Our Beautiful Mess

Adele Parks

He was always a mistake. Now he's deadly.

Connie can't wait to have all her daughters back home for the holidays. It's not just the excitement of the girls being together under one roof: uni student Fran is bringing a new boyfriend to stay. The empty nest will once again be full of friends, family and young love.

Yet from the moment she sees Zac, Connie feels a deep unease. Zac reminds her of the worst mistake she has ever made: a man whose charm and good looks nearly destroyed her marriage. Then, Fran announces she's pregnant.

Reeling from Fran's news and terrified that her past might threaten her family's future, Connie desperately tries to navigate a path forward. But there's a much greater menace looming, because she's not the only one who has something to hide. Someone in the house has another devastating secret. A deception which will put everyone Connie loves in shocking danger, and one of them will pay the ultimate price.

A Woman's Place

Danielle Steel

In April 1912, 23-year-old Lady Victoria Oldbrooke travels with her father on the Titanic. When the ship strikes an iceberg and lifeboats are lowered, Lord Alfred gives his place to another and is separated from her. Before going down with the ship, he asks his friend Bert Banning, a mill owner from Manchester, to promise he'll marry his daughter and care for her.

Devastated by the loss of Lord Alfred, Victoria and Bert take comfort in friendship that deepens into love. Though 40 years her senior and an industrialist, Bert hesitates to propose, knowing marriage will ostracise Victoria from the aristocratic world she comes from. Cruelly shunned, she marries him and moves to Manchester.

Isolated yet fascinated by Bert's business, she learns all she can. When he meets a tragic end, Victoria steps into his shoes, taking on risks, hard decisions and responsibilities with sheer grit to make a difference in a man's world and defy centuries of limitations on women.

A stirring portrait of a strong woman who carves out her own place against all odds.

Revenge Prey

A Prey Novel #36
John Sandford

Leonard Summers – not his real name – is on the run. A former high-ranking Russian intelligence officer who defected to the US after providing critical information about Russian spies in US government service, Leonard, his wife Martha and son Bernard have spent the past year holed up in a CIA facility near Washington. After the CIA makes a deal with the US Marshal Service's Witness Protection Program (WPP), Leonard's family is transported to Minneapolis. The plan is to hide them in a wooded Minneapolis suburb that resembles their former home and dacha near Moscow.

The Summers are received at their destination by Lucas Davenport and fellow marshal Shelly White. Unbeknownst to them, the WPP group has been tracked by a Russian hit team. And while nobody in the WPP has ever been attacked ... Leonard might be the first victim.

As shots are fired and enemies dodged, Lucas must move quickly to uncover where the leak is coming from before the hit team can strike again.

The Last Letter

Rebecca Yarros

One final letter. His last wish. Go and be with her ...

Beckett,

If you're reading this, well, you know the last-letter drill. You made it. I didn't. Get off the guilt train, because I know if there was any chance you could have saved me, you would have.

I need one thing from you: get out of the army and get to Telluride. My little sister Ella's raising the twins alone. She's too independent and won't accept help easily, but she has lost our grandmother, our parents and now me. It's too much for anyone to endure. It's not fair. And here's the kicker: there's something else you don't know that's tearing her family apart. She's going to need help.

So if I'm gone, that means I can't be there for Ella. I can't help them through this. But you can. So I'm begging you, as my best friend go take care of my sister, my family. Please don't make her go through it alone.

Lidie

The Further Travels and Adventures of Lidie Newton
Jane Smiley

Christmas, 1857. America's future is precarious, civil war looms. After her abolitionist husband is murdered in Kansas Territory, Lidie Newton returns in mourning to Quincy, Illinois. Haunted by memories of her failures, she takes an interest in her niece Annie – beautiful, self-assured and mischievous – who becomes an actress at the local theatre. When offered the chance to perform abroad, Annie decides to run away. Travel is dangerous for a young unmarried woman, so Lidie, armed with her pistol and wit, goes with her.

The two women embark on a perilous journey across the Atlantic toward an unknown future in England. In Liverpool, they vanish into new roles in the household of Annie's benefactor, Mr Mallory Cunningham. Annie takes a stage name and pursues a career, while Lidie becomes her ladies' maid. But will either be content with her new lot in life?

Exuberant and riveting, a sly commentary on truth, beauty and fulfilment, Lidie delivers a panoramic portrait of a volatile era and the headstrong women striving to live honestly in it.

The Sirens

Emilia Hart

2019: Lucy awakens from a dream to find her hands around her ex-lover's throat. Horrified, she flees to her older sister's house on the Australian coast, hoping she can help explain the strangely vivid nightmare that preceded the attack, but Jess is nowhere to be found.

1999: Jess is a lonely 16-year-old in a rural town in the middle of the continent. Diagnosed with a rare allergy to water, she has always felt different until her young, charming art teacher takes an interest in her drawings, seeing a power and maturity in them and in her that no one else has.

1800: Twin sisters Mary and Eliza have been torn from their loving father in Ireland and forced onto a convict ship bound for Australia. For their entire lives, they've feared the ocean, as their mother tragically drowned when they were just girls. Yet as the boat bears them further and further from all they know, they begin to notice changes in their bodies that they can't explain, and they feel the sea beginning to call to them ...

The Blanket Cats

Kiyoshi Shigematsu

A peculiar pet shop in Tokyo is known to offer customers a unique opportunity: to take home one of seven special cats, whose 'magic' is never promised, but always received. But there are rules. These cats must be returned after three days. They must eat only the food supplied by the owner, and they must travel to their new homes with a distinctive blanket.

In The Blanket Cats, we meet seven customers, each hoping that a temporary feline companion will help them escape a certain reality. Among them are a couple struggling with infertility, a middle-aged woman on the run from the police, and two families in very different circumstances, simply seeking joy.

But like all their kind, the 'blanket cats' are mysterious creatures with unknowable agendas, delighting in confounding expectations. And perhaps what their hosts are looking for isn't really what they need. Three days may not be enough to change a life. But it might just change how you see it.

The Wedding People

Alison Espach

It's a beautiful day in Newport, Rhode Island, when Phoebe Stone arrives at the grand Cornwall Inn wearing a green dress and gold heels, not a bag in sight, alone. She's immediately mistaken by everyone in the lobby for one of the wedding people, but she's actually the only guest at the Cornwall who isn't here for the big event.

Phoebe is here because she's dreamed of coming for years – she hoped to shuck oysters and take sunset sails with her husband, only now she's here without him, at rock bottom and determined to have one last decadent splurge on herself. Meanwhile, the bride has accounted for every detail and every possible disaster the weekend might yield except for, well, Phoebe and Phoebe's plan – which makes it that much more surprising when the two women can't stop confiding in each other.

Nobody's Girl
A Memoir of Surviving Abuse and Fighting for Justice
Virginia Roberts Giuffre
Daughter. Prisoner. Survivor. Warrior. Nobody's Girl. This is Virginia Roberts Giuffre's last word.

In 2011, Virginia Roberts Giuffre hit the headlines as Jeffrey Epstein and Ghislaine Maxwell's most outspoken victim – the woman whose decision to speak out helped send both serial abusers to prison and whose photograph with Prince Andrew catalysed his fall from grace. She became known as a voice of courage and resilience for women everywhere. This is her story, in her own words. It demonstrates with extraordinary power that victims are made, not born. And that once you come to truly understand the horrifying impact of abuse, you will never again question why a victim stays, or returns over and over again.

In April 2025, Giuffre took her own life. She left behind a memoir written in the years preceding her death and stated unequivocally that she wanted it published. This is the powerful story of an ordinary girl who would grow up to confront adversity and trauma of the darkest form, yet found the strength to move forwards, reclaim her voice and shine a light on evil.

Seasons of Sisterhood #1

Guadalupe García McCall

From Pura Belpré Award-winning author Guadalupe García McCall comes the first in the Seasons of Sisterhood trilogy: a reimagining of Sophocles' Antigone set in the world of her bestselling Summer of the Mariposas.

As 15-year-old twins Delia and Velia plan the launch of their Magic-Twin Tour with their father's Tejano band, a sudden supernatural attack on their father derails the family. Papá is delirious with a susto, a fright so awful that it allows a mysterious supernatural being to begin slowly sucking the life out of him.

As the twins hunt down his attacker, a wider world of borderland monsters opens up to them. Each twin has her own decision to make, with her own guide from the Aztec pantheon – Quetzalcoatl guiding Velia, and Xolotl advising Delia. Soon the girls must choose: should they follow a divine mandate to become monster hunters for the goddess of death?

Can the sisters obey the will of the gods while saving their father's life? Anything can happen within the magical realm of the borderlands.
