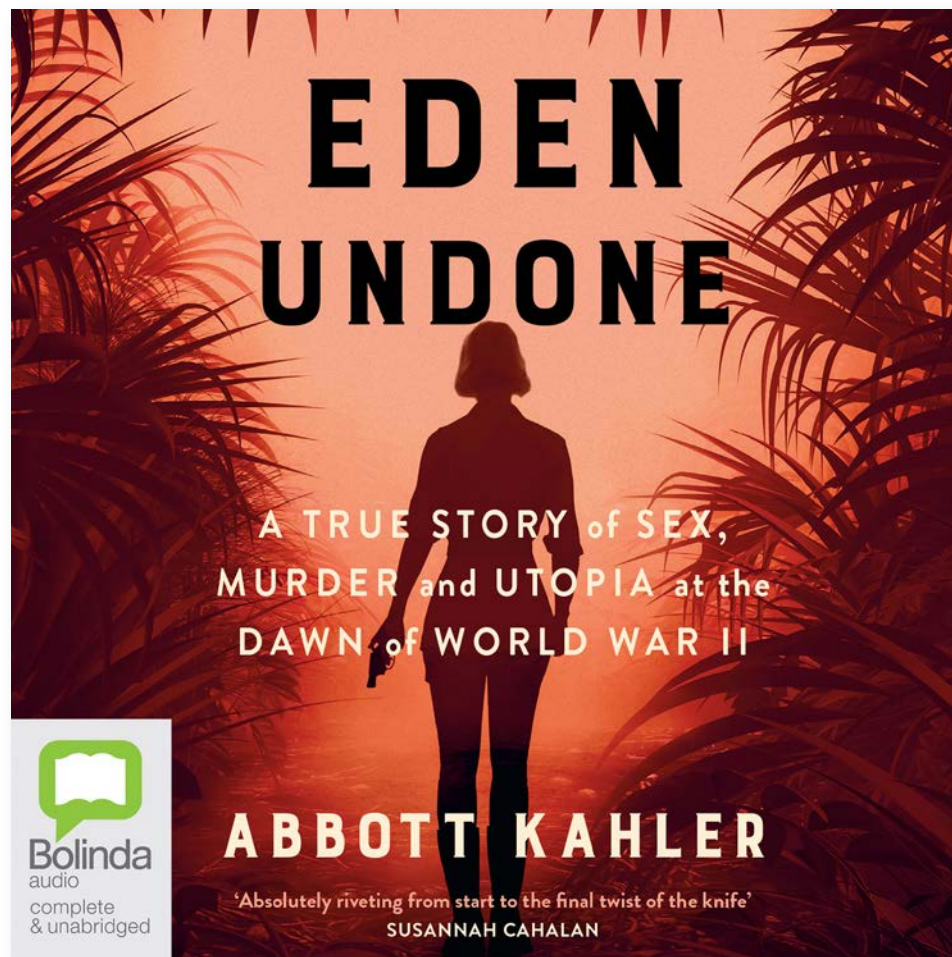

A True Story of Sex, Murder, and Utopia at the Dawn of World War II

Abbott Kahler

Narrator to Come

Adult New Release

History | December 2024

An incredible true story of murder, romance and a fateful search for utopia in the Galápagos, from the New York Times bestselling author of The Ghosts of Eden Park.

Amsterdam, July 1929. At nine o'clock in the evening, the SS Boskoop set sail carrying Friedrich, a Berlin doctor, his lover Dore and fifteen other third-class passengers, all crammed inside five dank cabins. Fleeing Europe's political and economic unrest, their final destination was the Galápagos Islands, where they hoped to create a utopian paradise.

Los Angeles, November 1934. The wire reports travelled 3,000 miles across the Pacific and described a gruesome scene: on Marchena Island, a bleak and barren speck of land in the northern Galápagos, two mummified bodies are discovered – a man and a woman – both lying on their backs and barely recognisable from their long exposure to the elements.

Set against the backdrop of the Great Depression and the march to worldwide conflict, this compelling and haunting true story of adventure, obsession and murder uncovers the mystery of how they got there and who killed them.

Abbott Kahler, formerly writing as Karen Abbott, is the New York Times bestselling author of Sin in the Second City; American Rose; Liar; Temptress; Soldier; Spy; and The Ghosts of Eden Park

Kahler has also been a finalist for the Edgar Award for Best Fact Crime, the Goodreads book award for history and the Ohioana Book Awards, the second oldest state literary prize in the country

Stakeknife

Britain's Secret Agents in Ireland

Greg Harkin & Martin Ingram

Read by Phillip Sacramento

Adult New Release

History | December 2024

An explosive exposé of how British military intelligence really works, from the inside.

The stories of two undercover agents – Brian Nelson, who worked for the Force Research Unit (FRU), aiding loyalist terrorists and murderers in their bloody work; and the man known as Stakeknife, deputy head of the IRA's infamous 'Nutting Squad', the internal security force which tortured and killed suspected informers.

Greg Harkin, an award-winning Belfast journalist for the People newspaper, is the journalist who first broke the story on the Stakeknife affair.

Harkin was awarded the 2003 Scoop of the Year award for his work on the story

Martin Ingram is the pseudonym of an ex-British Army intelligence officer turned whistleblower

Since deciding to become a whistleblower, Ingram has written articles for many newspapers, including the Sunday Times, the Guardian, the Irish News and Andersonstown News

'A sequence worthy of Catch-22 has the same agency employing agents on both sides, knocking off each other, so that one is left wondering who was really running the war, and for whose benefit. But then, Catch-22 was farce – this is serious business, and murder.'

– Irish Independent

All Things Seen and Unseen

R.J. McDaniel

Read by Janet-Rose Nguyen

An incisive reflection on identity and wealth, and a refreshing racial queer story of survival.

All Things Seen and Unseen follows Alex Nguyen, an isolated, chronically ill university student in her early 20s. After a suicide attempt and subsequent lengthy hospitalisation, she finds herself without a job, kicked out of campus housing, unable to afford school and still struggling in the aftermath of a relationship's dissolution. Hope comes in the form of a rich high school friend who offers Alex a job housesitting at her family's empty summer mansion on a gulf island.

Surrounded by dense forest and ocean, in the increasingly oppressive heat of a 2010s summer, Alex must try to survive as an outsider in a remote, insular community; to navigate the awkward, unexpected beginnings of a possible new romance; and to live through the trauma she has repressed to survive, even as the memories – and a series of increasingly unnerving events – threaten to pull her back under the surface.

R.J. McDaniel is a writer whose essays on baseball and other topics have been featured in Catapult, PRISM and VICE Sports, among others

'McDaniel ably captures Alex's creeping dread, whipping the thin narrative into something like a fever dream. While the heavily ambiguous action may frustrate some mystery fans, the atmosphere is undeniably immersive. McDaniel makes a promising first impression.'

– Publishers Weekly

'A fever dream of a novel, All Things Seen and Unseen is hypnotic, compulsive and perfectly tuned to the horrors of being alive.' – Nancy Lee, author of Dead Girls and The Age

The Group

Sigge Eklund

Read by Alix Dunmore

Feverish, seductive and intoxicating, The Group offers a blend of suspense and indulgence reminiscent of Donna Tartt's The Secret History and Patricia Highsmith's Rebecca.

How far would you go to become one of them?

When Hanna moves to Spain for an internship at the prestigious Prado gallery, she finds herself spending her days buried in the museum's stifling archives, and her nights alone in a tiny rented flat.

Then one day she sees them – Tom, Samuel and Leah. Glamorous and elegant, they are also foreigners in the city. But unlike her they are fabulously wealthy, their lives an endless whirl of creativity and hedonism. And when Hanna discovers an uncatalogued 17th century etching in the archive, she makes a decision which changes everything ...

From the sultry streets of Madrid to the gleaming world of Mediterranean luxury villas and exclusive art world parties, as Hanna gets closer to her deepest desire, the stakes mount ever higher.

Intoxicating and unputdownable, The Group is a timeless story of hidden identity and obsession.

Perfect for fans of Saltburn and The Talented Mr Ripley

Sigge Eklund is a Swedish screenwriter, director and author of several novels, and his books have been translated into 16 languages

Eklund also co-presents one of Scandinavia's most popular podcasts, drawing in 300,000 listeners a week

Eklund is currently directing his feature film debut, A Part of You, starring Zara Larsson, for Netflix

'Truly grips you ... The Group becomes harder and harder to put down, and the outcome is refreshingly uncertain right up to the end.' – Borås Tidning

The Game Changers

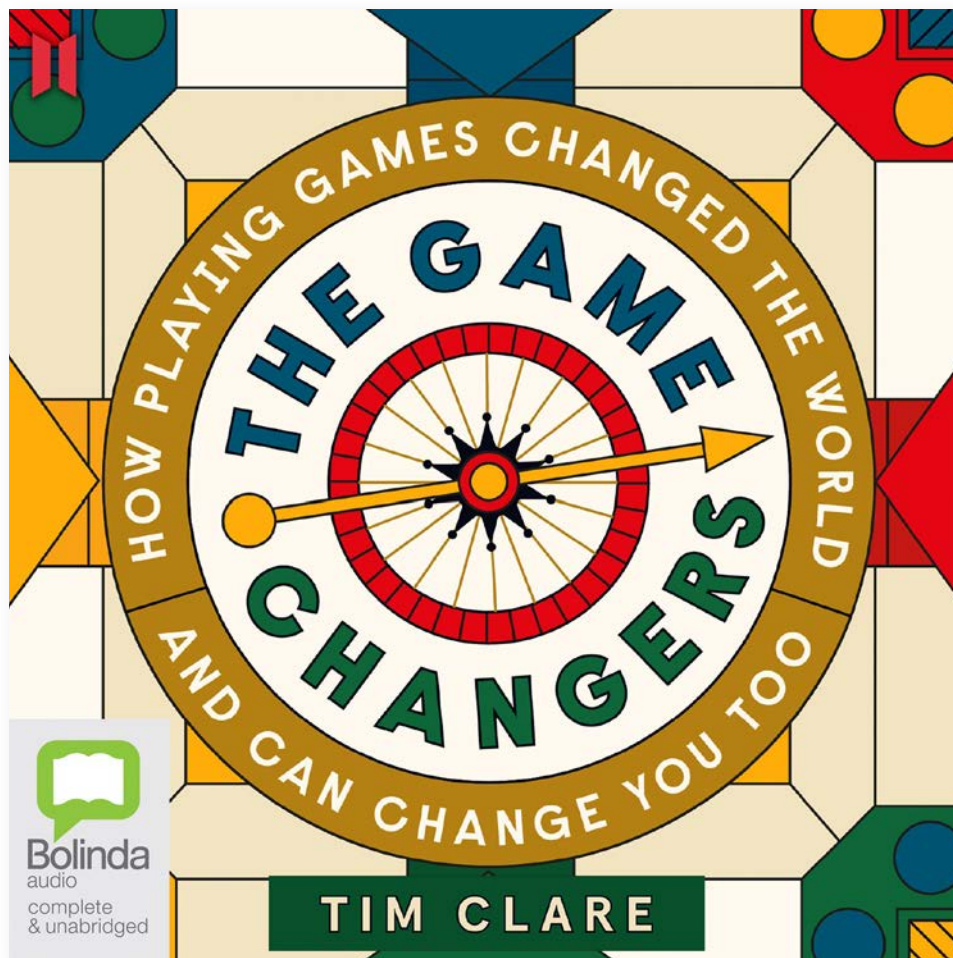

How Playing Games Changed the World and Can Change You Too

Tim Clare

Narrator to Come

Adult New Release

History | December 2024

Filled with humour, thrill and insight, The Game Changers explores the world of games, showing how they have shaped human history and why we should play them.

Why is playing games a universal human instinct?

Why did the same games evolve across wildly different civilisations?

And how can those games make your life happier, healthier and more fulfilled?

The history of board games is really the history of human civilisation. Through it we see how our species has learned to live with one another, make deals, take on different roles and manage the ups and downs of luck.

In this entertaining and thought-provoking look at games through the ages, Tim Clare explores the legal highs of a good dice roll, the thrills of a predatory race game and the tactile pleasures of the games that age with us through our lives to discover how, through play, we become fully ourselves.

Drawing on Roman anti-cheating devices, organised crime card syndicates and the combative domestic bonding ritual of Monopoly, The Game Changers explains why games are more popular now than ever, and how playing them helps us learn to be better losers, make smarter decisions and become more human.

Tim Clare won Best Biography/Memoir at the East Anglian Book Awards for his first book, We Can't All Be Astronauts, while his fiction debut, The Honours, was longlisted for the Desmond Elliott Prize

Wild Creature Mind

The Neuroscience Breakthrough That Helps You Transform Anxiety and Live a Fierce and Loving Life

Steve Biddulph

Read by Silas Aiton

Adult New Release

Lifestyle – Wellbeing | December 2024

Unlock the untapped power within you – discover the profound wisdom of your animal mind.

Bestselling psychologist Steve Biddulph reveals a groundbreaking insight: we possess not just one, but two minds. While our familiar, analytical mind dominates in today's busy, modern world, our primal, instinctual 'wild creature' mind lies dormant, waiting to guide us with its innate intuition and compassion.

In a world grappling with unprecedented mental health challenges, Biddulph offers a lifeline. Drawing on cutting-edge therapy and cognitive science research, he shows you how to awaken your dormant mind through poignant anecdotes and practical exercises. You will learn to embrace your body's wisdom, trust your instincts, heal trauma, navigate life's complexities with newfound clarity and embark on a journey of profound transformation.

There's a million years of animal intelligence, lying silent, wanting to help you. This is absolute science, yet incredibly simple, and about to change your world.

Wild Creature Mind combines the ideas of British neuroscientist Iain McGilchrist, with the cutting edge of somatic psychotherapy – Eugene Gendlin and the 'felt sense' methods of dialoguing with our silent right hemisphere

Steve Biddulph was voted Australian Father of the Year 2001 for his work encouraging dads, and a Member of the Order of Australia for his work in young people's mental health

Biddulph has been a psychologist and educator for over 40 years and is the author of Raising Boys, Stories of Manhood, The New Manhood, The Secret of Happy Children and The Making of Love

Biddulph is a patron of Sanctuary Refugee Trust, The Australian Council on Children and Media and of the Australian Religious Response to Climate Change

'Steve is back, to help us do better at being in this world.' – Rachel Ward AM, English-Australian actress, film and television director and screenwriter (on Fully Human)

Whistledown Woman

Josephine Cox

Read by Sherry Baines

A moving story of a beautiful girl growing up unaware of her true inheritance, from bestselling author Josephine Cox.

On a moonlit night in 1898, Kathleen Wyman lies in labour at Bessington Hall. Her husband, Edward, is sure that she has been unfaithful to him. In his blind, jealous rage he later gives away the baby to gypsy Rona Parrish, summoned to help with the delivery. Kathleen, frenzied with grief, is soon after locked away in an asylum.

Rejected by her father, the little girl begins her new life with only a valuable brooch pinned to her shawl as a clue to her true origins. Named after Rona's own mother, the lovely raven-haired Starlena grows up in ignorance of her true parentage and vast inheritance, believing her birthplace to be the beautiful Whistledown Valley. And Rona, always afraid, stays watchful over the years for any sign that someone might track Starlena down – someone who wishes her harm ...

The Rose Arbor

Rhys Bowen

Read by Nicola Barber

An investigation into a girl's disappearance uncovers a mystery dating back to World War II in a haunting novel of suspense by the bestselling author of The Venice Sketchbook and The Paris Assignment.

London, 1968. Liz Houghton is languishing as an obituary writer at a London newspaper when a young girl's disappearance captivates the city. If Liz can break the story, it's her way into the newsroom. She already has a scoop – her best friend, Marisa, is a police officer assigned to the case.

Liz follows Marisa to Dorset, where they make another disturbing discovery. Over two decades earlier, three girls disappeared while evacuating from London. One was found murdered in the woods near a train line. The other two were never seen again.

As Liz digs deeper, she finds herself drawn to the village of Tydeham, which was requisitioned by the military during the war and left in ruins. After all these years, what could possibly link the missing girls to this abandoned village? And why does a place Liz has never seen before seem so strangely familiar?

Rhys Bowen is the New York Times bestselling author of more than 60 novels, including The Paris Assignment, Where the Sky Begins, The Venice Sketchbook, Above the Bay of Angels, The Victory Garden and The Tuscan Child

Bowen's work has won 16 honours to date, including multiple Agatha, Anthony and Macavity Awards

'The Rose Arbor is a complex and intriguing mystery that dares the reader to unravel the clues before the protagonist, London reporter Liz Houghton, with plenty of intrigue for any seasoned mystery reader, and smart, exquisite prose for those who luxuriate in the beauty of the written word. Take it on your vacation, but be prepared for late nights.' – Robert Dugoni, New York Times bestselling author

The Formidable Miss Cassidy

Meihan Boey

Read by Paula Masterton

An enchanting historical fantasy, in which an enigmatic Scottish governess attempts to solve a series of supernatural mysteries in 19th-Century Singapore.

Miss Cassidy is no ordinary governess.

She can tutor the most wayward child, tell stories in multiple languages and fix any household crisis. But she also deals with problems of a far more dark and dangerous kind.

Arriving in 1890s Singapore, this formidable, flame-haired Scotswoman soon finds herself (among other things) ridding a house of a bloodthirsty demon and raising a spirit from the dead. But when she is hired by the wealthy Chinese widower Mr Kay, whose family is suffering from a terrible curse, she must battle forces far more ancient and powerful than any she has encountered – not to mention the unexpected impulses of her own heart ...

An irresistible brew of magic, romance and mystery, The Formidable Miss Cassidy invites you to embark on a thrilling supernatural adventure alongside an unforgettable heroine.

The Formidable Miss Cassidy won the Singapore Books Award and was co-winner of the Epigram Books Fiction Prize

Meihan Boey is a Singaporean novelist and vice president of the Association of Comic Artists of Singapore

Boey came up with the character of Miss Cassidy while writing a short story pitting a familiar Victorian British governess figure against one of Southeast Asia's most terrifying ghouls, the pontianak

'What a delight – I haven't enjoyed an adventure this much in years. Great fun, completely immersive and bursting with characters who leap off the page. A debut as impressive as Miss Cassidy herself!' – Amie Kaufman, New York Times bestselling co-author of the Aurora Cycle

The Supper Club

Sophie King

Read by Helen Keeley

A fun, uplifting and relatable story about family, relationships and love from author Sophie King.

Lucy's infamous dinner parties were always the talk of the town, but after her husband's death, they've become few and far between. When she gets engaged to her new fiancé, Mike, she decides what better way to introduce him to her friends than by reinstating their supper club.

But a lot has changed in the last six years.

Lucy's best friend, Maggie, must face sitting at the dinner table with her husband's new model girlfriend in tow.

Now a mother, so much of Chrissie's life revolves around changing nappies and mindless baby TV that she worries if she'll still be good company.

The only single one of the group, Jenny is not interested in finding a man and wishes her older sister would stop trying to set her up with the handsome new neighbour.

Perhaps Lucy has bitten off more than she can chew with these dinner parties, but what's a little wine among old friends anyway?

Perfect for fans of Fiona Gibson, Carmen Reid and Tracy Bloom

Sophie King is author of It's a Mum's Life, The School Run, The House Share and The Wedding Party

King also writes under the name of Janey Fraser

'The characters are sympathetic, and readers will cheer them to the last course.'

– Publishers Weekly

'With lots of well drawn characters to keep your interest this is a charming and amusing novel of gossip scandal in the suburbs. Great fun.' – LoveReading

Super Sleuth

David Walliams

Narrator to Come

From million-copy bestselling author David Walliams comes his first ever murder mystery – with thrills, spills and laughs galore.

Dilly loved a good murder. Not a REAL murder. A made-up murder. One you would find in a murder mystery novel.

Sherlock Holmes was her favourite detective, so much so that she had named her dog Watson after his faithful companion. Dilly had trained her Watson to sniff out clues and follow scent trails. Something he would happily do for a dog biscuit. Or two.

So far, Dilly and Watson hadn't had much luck cracking cases – beyond lost cats, or missing biscuits that turned out to have been eaten all along. But now the detective duo found themselves on a luxury ocean liner bound for London. A thousand passengers. A thousand nautical miles of ocean around them. It was the perfect place for a murder ...

Or two. Or three. Or four. Or MORE!

David Walliams is a literary phenomenon whose books have sold more than 53 million copies worldwide and have been translated into 55 languages

Walliams's The World's Worst Pets was the bestselling children's book of 2022. He was most recently Children's number one bestseller with Robodog

Walliams's other titles, Ratburger, Demon Dentist and Awful Auntie, have all won the National Book Awards Children's Book of the Year

'Budding junior detective Dilly finds herself at the centre of a real-life murder mystery aboard an ocean liner in this gripping and very funny page-turner from the bestselling duo.'

– Waterstones

'For kids who would normally look at you as if you're mad to suggest reading for pleasure.'

Cobweb

Michael Morpurgo

Read by Iestyn Arwel

A heartwarming new story of bravery, friendship and an incredible journey, for children and adults everywhere from the bestselling author of War Horse.

Britain. 1815. After years of loss and sacrifice, the end of the war with Napoleon is approaching.

Cobweb knows nothing of the war – he loves being a young puppy and playing with his owner, Bethan, exploring the countryside and chasing rabbits. But when he is taken away from Bethan and sold, Cobweb must learn to become a Drover's Dog – herding sheep and cattle for hundreds of miles on the long, treacherous journey to London.

And after the Napoleonic wars finally come to an end with the Battle of Waterloo, Cobweb meets an unexpected stranger with an incredible tale to tell on his journey home ...

Cobweb is a powerful, moving adventure inspired by the extraordinary true story of the French Drummer Boy of Waterloo

The Age of Enchantment

Chronicles of Whetherwhy #1

Anna James

Read by Mike Grady

First in a brand-new fantasy series from the author of the acclaimed Pages & Co series, Anna James, filled with seasonal magic and exciting adventure.

In Whetherwhy, everyone has magic inside them – grown from the changing seasons of spring, summer, autumn and winter. But a rare few are Enchanters – people born with magic in their bones, who can wield all four seasons of magic.

When Juniper discovers she is an Enchanter, she must leave behind everything she knows to begin studying at the Thistledown Academy of Enchantment. Unwilling to be left behind, her twin brother, Rafferty, decides to follow her to the capital city of Stormgrove and takes up an apprenticeship at a nearby bookbinder.

As Juniper makes new friends and learns how to wield enchantment, Rafferty becomes involved with a mysterious secret society that meet after dark. Monsters are creeping out of the shadows and dangers lurk in unexpected places. Amid night markets and magic lessons, they both realise there is more to enchantment – and life in Whetherwhy – than they could ever have imagined.

Anna James was the book news editor at The Bookseller and literary editor of Elle UK

James has written for The Pool, The LA Times, The Financial Times and The Independent, as well as making YouTube videos as A Case for Books

The Magic Moment and Other Stories

Mindful Stories to Help Children Deal with Difficult Emotions

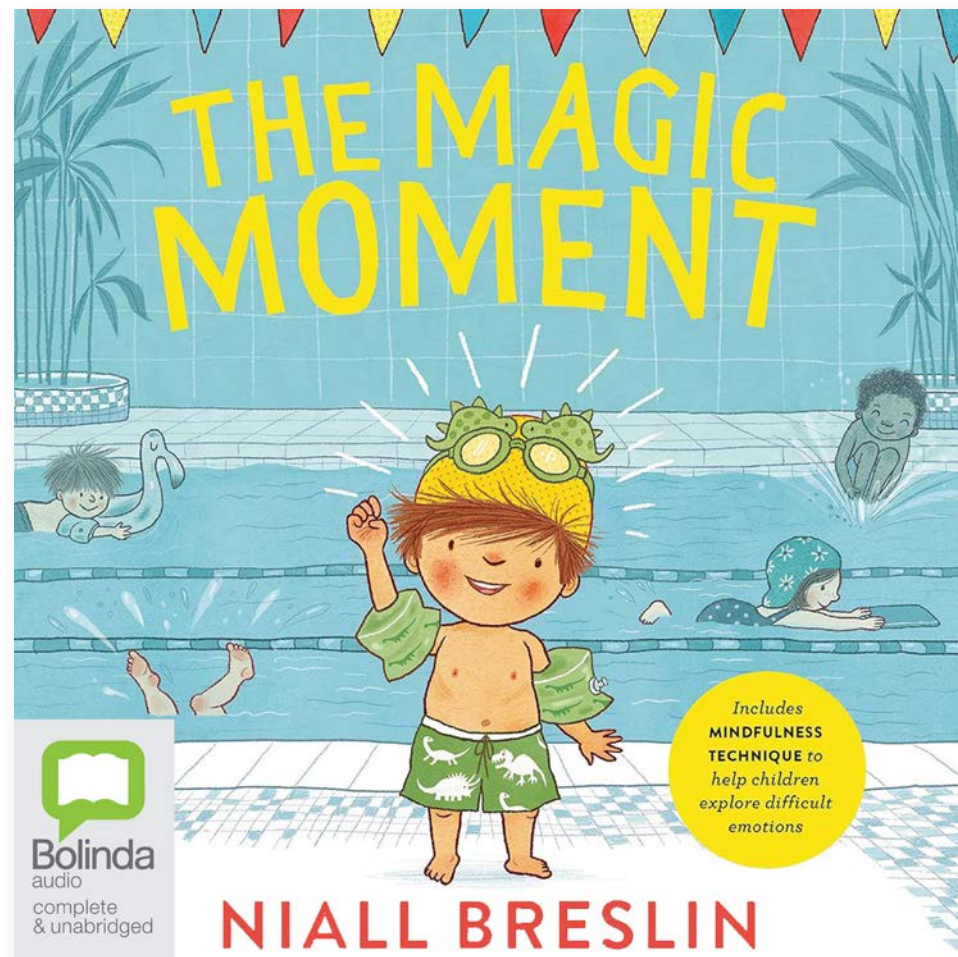

Niall Breslin

Read by Emma Lowe

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | December 2024

A collection of stories that helps children explore difficult emotions from bestselling author and mental health advocate Niall Breslin.

The Magic Moment: Freddie is excited about his first trip to the swimming pool. But when he gets there, he finds it scary. Later that evening, Nana teaches him a secret trick. It's called the Magic Moment Trick and it gives you superpowers when you're facing something scary.

Take Five: When Freddie sees all the presents his friend Ben gets for his birthday, he feels a bit sad. Nana teaches Freddie how to be thankful for everything he has – together they count all the wonderful things in their lives.

The Chill Skill: When Sam's mum takes her phone back, Sam begins to feel cross. So, Grandad teaches her a breathing technique, which puts out the angry flames that are making her feel hot and bothered.

Follow My Lead: Sam has so much going on in her life that she sometimes gets quite overwhelmed. But a walk in the park and Dad's special breathing exercise soon calm her busy mind down!

The Sleep Scan: Freddie wakes up grumpy after a bad night's sleep. When Nana tries to help him at dinner time, he snaps at her. She explains that being tired makes everything feel worse, but she knows just the trick to help him get to sleep.

Niall Breslin is one of Ireland's most formidable and inspiring mental health advocates and public speakers

An active polymath, Breslin is also a bestselling author, podcaster, musician, philanthropist and a former professional athlete

As founder and Creative Director of the mental health advocacy charity A Lust for Life, Breslin has further contributed significantly to his standing as a key figure in the evolving conversation around mental health in Ireland

The Forest Yet to Come

Wolfstongue #3

Sam Thompson

Read by John Voce

Children's New Release

Children's Fiction | December 2024

The third instalment of the Wolfstongue saga by Booker Prize longlisted author Sam Thompson.

Faolan and Sally have no memory of their lives before they arrived at the Land ten years ago. In this self-sufficient community, good fortune comes from mysterious beings known as the shapes, and no one is to venture into the Forest – a dangerous place full of fearsome wolves.

When a strange gentleman named Reynard emerges from the Forest, he quickly befriends Faolan and Sally. But the community are both suspicious and enthralled by his storytelling.

In the wake of a terrible attack, the shapes seem to abandon their people. Faolan flees into the Forest seeking the wolves that have always fascinated him, and Reynard and Sally are banished. Their pursuit of Faolan leads them to uncover many mysteries. As they are drawn further in, the community they once knew begins to fracture.

There is no keeping the Forest out any longer, and nothing will ever be the same again.

Sam Thompson's Wolfstongue won a 2022 Spark School Book Award and was chosen as an Outstanding International Book 2023 by the US Board on Books for Young People

Thompson's other title The Fox's Tower was longlisted for a 2022 British Science Fiction Association Award

The Night War

Kimberly Brubaker Bradley

Read by Gilli Messer

From the #1 New York Times bestselling author of The War That Saved My Life comes a new middle-grade story, in which a girl who has lost everything must decide whether to risk her life to bring others to freedom.

We don't choose how we feel, but we choose how we act.

It's 1942. German Nazis occupy much of France. And 12-year-old Miriam, who is Jewish, is not safe. With help and quick thinking, Miri is saved from the roundup that takes her entire Jewish neighbourhood. She escapes Paris, landing in a small French village, where the spires of the famous Chateau de Chenonceau rise high into the sky, its bridge across the River Cher like a promise, a fairy tale.

But Miri's life is no fairy tale. Her parents are gone – maybe alive, maybe not. Taken in at the boarding school near the chateau, pretending to be Catholic to escape Nazi capture, Miri volunteers one night to undertake a deadly task, one that spans the castle grounds, its bridge and the very border to freedom. Here is her chance to escape – hopefully to find her parents. But will she take it? One thing is certain – the person Miri meets that night will save her life. And the person Miri becomes that night could save the lives of many more.

Kimberly Brubaker Bradley is the two-time Newbery Honor-winning and #1 New York Times bestselling author of several acclaimed middle-grade novels

Bradley's titles include Fighting Words, The War That Saved My Life, The War I Finally Won and Jefferson's Sons

The Night War is a captivating and often funny story that explores history, moral dilemmas and friendships

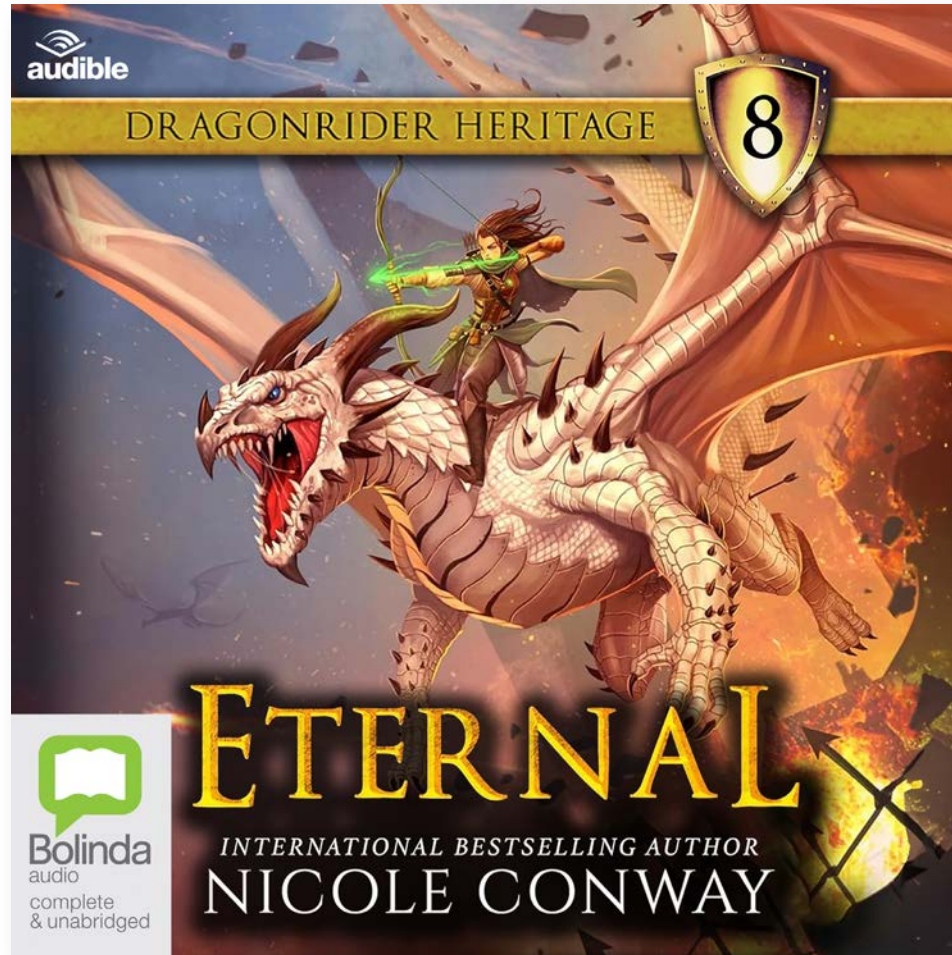

'Historical fiction at its finest. Two-time Newbery honoree Bradley is at her best here; this is a novel that brings layers of the past to life [and showcases] the author's expertise as a gifted storyteller.' – School Library Journal

Follow the Rabbit-Proof Fence

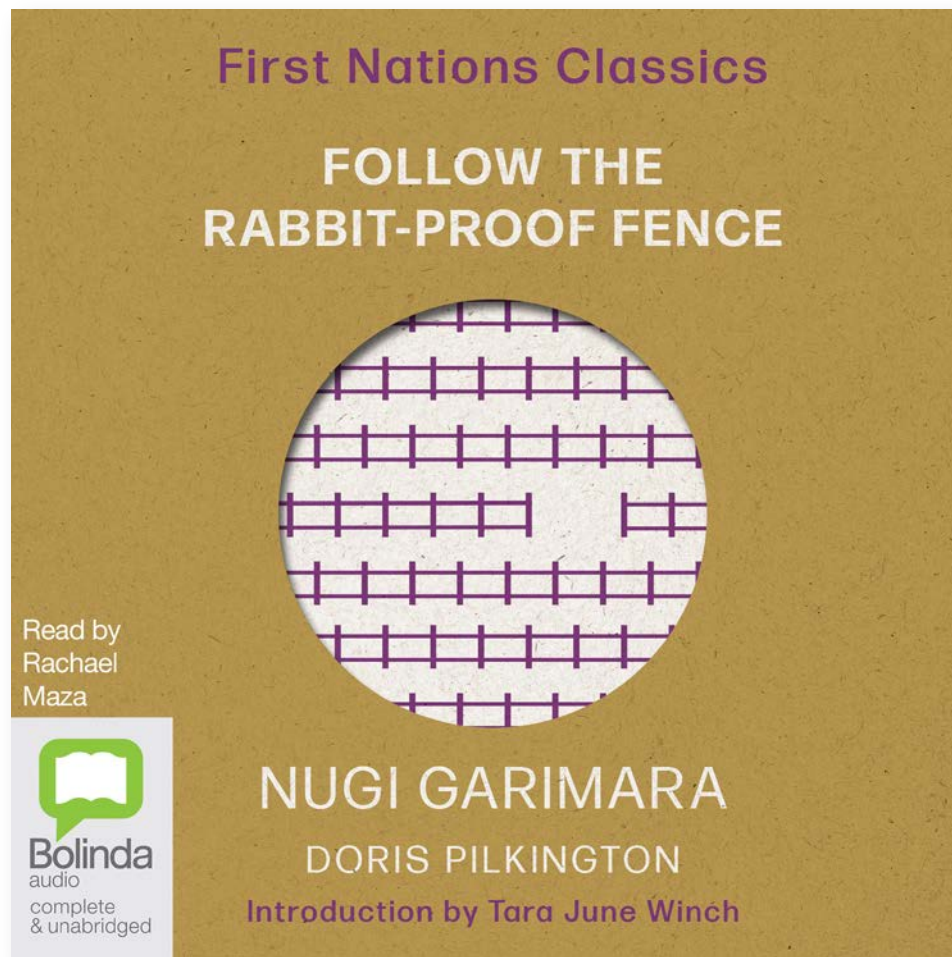

First Nations Classics

Doris (Nugi Garimara) Pilkington

Read by Rachael Maza

Adult New Release

Biography | December 2024

A Stolen Generations story of astounding courage – three Aboriginal girls, taken from their mothers, escape barefoot back to their beloved homeland in East Pilbara.

This is the true account of Nugi Garimara's mother, Molly, made legendary by the film Rabbit-Proof Fence.

In 1931 Molly led her two sisters on an extraordinary 1600-kilometre walk across remote Western Australia. Aged eight, eleven and fourteen, they escaped the confinement of a government institution for Aboriginal children removed from their families. Barefoot, without provisions or maps, tracked by Native Police and search planes, the girls followed the rabbit-proof fence, knowing it would lead them home.

Their journey – longer than many of the celebrated treks of recognised explorers – reveals a past more cruel than we could ever imagine.

Follow the Rabbit-Proof Fence was first published in 1996, and was released internationally in 2002 as the film Rabbit-Proof Fence, directed by Phillip Noyce

The First Nations Classics series is a gathering of our most prominent Indigenous voices who continuously, as they have always done, revive the literary landscape of this continent

Nugi Garimara studied journalism and worked in film and video production. Caprice: A Stockman's Daughter, originally published in 1991, was her first book and won the 1990 David Unaipon Award

Garimara's own story is told in Under the Wintamarra Tree

'This is a marvellous adventure story and thriller, celebrating courage and the resilience of the human heart.' – Phillip Noyce, director of the film Rabbit-Proof Fence

Finding Joy in Oyster Bay

Susan Duncan
Read by Caroline Lee

From the author of the bestselling Sleepless in Stringybark Bay, this story celebrates life, love, community and the power of forgiveness.

When former journalist turned café owner Kate Jackson abandons her six-month-old baby and disappears without a word, the quirky offshore community of Cook's Basin quickly steps in to salvage a delicate and difficult situation.

But even the best intentions can go horribly awry.

Relationships are tested, loyalties divided and the future of the beloved Briny Café, the beating heart of the community, comes under threat.

It takes a group of bossy retirees to navigate the brittle twists and turns of the grim past and point the way towards a hopeful future.

Susan Duncan enjoyed a 25-year career spanning radio, newspaper and magazine journalism, including editing two of Australia's top selling women's magazines: The Australian Women's Weekly and New Idea

Duncan has published two bestselling memoirs, Salvation Creek and its sequel, The House at Salvation Creek, and three novels, The Briny Cafe, Gone Fishing and Sleepless in Stringybark Bay

'I didn't want to leave! ... charming and irresistible.' – Joanna Nell, bestselling author of The Single Ladies of Jacaranda Retirement Village (on Sleepless in Stringybark Bay)

'Charming ... it provides the perfect escapism to welcoming place where we feel like we know everyone and everybody knows our name. This is a real treat.' – Better Reading (on Sleepless in Stringybark Bay)

Together We Fall Apart

Sophie Matthiesson

Read by Eva Seymour

A beautifully crafted and deeply affecting portrait of a dysfunctional family from a compelling new voice in Australian fiction.

For the past seven years, Clare has been living in London. She works for a judge on child protection cases. Her partner, Miriam, is devoted to raising their young son, Rupert – their days are dominated by nap times, laundry and hiding from each other.

When Clare returns to Melbourne to visit her ailing father, another family crisis looms – her brother Max's long-term drug addiction. She turns her efforts towards helping Max into rehab, but is this at the expense of her family back in London?

Moving, heartbreaking and devastatingly insightful, Together We Fall Apart is a story about running away and coming home.

Sophie Matthiesson is a lawyer and holds a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Melbourne, a Bachelor of Laws from Monash University and a Masters of Law from Cambridge University

Matthiesson's short story Dead Heifers won the 2021 Boroondara Literary Award

'Explores the intricate dynamics of power, desire, motherhood and belonging with nuance, complexity and empathy.' – Emily Bitto, author of The Strays and Wild Abandon

'A meditation on love and loss ... Through richly drawn characters with deeply relatable flaws, Matthiesson expertly navigates the universal tension between the families we are born into and those which we create, capturing the very essence of what it is to be human.' – Nadine J. Cohen, author of Everyone and Everything

The Window Seat

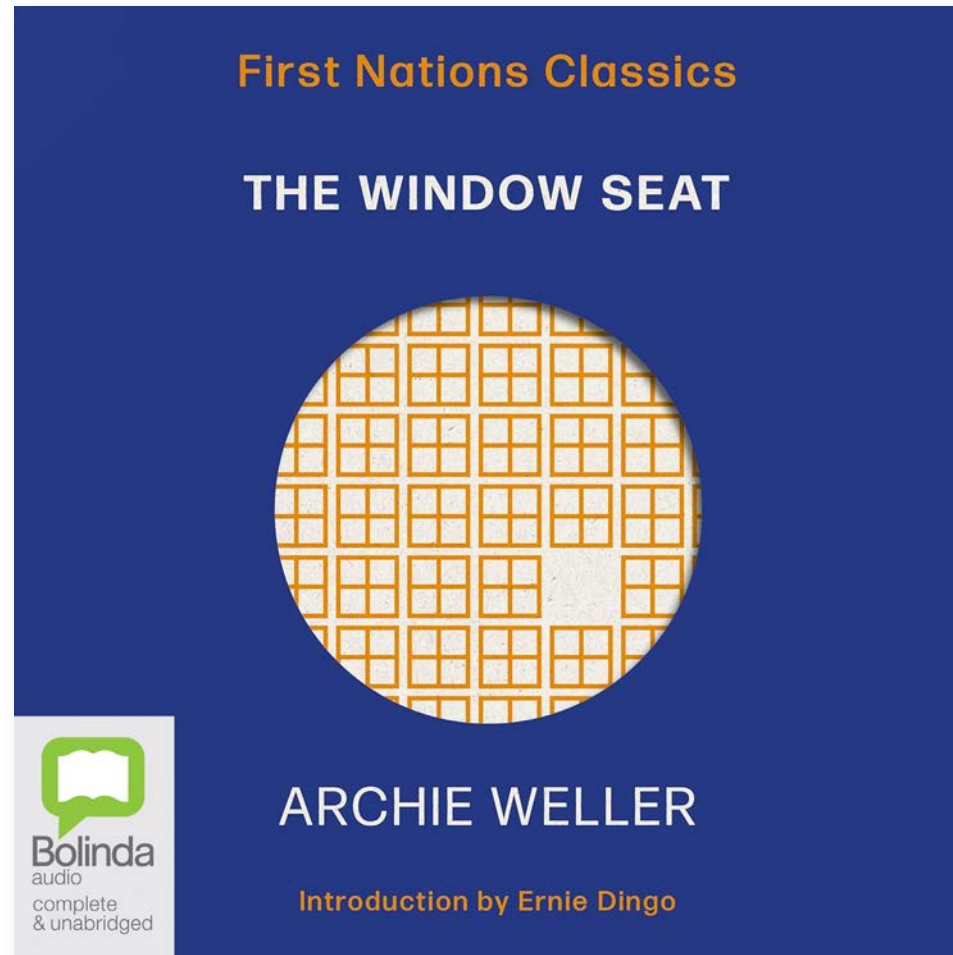

First Nations Classics

Archie Weller

Narrator to Come

Adult New Release

Literary Fiction | December 2024

Runner-up for the inaugural Vogel Award in 1980, Archie Weller is a master storyteller who, in these short stories, rethinks what it means to be Australian.

Since Archie Weller was runner-up for the first Vogel Award in 1980 for his novel The Day of the Dog, he has become an important voice in contemporary Indigenous writing. The Window Seat is a collection of his best fiction and a tribute to his contribution to Australian literature.

These stories are honest, brutal and moving. In 'The Window Seat', we witness an old woman's final journey home through the eyes of the disgruntled white traveller who sits beside her; in 'Stolen Car', a young Aboriginal man learns his first lesson in rough justice; and in 'Dead Dingo', we see another rallying against what his friends, life and fate offer him. Together these powerful stories present a rich and rewarding listening experience.

Archie Weller is the author The Day of the Dog, which was runner-up in the inaugural Vogel Award and was made into the film Blackfellas, and Land of the Golden Clouds, which won the Human Rights Award in 1998.

Weller's stories have been widely anthologised and collected in Going Home.

Weller has published a volume of poetry, The Unknown Soldier and Other Poems, and he has written a number of plays and a film script.

'Weller has a knack for capturing dialogue and fleshing out characters.' – Newcastle Herald

'Weller has a keen eye for arresting imagery and he draws emotive power from both natural and urban landscapes.' – The Age

A Periodic Tale

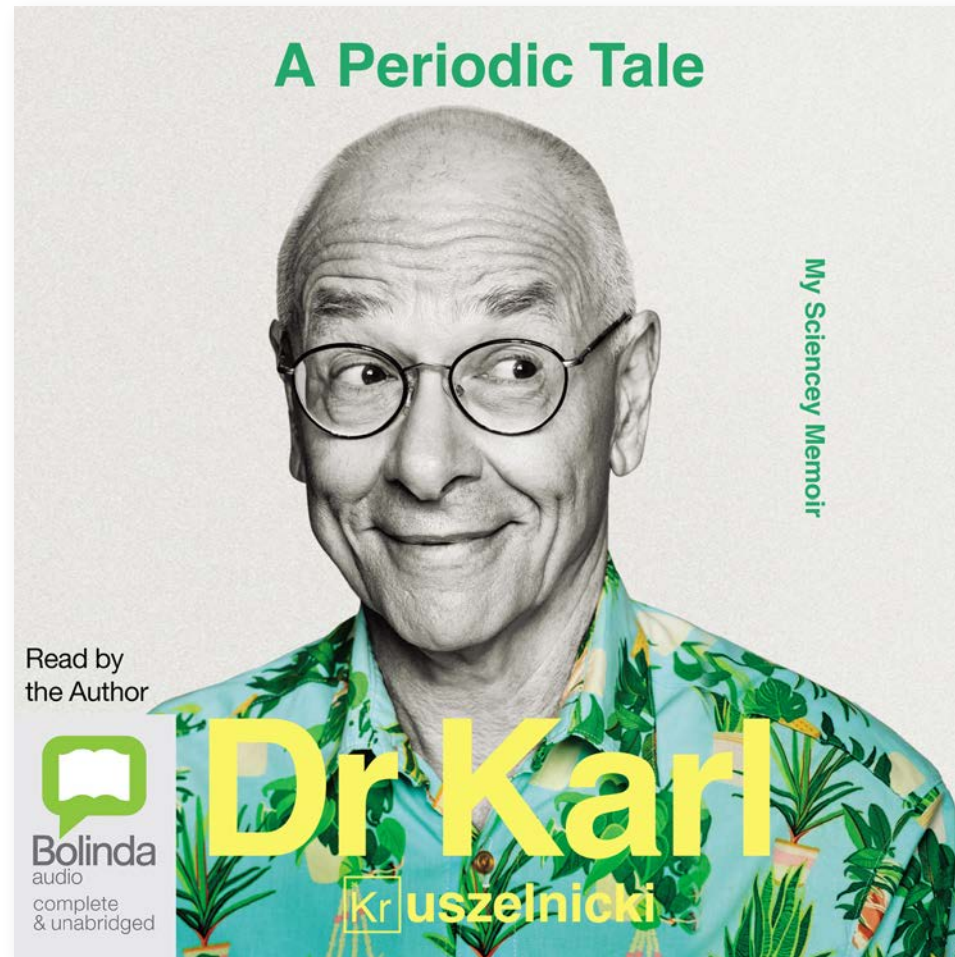

My Sciencey Memoir

Dr Karl Kruszelnicki

Read by the Author

Adult New Release

Autobiography | December 2024

How did a shy Polish immigrant kid – Karl Sven Woytek Sas Konkovitch Matthew Kruszelnicki – evolve into the fabulously eccentric Dr Karl? The life-long experiment of Australia's favourite science champion.

The only child of Holocaust survivors who fled to Australia in 1950, Karl has always forged his own destiny in an idiosyncratic way. Before he became one of the world's favourite scientific storytellers, he ambled through a convoluted cacophony of a career.

In the 1960s, he got his start as a physicist at the Port Kembla Steelworks and promptly joined the Steel Industries Auto Club, racing modified rally cars on Wollongong's deserted back roads. In the 1970s, he entered his self-described 'drug-crazed hippie years', making a living as a taxi driver. After he applied to be a NASA astronaut in the 1980s and 'failed', he ended up live broadcasting the first space shuttle launch on Triple J. Unexpectedly, that blasted off his media career, and from there it was a stratospheric rise from radio to TV, books, newspapers, speaking, podcasts and the internet.

In this long-awaited memoir, you will learn that it's okay to not take a linear path through life, and that by following our curiosities and our passions, we can bend the universe to our liking.

Perfect for fans of David Attenborough, Adam Spencer and Brian Cox

In March 2012 Dr Karl Kruszelnicki was named as a National Living Treasure by the National Trust of Australia (NSW), and in 2016 Dr Kruszelnicki was awarded an Honorary Doctorate from the University of the Sunshine Coast

In 2019 Dr Kruszelnicki was awarded the UNESCO Kalinga Prize for the Popularisation of Science, of which previous recipients include Margaret Mead, David Attenborough, Bertrand Russell and David Suzuki
