Private Tokyo

Private #21
James Patterson & Adam Hamdy

A covert operative is murdered on the streets of Tokyo, hunted down by a masked assassin and silenced before he can expose what he's stolen.

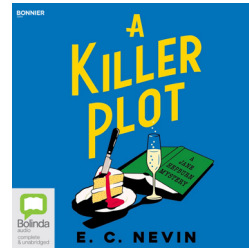

With his final breath, he delivers a message that crosses continents: Get Jack Morgan.

Private detective Morgan arrives in Tokyo to find a city on edge.

As the investigation unleashes a chain of deadly events, it's clear he's stepped into something far bigger – and far more dangerous – than a single killing.

Could he be the next target?

Lucien

J.R. Thornton

His greatest gift was the art of deceit ...

When Christopher 'Atlas' Novotny arrives at Harvard, he is completely unprepared for the privileged world that awaits him. There he meets his roommate, Lucien Orsini-Conti, who is bold, confident and sophisticated – everything Atlas wishes he could be.

In awe of Lucien, Atlas is soon swept into a glittering new world of lavish parties and elite social clubs. But when he struggles to afford his new lifestyle, Lucien, sensing a willing disciple, offers a daring solution.

As their underhand methods draw them into a dangerous game of deceit, Lucien's behaviour grows more erratic. Is Lucien all that he seems, or does his charismatic facade conceal something much more sinister?

IT COULD HAVE BEEN HER

It was the night she almost died.

Jane Trevally, newly divorced and feeling a little lost, agrees to accompany a man she doesn't know to his house in the darkest corner of Hampstead Heath. She's offered a drink, goes in, and then - a scream and the sound of something falling upstairs - Jane senses she's in a bad place. She runs.

Twenty-five years later, Jane finds herself outside the same house, this time to return a small white dog who's been found near her home in the country; a dog whose owner has just been reported missing.

A fleeting glimpse of a haunted looking woman through the window sends Jane on a mission to uncover the house's secrets - secrets more terrifying than she could have ever imagined, especially when she realises it could have been her ...

Cool Machine

Ray Carney #3
Colson Whitehead

1981. New York City is emerging from financial ruin and decline, energised by real estate development and a Wall Street unchained by Reagan-era capitalism. In Harlem, successful business owner Ray Carney gambles on one last heist and finds himself entangled with a legendary criminal mastermind.

1983. To some, Carney's partner in crime Pepper is a sociopath. To others, a top thief with questionable people skills. When he takes on a bodyguard gig, he's plunged into the alien territory of the East Village art and club scene where Pepper finds himself speaking the language of violence.

1986. Carney has always been haunted by his inability to save his cousin Freddie. Now, he has a chance to rescue Freddie's son. But coming out of retirement and teaming up with Pepper again will mean risking the safety he's spent decades building, with only one shot to get it right.

Weathering Storms

Alice Taylor

As we go through life we weather many storms.

We lose family members, close friends and animals we love, and they take with them the warmth and shared memories of many years. Alice discovered recently that the loss of a much-loved tree, planted before she was born, caused an emotional upheaval she had not anticipated. With the loss of her favourite tree that had enriched her life for decades, she began to ask herself: are there ways to make later life rich and interesting? How do you make growing older a good time in life?

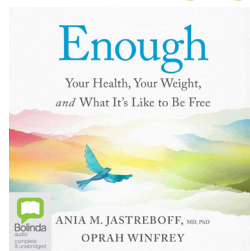

She has no answers, only a story to be shared.

1941, Giggleswick. Flora Whittaker runs The Cunning Vixen Inn, a small pub in the centre of the village. When her husband, Bill, re-enlists in the war, he leaves Flora to run the pub with the help of young May, the next-door neighbour's daughter.

Flora has several money-saving and illegal schemes running, and when May starts courting local policeman PC Whinray, he seems to show interest in Flora's illegal activities.

Trying to alleviate their money troubles, Flora decides to let her room to Matt Walker, who is here on behalf of the War Office to oversee the smooth transfer of Italian POWs into Settle. Flora finds out that Matt's mother was once the landlady of The Cunning Vixen and they become good friends, even though her mother and the rest of the town do not welcome Matt's presence.

Meanwhile, Bill hears from sources about Matt's stay and begins to get suspicious. Matt has a big secret, and he is about to share it with his host ...

THE LAST ENCORE

ONE FINAL
JOURNEY...

A LOVE THAT DEFIES TIME

'I started this, but truly, I have no idea how to end it without breaking my heart.'

When Pixie Tate is sent to solve a mystery at the old Aphrodite Theatre in Cornwall, she expects to find another restless spirit waiting behind the velvet curtain.

But when she discovers the theatre is just a few miles down the coastline from where she met the love of her life, Cavill Pengower, she realises that it is no coincidence.

As she slips back 100 years, Pixie knows she must not only unveil what happened to the woman whose spirit haunts the stage today, but somehow sever this powerful connection with Cavill once and for all.

Yet, as she embarks on this final journey to settle the soul and save the theatre's production of Macbeth, she fears that this time, it might just break her forever ...

On Motherhood and Writing

Elif Shafak

After the birth of her first child in 2006, Turkish writer Elif Shafak suffered from postpartum depression that triggered a profound personal crisis. Infused with guilt, anxiety and bewilderment about whether she could ever be a good mother, Shafak stopped writing and lost her faith in words altogether.

In this elegantly written memoir, she retraces her journey from free-spirited, nomadic artist to dedicated but emotionally wrought mother. Identifying a constantly bickering harem of women who live inside of her – the cynical intellectual, the goal-oriented go-getter, the practical-rational, the spiritual, the maternal and the lustful – she craves harmony, or at least a unifying identity. As she intersperses her own experience with the lives of prominent authors such as Sylvia Plath, Virginia Woolf, Alice Walker, Ayn Rand and Zelda Fitzgerald, Shafak looks for a solution to the inherent conflict between artistic creation and responsible parenting.

With searing emotional honesty, Shafak has rendered an important work about literature, motherhood and spiritual wellbeing.
